FORECAST G.O.P. GAINS DESPITE NEW DEAL SLUSH

Republican Senators Tell Hopes Here.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

A declaration that surprises may be in store for the Democrats in the November elections, particularly in some of the western states, was made yesterday by Senator Daniel O. Hastings of Delaware at the end of a conference at the Palmer house. Republican candidates for the United States senate in nine states were present at the meeting. The reports they presented in general were that despite the distribution of "Christmas tree" corn and hog checks now under way by the federal government the political tide is turning towards the Republicans.

Each state, candidates declared, appears to have its own individual problems as to issues most prominent in the public mind. Finances were discussed, and towards the end of the session Senator Hastings, as head of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, said that some campaign funds would soon be on the way into the battle ground states.

G. O. P. Hope in Minnesota.

The Minnesota situation was presented by N. J. Holmberg, Republican nominee for senator, who gave details that led the campaign managers to declare the Republicans apparently have an excellent chance in that state. Senator Henrik Shipstead, Farm-Labor, and Congressman Einar Hoidale, Democratic nominee against Shipstead, were described as in a battle of such sorts that Holmberg has a good chance to walk down the middle into the senate. Both Shipstead and Hoidale were supplicants for the favor of President Roosevelt on the President's transcontinental trip from Portland, Ore., to Washington.

Michigan was portrayed on the verge of an upset for the Democrats, who are split factionally as the outgrowth of the primary battle. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg declared the prospects are, that the Republicans will elect the next state administration and regain at least four seats in congress. The senator said he had a hard battle himself, but was confident of winning.

Dwell on "Golden Flood."

In Michigan the disbursement of federal checks to farmers is reported smaller than in many other states. The total payments on corn, wheat, hogs, and sugar beets are figured at about 6 million dollars, and the farmers are contrasting this with 40 million dollars of cotton money dished out to farmers in Texas.

All the conferees laid stress on the golden flood of farm disbursements now starting to pour in as election day approaches. Senator Hastings dwelt on this form of election slush funds in summarizing results of the meeting.

"The purpose of this gathering," he said, "is to discuss the problems of candidates in the various western states.

"I am greatly encouraged by the spirit evidenced at the meeting and the reports of the respective candidates as to Republican chances of victory in November.

New Deal Slush Funds.

"All appreciate the difficulty Republican candidates generally are confronted with and the large sums of money being used, at least indirectly, by the New Deal for campaign purposes. While they appreciate this difficulty, they nevertheless are determined that this situation shall not defeat them.

"Personally, I am satisfied that we will wage a victorious fight all along the line, and that this indirect bribery of the voters will be overcome. I cannot believe the American people are willing to be sold that way.

"I am just as fully convinced that Democratic Chairman James A. Farley on the day following the election will be bitterly disappointed in his repeated statement that there will be an increase in the senate by at least six to nine Democrats."

Optimistic in Missouri.

In Indiana the Republican organization has never worked more energetically, Senator Arthur R. Robinson reported. In his analysis he told the conference that he is confident of reëlection and that the Republicans will regain several seats in the house of representatives.

Conditions in Missouri were described as "in excellent shape" by Senator Roscoe C. Patterson, who is up for reëlection. Missouri Democrats were reported as still split asunder by the results of the August primaries. "Bossism" is the cry [illegible] have been screaming all over. They have been proclaiming that the NOSE LEADS HIM TO SOUP FEAST; ALSO TO JAIL!

Frank Farkowski, 47 years old, 3245 Fox street, has an irresistible craving for oxtail soup and boasts that he can smell it a block away. But he didn't realize until yesterday that other people, including some of the Deering street police, also can detect the odor of the delectable broth.

Passing in front of 3248 South Racine avenue yesterday noon, Farkowski's nostrils detected the aroma of his favorite soup. He hurried into the building and his nose led him to the apartment of Mrs. Pauline Gensiorki. He entered and found a pot of the soup on the stove. While the amazed Mrs. Gensiorki and five little soup-hungry Gensiorkis watched, Farkowski seized the pot and a ladle and dashed away to an alley near 3500 South Racine avenue, where he devoured it. In the meantime Mrs. Gensiorki notified the Deering street police and Policeman James J. Lynch and his squad went on a smelling cruise. They quickly found the alley and took Farkowski into custody.

Farkowski was brought to the show-up at the detective bureau yesterday afternoon, but no other victims of oxtail soup larceny appeared and he was taken back to the Deering station, where Mrs. Gensiorki signed a complaint against him.

A GRAVE OFFENSE DRAWS UNSEEMLY QUIPS FROM COPS

"Must have been in the dead of night," remarked Policeman Karsneck.

"I suppose if we do find the thief somebody will get him freed on a writ of habeas corpse," added Sergt. Melsheimer.

Several Slain in Cuban Political Riot; Many Hurt

CAMAGUEY, Cuba, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Several persons were killed and a number were wounded today when a demonstration of the Authenticos party culminated in a riot, it was reported from the town of Nuevitas. A group of radical students who staged a demonstration in a Camaguey cemetery today were dispersed by police.

4 Are Slain as 5 Gunmen Raid Tavern

St. Jacob, Ill., Sept. 30.—(AP)—An abortive tavern robbery that ended in a spectacular gun fight between the tavern operator, Elmer Jackson, and five bandits early today took the lives of four persons and resulted in the critical wounding of another. Jackson suffered minor injuries.

As the robbers entered the tavern one of them shouted: "This is a stick-up. You're not going to get away this time." Jackson, officers said, obtained a shotgun and fired into the gang. In a few seconds shots were ripping through the building as the bandits backed out firing.

Witnesses said Lee Holden, an employé, was shot to death as he begged for his life on his knees. Floyd Hartman, 29, East St. Louis, a patron, was cut down by the bandit fire and died almost instantly.

Two Bandits Are Shot.

As Jackson, hiding behind a door, continued firing, one of the bandits fell and was dragged from the building by his retreating comrades. Another member of the band was wounded.

Several hours after the shooting officers found the body of a man identified as Webb Perkins near a highway several miles from the tavern. A critically wounded man was found nearby and taken to a hospital in East St. Louis, where he died. Madison county officers said both were members of the bandit gang.

Harold Shannon, a tavern patron, was critically wounded and taken to a hospital at Highland, Ill.

Perkins Gang Suspected.

Officers said they believed the unidentified dead man to be Eugene Goodman, 28, self-styled "Dillinger of the Ozarks." They credited the "Bish Perkins gang," an outlaw band that has ranged through southern Illinois and Missouri, with the raid.

Madison county authorities expressed the belief that two of the three bandits who escaped were William Olin "Bish" Perkins, alleged leader of the raiders, and Paul Mills. Perkins and Mills were freed from the prison ward of a St. Louis county, Missouri, hospital last Aug. 14 in a night raid on the institution. At the time of the delivery officers said they believed Goodman responsible.

WOMAN TUSSLES WITH HAMMER BURGLAR; HURT

Miss Irma Kroeschell, a head saleswoman at Marshall Field & Co., was struck on the head and seriously injured last night by a prowler whom she surprised in her apartment at 540 Arlington place. When Miss Kroeschell entered her apartment a light attracted her to the kitchen. There she found the burglar. She screamed, then tussled with him.

The prowler struck her with a hammer which be carried, knocking her unconscious, and fled through the back door. Neighbors, aroused by the noise, called the woman's brother, Attorney Roy Kroeschell, who lives a short distance away at 630 Wrightwood avenue. Kroeschell had her taken to Grant hospital, suffering from brain concussion.

Lieut. John Buckley of the Sheffield avenue police said he believed the burglar is a man who has been invading apartments in that district for two or three weeks.

WIDOW LEARNS HOW AVARICIOUS SPOOK MAY BE

It was an old story to the Racine avenue police, but a new one to Mrs. Theresa Freytag, 60 years old, 1632 North Winchester avenue. Mrs. Freytag's husband died four months ago and left her $3,000 insurance.

On Friday two dusky women appeared at her door and said spirits had directed them to her to tell her fortune. But first she must place something valuable—money or jewels—in their magic cloth. Mrs. Freytag drew $900, all that remained of the insurance money, from a bank, and placed it in the cloth, which was not to be opened until yesterday noon or her wish would not be granted.

Mrs. Freytag reported to the police that when she unwrapped it yesterday the cloth contained only some old paper.

Germans Made "Financial Prisoners" Under New Law

BERLIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—More stringent regulations of the economics ministry going into effect tomorrow reduces from 50 to 10 marks the amount of money which may be sent out of Germany. Travelers wishing to take more than ten marks out of the country must obtain special permits. The new decree, in effect, makes Germans and resident foreigners Germany's "financial prisoners." [A mark is quoted at $.4056 at the present rate of exchange.]

SPEEDY RESCUE WORK PREVENTS 2 SEA DISASTERS

65 Taken Off When Boat Hits Shore.

New York, Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Fast rescue work and good seamanship prevented two possible disasters at sea this afternoon and tonight—one by fire and the other by collision. Sixty-five passengers on the little steamer New Bedford were taken off safely in lifeboats tonight when the vessel struck a sunken obstruction in Buzzards' bay and was beached by her captain on Uncatena Island. The captain and the crew of twenty remained on the ship.

No one was injured. All the passengers were transferred to fishing craft, which arrived on the scene while the lifeboats were being lowered, and taken safely to Wood's Hole, three miles north of the spot where the steamer was beached.

Cutter to Assistance.

The coast guard cutter Sebago of the New York patrol, which was at sea off Newport, was ordered to steam at full speed to the assistance of the New Bedford. The cutter Argo of the Boston patrol was in Newport harbor. It, too, was ordered to proceed at full speed to the scene. And from New London three coast guard patrol boats were dispatched with similar orders.

The Argo, being closest at hand, was expected to arrive first. Word was flashed to the master of the New Bedford that the Argo was on its way.

But by this time the engine room of the New Bedford was half filled with water, and with his craft listing dangerously, Capt. Negus ordered the lifeboats lowered.

There was no disorder. The passengers were directed to their stations. The crew was orderly. One by one the boats were lowered, each with its quota of passengers.

Sends Second Message.

Capt. Negus ordered another message sent at 10:21 p. m. It said: "Cutter Argo left Newport at 9:50 to assist S. S. New Bedford. Passengers taking to lifeboats. Engine room filling rapidly."

The last of the New Bedford's lifeboats had not yet left the davits when fishing boats sent out from Wood's Hole arrived at the scene. The steamer's whistle had been kept blowing at intervals in the hope of attracting the attention of small craft in the vicinity. Hearing the whistle, several residents of the Island of Naushon, which is near Uncatena, put out in motor boats to give aid to those aboard the disabled ship.

As the fishing craft ranged alongside the steamer the passengers were transferred from the lifeboats to the fishing boats. The latter, when they had ascertained that all hands were safe, put back into Wood's Hole.

Second Call in Five Hours.

The call for assistance was the second received by coast guards here within five hours today. Shortly after 4 p. m. the Arnold Bernstein liner Königstein, bound from Antwerp to New York with about 135 passengers aboard, reported a fire in its hold and sent out a "stand by" call.

Two coast guard cutters were sent speeding to its assistance and preparations were being made to send others, when a message from the master of the Königstein announced the fire had been extinguished.

Master Radios for Aid.

A later wireless from the master of the New Bedford said:

"Argo left Newport at 9:50 p. m. Passengers taking to lifeboats. Water filling engine room rapidly."

The ship, which carries passengers between New Bedford and Martha's Vineyard, was built in 1928 at Quincy, Mass., and is of steel construction. It is 202 feet long and has a gross of 1,116 tons.

Wireless also told of a third vessel in difficulties. The Red D line freighter Falcon was drifting helplessly at sea about 650 miles off the Florida coast without a propeller. The Carabobo of the same line rushed to its aid. Capt. Johnson sent a radio message to the line here, however, that he was not in danger. There are eleven passengers on board.

DizzyDean and Cardinals Beat Cincinnati, 9-0

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis Mo., Sept. 30.—The New York Giants this afternoon lost the National league pennant by dropping their final to the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 5, in ten innings, before Dizzy Dean and the other inspired St. Louis Cardinals had time to clinch it with their 9 to 0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. But even so, the elegant Dizzy was not denied his hour of drama.

Dizzy Dean won his thirtieth game of the year before 35,274 wildly yelling spectators who have been slow to believe the significance of the Cardinals' stupendous September heroics. No National league pitcher has won 30 games in one season since Grover Alexander did it for the Phillies in 1917. And Alex's record wasn't as good as Dizzy's, for he lost 13, while Dean has lost only seven, four of which, oddly enough, he lost to Chicago's lazy Cubs.

Wins Three in Five Days.

Today's shutout was Dean's second of the series. He whipped the Reds 4 to 0 day before yesterday. It was his seventh shutout of the year and his third victory in five days.

The three runs which the Dodgers scored on the Giants in the tenth inning were hung up on the scoreboard just as Dizzy was getting the ninth under way. For an instant it appeared that some of the drama was dissappearing from Dizzy's tableau. The Cardinals had won the pennant even if the Reds were to take today's game with a ten run rally in that ninth.

But Diz, as we have said, wasn't to be robbed altogether. In that ninth the bases were loaded with none out on Pool's single, Schulmerich's double, and a walk to Comorosky. Then Dizzy was ready to have the spotlight again swing from the scoreboard to himself. Diz promptly fanned Clyde Manion and Ted Petoskey and made Sparky Adams end the National league season with a nice little foul to Delancey.

Cards Make Greatest Drive.

It was the Card's fifth pennant in nine years, but none ever was so surprising. The Cards made a great September drive to win in 1931, but it was nothing like this one, in which the Cardinals started on Sept. 6, when they were seven games back of the world champion Giants. The climb which enabled them to finish two games ahead of the Giants really started in August, for the Cards have won 24 out of their last 31 games.

But the real bone crushing was done in their last 15 games, of which they won 13. The Giants lost 13 of their last 23 games.

And so the Cards will play the Tigers at Detroit Wednesday in the opening game of the first all-western world series since the scandalous one between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds in 1919—the White Sox and the Reds who finished their seasons today deeply buried in the cellar. The Reds, by losing today while the Sox were splitting a double-header, nosed out the Chicagoans for the mathematical distinction of being the worst team in the major leagues.

And now, wandering back to today's final here, be it said that the Cards were more boisterous than heretofore

SEEKS LABOR, EMPLOYER PACT TO END STRIKES

Maps Parley on Pay, Work Conditions.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—The New Deal is to go on.

President Roosevelt, speaking tonight to the nation, announced this and at the same time declared his belief that such progress already has been made as to prepare the way for the next step in his recovery program.

That step is to be a truce, formulated to effect a temporary end to strikes, between large groups of employers and large groups of workers. The President announced he will seek to form the truce within a month.

Plans to Call Parley.

He plans, Mr. Roosevelt said, to call in leading representatives of both forces and seek their promises that they will endeavor to come to agreements on problems of wages, hours, and working conditions. Once the agreements were made, later adjustments would be negotiated peaceably, through private or governmental mediation.

"I shall not ask either employers or employés permanently to lay aside the weapons common to industrial war," he added. "But I shall ask both groups to give a fair trial to peaceful methods of adjusting their conflicts of opinion and interest, and to experiment for a reasonable time with measures suitable to civilize our industrial civilization."

It was obvious the President has in mind a moratorium on strikes, which in the last year have been violent and so frequent as to form a severe hindrance in the recovery movement.

Replies to Pleas.

The declaration that the New Deal is to go on was President Roosevelt's answer to the pleas of many leaders of business, industry, and finance that he abandon the radical measures of the New Deal and give definite assurance that there will be economic stability in the future.

The President ascribed these pleas as authored by a "privileged few," and in a militant air he declared:

"I am not for a return to that definition of liberty under which for many years a free people were being gradually regimented into the service of the privileged few. I prefer and I am sure you prefer that broader definition of liberty under which we are moving forward to greater freedom, to greater security for the average man than he has ever known before in the history of America."

Speaks from White House.

Mr. Roosevelt, seated before a small table in a large oval room on the ground floor of the White House, spoke into microphones which started his speech into a radio hookup so broad that any citizen in the land, within hearing of a radio set, might listen.

The President discussed many phases of his program for recovery, dealing with the new setup of the NRA, with the public works program, with the pressing problem raised by a steady epidemic of labor strikes, with the constitution.

He spoke sharply against his critics, declared himself unafraid of "reactionary lawyers" and "political editors." Inferentially he accused American bankers of failing in the patriotism shown by their British colleagues for Britain.

Silent on Monetary Plan.

But nowhere did the President discuss his monetary program, nowhere did he give any inkling as to when, if ever, he plans a stable gold standard, nor as to when, if ever, he plans to balance the budget. These reforms were urgently pleaded by business leaders, and were not denied, but ignored, in the President's address.

Discussing some of the developments in the reorganized NRA, Mr. Roosevelt also showed that he intends to make a study of wage systems. He expressed a query, in discussing the fixing of minimum wages on hourly or weekly basis, as to whether "we have reached into the heart of the problem, which is to provide such annual earnings for the lowest paid worker as will meet his minimum needs."

Declaring that both workers and the holders of billions of dollars in invested capital have greater security than before, the President added that time must be allowed for the complete regeneration of business, and that there is "no magic formula, no economic panacea, which could simply revive over night the heavy industries and the trades dependent upon them."

He asserted that the rebuilding of the political and economic system of the country under the New Deal has been along lines which "are in conplete accord with the underlying principles of orderly popular government which Americans have demanded since the white man first came to these shores."

In one breath of encouragement to conservative minded listeners the President said he was counting "on the driving power of individual initiative and the incentive of fair private profit, strengthened with the acceptance of those obligations to the public interest which rest upon us all."

Taking note that many of his critics have pointed to England as having achieved a resurging prosperity without resort to New Deal measures, the President pointed out by a series of questions that England has gone off the gold standard and has not returned to it, that England cut interest rates on its war bonds from 5 to 3½ per cent, and that England has advanced further along lines of social security than has the United States.

"And let it be recorded, my friends," said Mr. Roosevelt with heavy emphasis and ironical note, "that the British bankers helped their government."

Works All Day Long.

President Roosevelt spent all of today on the presidential houseboat, the Sequoia, working on the speech.

Inquiry at the White House failed to disclose what assistants the President took with him on the Sequoia today, but it is known that Prof. Raymond Moley, brain trust head without portfolio, arrived in Washington yesterday to advise the President on the speech, and it was assumed that Mr. Moley went along aboard the Sequoia. The Columbia professor, former assistant secretary of state, now editor of the weekly magazine Today, has been consulted by the President on every major speech he has made since taking office.

INSULL ON TRIAL TOMORROW WITH 16 ASSOCIATES

In the courtroom where Al Capone met his Waterloo on charges of federal income tax evasion after being for years immune to other prosecution, Samuel Insull and 16 co-defendants will go on trial tomorrow morning. They are charged with using the mails to defraud investors through the sale of Corporation Securities company stock. Judge James H. Wilkerson, who heard the Capone case, will preside over the Insull trial in the courtroom on the sixth floor of the United States courthouse.

This morning Judge Wilkerson will question the 100 members of a special venire on their availability for jury service. Selection of the jurors will begin tomorrow. Government attorneys were unwilling to venture a guess on how long it would take to complete the panel. The judge has the power to limit the defendants to the use of 10 peremptory challenges, but it is supposed that Insull investors will be disqualified for cause and the defense will not have to exercise its peremptory challenges on them.

The government intends to trace for the jury the entire intricate pattern of the once powerful Insull utilities empire. Federal accountants have examined transactions of all the Insull companies and will introduce these in evidence.

ROBBERS BIND 5 IN APARTMENT HOTEL; GET $150

Gaining entrance to his apartment by a ruse, two gunmen last night bound and gagged William Madel, manager of the Clarendon Club Apartment hotel, 844 Montrose avenue, his wife, their two children, and a woman employé, and robbed Madel of $150. Madel, his wife, Gertrude, their children, William, 12 years old, and Betty, 14 years old, were at dinner when the gunmen entered. They gagged their victims with adhesive tape and trussed them to chairs. At this point Miss Irene Hanson, the employé, entered and was subjected to the same treatment. After the robbers fled Madel managed to free himself and notified Town Hall police.

YOUTH DIES AFTER CRASH.

English, Ind., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Everett McBridge, 16, of Valeen, died last night 30 minutes after an automobile in which he rode with his brother, Arthur, 20, collided with a truck driven by Robert Freyberger, Marengo.

TEXT OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH REPORTING ON HIS NEW DEAL PROGRAM

"Three months have passed since I talked with you shortly after the adjournment of the congress. Tonight I continue that report, though, because of the shortness of time, I must defer a number of subjects to a later date.

"Recently the most notable public questions that have concerned us all have had to do with industry and labor, and, with respect to these, certain developments have taken place which I consider of importance.

Bringing Order Now.

"I am happy to report that after years of uncertainty, culminating in the collapse of the spring of 1933, we are bringing order out of the old chaos with a greater certainty of the employment of labor at a reasonable wage and of more business at a fair profit. These governmental and industrial developments hold promise of new achievements for the nation.

"Men may differ as to the particular form of governmental activity with respect to industry and business, but nearly all are agreed that private enterprise in times such as these cannot be left without assistance and without reasonable safeguards lest it destroy not only itself but also our processes of civilization.

QUOTES ELIHU ROOT

"The underlying necessity for such activity is indeed as strong now as it was years ago when Elihu Root said the following very significant words:

"'Instead of the give and take of free individual contract, the tremendous power of organization has combined great aggregations of capital in enormous industrial establishments working through vast agencies of commerce and employing great masses of men in movements of production and transportation and trade, so great in the mass that each individual concerned in them is quite helpless by himself.

"'The relations between the employer and the employed, between the owners of aggregated capital and the units of organized labor, between the small producer, the small trader, the consumer, and the great transporting and manufacturing and distributing agencies, all present new questions for the solution of which the old reliance upon the free action of individual wills appear quite inadequate. And in many directions the intervention of that organized control which we call government seems necessary to produce the same result of justice and right conduct which obtained through the attrition of individuals before the new conditions arose.'

Banking Problem First.

"It was in this spirit thus described by Secretary Root that we approached our task of reviving private enterprise in March, 1933. Our first problem was, of course, the banking situation because, as you know, the banks had collapsed. Some banks could not be saved, but the great majority of them, either through their own resources or with government aid, have been restored to complete public confidence.

"This has given safety to millions of depositors in these banks. Closely following this great constructive effort we have, through various federal agencies, saved debtors and creditors alike in many other fields of enterprise, such as loans on farm mortgages and home mortgages, loans to the railroads and insurance companies, and, finally, help for home owners and industry itself.

"In all of these efforts the government has come to the assistance of business and with the full expectation that the money used to assist these enterprises will eventually be repaid. I believe it will be.

TELLS OF SECOND STEP

"The second step we have taken in the restoration of normal business enterprise has been to clean up thoroughly unwholesome conditions in the field of investment. In this we have had assistance from many bankers and business men, most of whom recognize the past evils in the banking system, in the sale of securities, in the deliberate encouragement of stock gambling, in the sale of unsound mortgages, and in many other ways in which the public lost billions of dollars.

"They saw that without changes in the policies and methods of investment there could be no recovery of public confidence in the security of savings. The country now enjoys the safety of bank savings under the new banking laws, the careful checking of new securities under the securities act and the curtailment of rank stock speculation through the securities exchange act.

Would Discourage Speculation.

"I sincerely hope that as a result people will be discouraged in unhappy efforts to get rich quick by speculating in securities. The average person almost always loses. Only a very small minority of the people of this country believe in gambling as a substitute for the old philosophy of Benjamin Franklin that the way to wealth is through work.

"In meeting the problems of industrial recovery the chief agency of the government has been the National Recovery administration. Under its guidance trades and industries covering over 90 per cent of all industrial employés have adopted codes of fair competition, which have been approved by the President.

"Under these codes, in the industries covered, child labor has been eliminated. The work day and the work week have been shortened. Minimum wages have been established and other wages adjusted toward a rising standard of living.

"The emergency purpose of the NRA was to put men to work, and since its creation more than four million persons have been reëmployed in great part through the coöperation of American business brought about under the codes.

Sees Benefits to All.

"Benefits of the industrial recovery program have come, not only to labor in the form of new jobs, in relief from overwork, and in relief from underpay, but also to the owners and managers of industry because, together with a great increase in the pay rolls, there has come a substantial rise in the total of industrial profits—a rise from a deficit figure in the first quarter of 1933 to a level of sustained profits within one year from the inauguration of NRA.

"Now, it should not be expected that even employed labor and capital would be completely satisfied with present conditions. Employed workers have not by any means all enjoyed a return to the earnings of prosperous times, although millions of hitherto underprivileged workers are today far better paid than ever before.

"Also, billions of dollars of invested capital have today a greater security of present and future earning power than before. This is because of the establishment of fair competitive standards and because of relief from unfair competition in wage cutting which depresses markets and destroys purchasing power.

"But it is an undeniable fact that the restoration of other billions of sound investments to a reasonable earning power could not be brought about in one year. There is no magic formula, no economic panacea, which could simply revive overnight the heavy industries and the trades dependent upon them.

POINTS TO GAINS

"Nevertheless, the gains of trade and industry, as a whole, have been substantial. In these gains and in the policies of the administration there are assurances that hearten all forward looking men and women with the confidence that we are definitly rebuilding our political and economic system on the lines laid down by the New Deal—lines which, as I have so often made clear, are in complete accord with the underlying principles of orderly popular government which Americans have demanded since the white man first came to these shores.

"We count, in the future as in the past, on the driving power of individual initiative and the incentive of fair private profit, strengthened with the acceptance of those obligations to the public interest which rest upon us all. We have the right to expect that this driving power will be given patriotically and wholeheartedly to our nation.

"We have passed through the formative period of code making in the National Recovery administration and have effected a reorganization of the NRA suited to the need of the next phase, which is, in turn, a period of preparation for legislation which will determine its permanent form.

Recognize Three Functions.

"In this recent reorganization we have recognized three distinct functions: First, the legislative or policy making function; second, the administrative function of code making and revision, and, third, the judicial function, which includes enforcement, consumer complaints and the settlement of disputes between employers and employés and between one employer and another.

"We are now prepared to move into this second phase on the basis of our experience in the first phase under the able and energetic leadership of Gen. Johnson.

"We shall watch carefully the working of this new machinery for the second phase of NRA, modifying it where it needs modification and finally making recommendations to the congress in order that the functions of NRA which have proved their worth may be made a part of the permanent machinery of government.

"Let me call your attention to the fact that the national industrial recovery act gave business men the opportunity they had sought for years to improve business conditions through what has been called self-government in industry.

REFERS TO PRICE FIXING

"If the codes which have been written have been too complicated, if they have gone too far in such matters as price fixing and limitation of production, let it be remembered that so far as possible, consistent with the immediate public interest of this last year and the vital necessity of improving labor conditions, the representatives of trade and industry were permitted to write their ideas into the codes.

"It is now time to review these actions as a whole to determine through deliberative means in the light of experience, from the standpoint of the good of the industries themselves, as well as the general public interest, whether the methods and policies adopted in the emergency have been best calculated to promote industrial recovery and a permanent improvement of business and labor conditions.

"There may be a serious question as to the wisdom of many of those devices to control production, or to prevent destructive price cutting which many business organizations have insisted were necessary, or whether their effect may have been to prevent that volume of production which would make possible lower prices and increased employment.

HE DISCUSSES WAGES

"Another question arises as to whether in fixing minimum wages on the basis of an hourly or weekly wage we have reached into the heart of the problem which is to provide such annual earnings for the lowest paid worker as will meet his minimum needs. We also question the wisdom of extending code requirements suited to the great industrial centers and to large employers, to the great number of small employers in the small communities.

"During the last twelve months our industrial recovery has been to some extent retarded by strikes, including a few of major importance. I would not minimize the inevitable losses to employers and employés and to the general public through such conflicts. But I would point out that the extent and severity of labor disputes during this period has been far less than in any previous, comparable period.

Takes Up Strikes.

"When the business men of the country were demanding the right to organize themselves adequately to promote their legitimate interests; when the farmers were demanding legislation which would give them opportunities and incentives to organize themselves for a common advance, it was natural that the workers should seek and obtain a statutory declaration of their constitutional right to organize themselves for collective bargaining as embodied in section 7 [A] of the national recovery act.

"Machinery set up by the federal government has provided some new methods of adjustment. Both employers and employés must share the blame of not using them as fully as they should. The employer who turns away from impartial agencies of peace, who denies freedom of organization to his employés, or fails to make every reasonable effort at a peaceful solution of their differences, is not fully supporting the recovery efforts of his government. The workers who turn away from these same impartial agencies and decline to use their good offices to gain their ends are likewise not fully coöperating with their government.

Urges United Action.

"It is time that we made a clean cut effort to bring about that united action of management and labor, which is one of the high purposes of the recovery act. We have passed through more than a year of education. Step by step we have created all the government agencies necessary to insure, as a general rule, industrial peace, with justice for all those willing to use these agencies whenever their voluntary bargaining fails to produce a necessary agreement.

"There should be at least a full and fair trial given to these means of ending industrial warfare; and in such an effort we should be able to secure for employers and employés and consumers the benefits that all derive from the continuous, peaceful operation of our essential enterprises.

"Accordingly, I propose to confer within the coming month with small groups of those truly representative of large employers of labor and of large groups of organized labor, in order to seek their coöperation in establishing what I may describe as a specific trial period of industrial peace.

Declares for Mediator.

"From those willing to join in establishing this hoped for period of peace I shall seek assurances of the making and maintenance of agreements, which can be mutually relied upon, under which wages, hours, and working conditions may be determined and any later adjustments shall be made either by agreement or, in case of disagreement, through the mediation or arbitration of state or federal agencies.

"I shall not ask either employers or employés permanently to lay aside the weapons common to industrial war. But I shall ask both groups to give a fair trial to peaceful methods of adjusting their conflicts of opinion and interest, and to experiment for a reasonable time with measures suitable to civilize our industrial civilization.

PUBLIC WORKS CITED

"Closely allied to the NRA is the program of public works provided for in the same act and designed to put more men back to work, both directly on the public works themselves, and indirectly in the industries supplying the materials for these public works. To those who say that our expenditures for public works and other means for recovery are a waste that we cannot afford, I answer that no country, however rich, can afford the waste of its human resources. Demoralization caused by vast unemployment is our greatest extravagance. Morally, it is the greatest menace to our social order.

"Some people try to tell me that we must make up our minds that for the future we shall permanently have millions of unemployed just as other countries have had them for over a decade. What may be necessary for those countries is not my responsibility to determine.

"But, as for this country, I stand or fall by my refusal to accept as a necessary condition of our future a permanent army of unemployed. On the contrary, we must make it a national principle that we will not tolerate a large army of unemployed and that we will arrange our national economy to end our present unemployment as soon as we can and then to take wise measures against its return. I do not want to think that it is the destiny of any American to remain permanently on relief rolls.

"Those, fortunately few in number, who are frightened by boldness and cowed by the necessity for making decisions, complain that all we have done is unnecessary and subject to great risks. Now that these people are coming out of their storm cellars they forget that there ever was a storm. They point to England. They would have you believe that England has made progress out of her depression by a do-nothing policy, by letting nature take her course. England has her peculiarities and we have ours, but I do not believe any intelligent observer can accuse England of undue orthodoxy in the present emergency.

"Did England let nature take her course? No. Did England hold to the gold standard when her reserves were threatened? No. Has England gone back to the gold standard today? No. Did England hesitate to call in ten billion dollars of her war bonds bearing 5 per cent interest, to issue new bonds therefor bearing only 3½ per cent interest, thereby saving the British treasury 150 million dollars a year in interest alone? No.

British Bankers Help.

"And let it be recorded that the British bankers helped. Is it not a fact that ever since the year 1909 Great Britain in many ways has advanced farther along lines of social security than the United States? Is it not a fact that relations between capital and labor on the basis of collective bargaining are much further advanced in Great Britain than in the United States?

"It is perhaps not strange that the conservative British press has told us with pardonable irony that much of our New Deal program is only an attempt to catch up with English reforms that go back ten years or more.

"Nearly all Americans are sensible and calm people. We do not get greatly excited nor is our peace of mind disturbed, whether we be business men or workers or farmers, by awesome pronouncements concerning the unconstitutionality of some of our measures of recovery and relief and reform. We are not frightened by reactionary lawyers or political editors. All of these cries have been heard before.

"More than twenty years ago, when Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson were attempting to correct abuses in our national life, the great Chief Justice White said:

"'There is great danger, it seems to me, to arise from the constant habit which prevails, where anything is opposed or objected to, of referring without rime or reason to the constitution as a means of preventing its accomplishment, thus creating the general impression that the constitution is but a barrier to progress instead of being the broad highway through which alone true progress may be enjoyed.'

"In our efforts for recovery we have avoided on the one hand the theory that business should and must be taken over into an all-embracing government. We have avoided on the other hand the equally untenable theory that it is an interference with liberty to offer reasonable help when private enterprise is in need of help.

Fits American Practice.

"The course we have followed fits the American practice of government—a practice of taking action step by step, of regulating only to meet concrete needs—a practice of courageous recognition of change. I believe with Abraham Lincoln, that 'the legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people whatever they need to have done but cannot do at all or cannot do so well for themselves in their separate and individual capacities.'

"I am not for a return to that definition of liberty under which for many years a free people were being gradually regimented into the service of the privileged few. I prefer and I am sure you prefer that broader definition of liberty under which we are moving forward to greater freedom, to greater security for the average man than he has ever known before in the history of America."

Purse Grabbed in Theater; Policeman Catches Boy

Wilbert Merle, 11 years old, 1181 South Euclid avenue, Oak Park, was captured last night after he had thrown the Southern theater, 828 South Oak Park avenue, into an uproar by snatching the purse of a woman patron. Policeman Edward Plotter, who was in the audience, heard a scream from Mrs. J. D. Rosenbach, 920 Ontario street, Oak Park, and caught the boy at an exit.

FIND FIVE MORE RANSOM BILLS IN LINDBERGH CASE

New Jersey Is Striving to Complete Case.

New York, Sept. 30.—[Special.]—The arrest of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, former German machine gunner suspected of complicity in the kidnaping of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., has not stopped the golden flood of ransom money, it was disclosed today by authorities.

Five gold certificates, all bearing the serial numbers of the bills Col. Lindbergh gave Dr. John F. Condon to buy back his kidnaped baby more than two years ago, have turned up at the federal reserve bank here since Hauptmann was arrested and charged with extorting the money from the aviator.

The bills—three tens, a twenty, and a five—were turned in from the main office of the Corn Exchange bank, which receives currency from 73 branches throughout the city. The bank's bookkeeping system, however, has made it possible for investigators to trace one of the bills to the Times square branch and one to the east side branch of the Corn Exchange.

Check Source Today.

Where the remaining three bills were turned in and who had them originally is a puzzle which detectives and agents of the department of justice will seek to solve tomorrow. While the authorities are pressing their investigation into this latest phase of the mysterious crime, they scouted the theory that a confederate of Hauptmann's was unloading the ransom money while he languishes in the Bronx county jail.

An agent of the department of justice, asserting that all the bills were deposited soon after Hauptmann's arrest, said he was satisfied they were put in circulation while the stolid German carpenter was still at large. A similar view was expressed by a detective assigned to trace the bills who said:

"We would not be surprised if ransom bills continued to turn up for several months in spite of Hauptmann's arrest."

Missing Link Sought.

While District Attorney Samuel J. Foley of the Bronx made plans for an early trial of Hauptmann on the indictment charging him with extortion, New Jersey authorities sought doggedly for the missing link which would enable them to charge the suspect with the actual kidnaping and murder of the child.

However, a high official of New Jersey said that his state would not act in haste. He indicated that no move toward the suspect's extradition from New York would be made this week. Although seven John Doe indictments charging kidnaping and murder were returned by the Hunterdon county grand jury, there were indications that a new indictment against Hauptmann might be sought before his extradition.

The whole matter probably will be thrashed out tomorrow when Attorney General David T. Wilentz confers with Gov. A. Harry Moore and Prosecutor Anthony Hauck of Hunterdon county where Hauptmann probably would be tried for the kidnaping. New York officials have promised to place no obstacles in the way of Hauptmann's removal to New Jersey once the officials of that state decided they want him.

Hauptmann spent a restful night in jail and ate as heartily as the jail fare permits, according to Sherif John J. Healey. The prisoner's meals were served on paper dishes and as a result of his attempt to fashion a rude knife and key from the broken parts of a spoon last week.

2 WEEKS' BRIDE ADMITS EMBEZZLING $20,000 FROM TRUST COMPANY

New York, Sept. 30.—[Special.]—While an auditors' accounting was being made today at a branch of the Commercial Trust company in Jersey City, Mrs. Ethel Smith, 26, bride of two weeks, admitted to examiners, according to police, that she embezzled $20,000 while a bookkeeper during the last three years.

Discrepancies in accounts had been detected several days ago and auditors were called to examine the books. Mrs. Smith, who, with other employés, was asked to work because of the auditing, went about her bookkeeping while examiners continued their scrutiny of the accounts.

Mrs. Smith gave no indication of concern until she suddenly arose from her dask and told George M. Platt, vice president of the company and manager of the branch of the defalcations, police said. "I fully intended to pay it back," police quoted her as saying.

ARRAIGN NURSE TODAY IN KILLING OF DETECTIVE

Miss Bernadine Dunning, 26 years old, a nurse, will be arraigned in the Felony court this morning for killing her suitor, Detective Sergeant Louis Kolb, on Friday morning. Miss Dunning, who admits that she shot and killed Kolb with his own revolver, announced that her plea would be self-defense because he started to attack her.

Assistant State's Attorney John S. Boyle said that after Miss Dunning's arraignment he would ask for a continuance until after the inquest on Kolb's death has been closed next Friday. At 2 p. m. today the nurse will appear with her attorneys, Emmett F. Byrne and Harold L. Levy, before Chief Justice Denis E. Sullivan of the Criminal court for the return on her petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Attorneys Byrne and Levy said they would ask for her release on bond, or if this is denied, to have her removed from the Hyde Park police station to the county jail.

The shooting of Kolb occurred as he sat with Miss Dunning in a parked car at 74th street and Irving avenue. Miss Dunning said that she did not know that he was already married and that he had asked her to marry him.

Mushroom hunters who like them big were given a mark to aim at yesterday when Michael Bucko, 2939 Belmont avenue, exhibited in his home a "grandfather" among the edible fungi which weighed 45 pounds.

Mr. Bucko said he found the giant mushroom on a stump about four miles from Wauconda, in western Lake county, where for the last four years he has never failed to find one of great size each fall. Heretofore, however, they have averaged about 12 pounds. Bucko and his son, Chester, gathered 200 pounds of mushrooms on their hunt.

Another claimant for honors in the size hunt yesterday was Mrs. Clara Romps, 2138 Custer street, who found a 25 pounder in the woods near Woodstock. Mrs. Romps' husband, Frank, is a city fireman. Both Bucko and Mrs. Romps say they are experts at telling mushrooms from the deadly toadstools.

GUNMEN KIDNAP GIRL; ONE SEIZED AS AUTO CRASHES

A youthful gunman was fired upon and captured by police last night after he and a companion had kidnaped a young girl and her escort, stolen the escort's car, and crashed it into another machine.

The victims were Miss Pearl Cloud of 4341 Emerald avenue and Thomas Jones, 502 West 46th street. They were in Jones' car, parked near Garfield and Loomis boulevards, when the two bandits approached.

One of the pair menaced the boy and girl with a gun, while the other drove the car to 60th and Bishop streets, where Jones was forced out. The bandits then drove about with Miss Cloud until the car collided with another machine at 60th and Wood streets.

The collision brought Policemen Joseph Leonard, Irwin Stepek, and Robert Woodward of the Chicago Lawn station. Both bandits leaped from the car and fled. One escaped, but Policeman Leonard captured the other after chasing him two blocks and firing several shots.

He gave the name of Joseph Fiala, 20 years old, of 5230 South Lincoln street.

Building Paying No Taxes Slashes Rentals.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Real estate men in the business area are moaning pitifully but unavailingly these days as advertisements are spread in the newspapers seeking tenants for the Port Authority Commerce building, which occupies an entire block in lower Manhattan.

With many office and loft buildings in New York half vacant, this big, modern structure is rapidly filling up with new tenants. The monthly reports of the real estate department show many big firms moving to this building to take advantage of the lower rents possible.

The structure pays no taxes and was built with money from the sale of Port Authority bonds.

Set Up by Two States.

No clearer example of government in conflict with business, to the lasting detriment of the latter, could be presented, an investigation disclosed.

The Port Authority of New York was set up originally by the states of New York and New Jersey to carry out a program for improvement of the port. It consists of twelve commissioners, six from each state. The Port Authority has financed four interstate bridges and the Holland tunnel.

Several years ago it was decided than an inland freight terminal was needed in New York. The commissioners decided that they would make the terminal a self-sustaining piece of property by constructing a building over it and renting space to the general public. Sixteen million dollars for erection of the building were obtained by the sale of 4¼ per cent bonds of the Port Authority. The great structure was completed in 1932. Only the basement and first floor were occupied by the terminal. The floors above were available for tenants of every description.

Contains Modern Auditorium.

The building contains one of the largest single floor exhibition halls in New York. Each floor contains 165,000 square feet available for renting. There also is a modern auditorium.

An expensive advertising campaign was financed by the Port Authority and tenants readily were attracted to this new building which could offer lower rental rates because of its inexpensive method of financing and the fact that it was tax exempt.

Proper taxes upon the property would have averaged $400,000 a year but the Port Authority made an agreement with the city to pay $60,000 a year in return for the remittance of taxes. This latter sum was the amount of taxes paid on the buildings which were destroyed to make room for the new structure.

Asks Injunction Against City.

In December, 1933, the Bush Terminal company and other corporations, supported by several civic organizations, filed suit for an injunction to restrain the city from going through with this agreement. Former United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, representing the complainants, pointed out that the terminal, except for the basement and first floor, on which railroads hold leases for five years, was in competition with buildings whose owners already were in straits and compelled to pay full taxes. He pointed also to the fact that there was no guarantee beyond a period of five years that the first floor would remain a railroad freight terminal.

The laws of New York and New Jersey, under which the Port Authority was organized, gave it no license to engage in commercial business enterprises except in the way of tunnels, bridges, and terminals that were actually terminals and not loft buildings, he declared.

"The agreement with the city amounts virtually to exemption from taxation of a property in active competition with established business paying full taxes," he continued. "The $16,000,000 for erection of the new terminal was obtained by the sale of 4¼ per cent bonds of the Port Authority, which is a lot cheaper than any of its competitors had been able to build or borrow on their property. Moreover, it has been announced that this terminal is only the first of a series."

Points to Trend of Times.

Apparently confident of the outcome of the suit, Attorney Julius H. Cohen, representing the port authority, made a brief but revealing reply.

"The complainants fail to recognize the trend of the times," he remarked, scornfully, in arguments before the court. And went on to point out that the federal government itself was preparing to operate the Norris dam in the Tennessee valley.

Supreme Court Justice Alfred Frankenthaler dismissed the plea for an injunction. He ruled out testimony showing there was competition between the terminal and private enterprises on the ground that it was not material to the question as to the immunity of the building to taxation. He declared that the welfare of the public at large rendered the property immune to taxation. Under this ruling, he remarked, the $60,000 annual payment of the port authority to the city must be considered as a "gift" to the city. Legally, lawyers said, the port authority may discontinue this $60,000 a year at any time it sees fit.

Real estate records disclosed the success of the rental campaign of the port authority's building. In May, 1933, six tenants leased 115,000 square feet of space. In September, another 100,000 square feet were taken. In October a department store leased 50,000 square feet and two other leases accounted for 40,000 square feet. Last December, F. W. Woolworth & Co. leased the entire third floor, 165,000 square feet, and in the early months of 1934 a dozen tenants took leases. These included the New York Trust company, which rented 35,000 square feet last February.

The advertisments continue in the daily press. Local advertising rates show that these cost from $600 to $1,000 per insertion.

Thousands of Pilgrims Pray for End of War in Chaco

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Thousands of pilgrims representing some 15 nationalities prayed to the virgin of peace for the end of the Chaco war in the suburb Lomas de Zamora this afternoon in an impressive ceremony preparatory to the opening of the Eucharistic congress Oct. 10.

BRITAIN IS URGED TO OPEN INVESTIGATION INTO ARMS 'RACKET'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Increasing pressure is being brought to bear on the British government to open an investigation into the armaments "racket" in this country, following the sensational revelations of the senate committee in Washington. The latest demand is contained in The News Letter, a fortnightly organ of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's National Labor group. This newspaper requests that an inquiry be started to investigate the United States exposures as far as they concern the part played by British firms.

Whether Prime Minister MacDonald will take any action on the lines suggested remains to be seen when he returns to London this week from a vacation in Canada.

Meanwhile, August figures issued by the board of trade reveal that in the first eight months of this year the warlike stores exported from Great Britain totaled about $17,500,000, including arms, ammunition, torpedoes, war vessels, airplanes, submarine mines and other military, naval and ordance stores. Nearly every category of exports show a considerable increase over corresponding totals of last year.

SIFT GULF COAST REPORT OF ALIEN, RUM SMUGGLING

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Alabama and Mississippi Gulf coast law enforcement officers are coöperating with federal agents in an extensive search for probable landing places of smuggled aliens and liquor. This was revealed today by the report of two suspected smuggling crafts off the Mississippi sound.

Sherifs of the coast towns have been asked to watch for landings of Chinese from a motorboat, reported as having left the island of Trinidad about Sept. 15 with seventy Chinese, and a British Honduran motor lugger, thought to be carrying Chinese and liquor. Big cargoes of alcohol and other liquors have been landed in the Mississippi coast area.

YACHT SEQUOIA COSTS $21,854 IN THREE MONTHS

Report Lists Expense of President's Boat.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—The presidential yacht Sequoia, on which members of the Roosevelt family, cabinet officers, and chiefs of the brain trust take week-end cruises in Chesapeake bay and contiguous waters cost the taxpayers $21,854 for the first three months of her commission as a naval craft.

The authority for this statement is "naval expenditures, 1933," which ends with the month of June, or the beginning of the 1934 fiscal year. The itemized expenditures for the Sequoia show $8,000 for repairs, which, presumably, represented the cost of converting the vessel, a cabin cruiser formerly used by the lighthouse inspection service of the department of commerce, into a presidential yacht.

This would leave $13,854 for operation and maintenance costs for three months, or an average of $55,416 for a year. This is more than two-thirds of the President's salary, which is $75,000.

When the navy took over the Sequoia to take the place of the presidential yacht, Mayflower, sold by President Hoover, it also took over the coast guard patrol boat, Cuyahoga and fitted her up as a tender for the Sequoia. Whenever the President takes a cruise in nearby waters on the Sequoia, or goes fishing in Florida waters or yacht race watching in northern waters on Vincent Astor's yacht, Nourmahal, the Cuyahoga goes along under command of the President's naval aid.

Cost $2,900 One Month.

The Cuyahoga had been in commission only one month when "naval expenditures, 1933" was published, but she cost taxpayers $2,900 during that month. Of this amount, $2,000 was listed as repairs. Assuming that the average operation costs are somewhat increased by the long cruises taken by the President, the Cuyahoga will stand the taxpayers at least $12,000 a year.

When the navy took over these vessels for the President, it also took over a coast guard patrol for Henry L. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy and a distant cousin of the President, fitted her up with comfortable cabins and manned her for use as a private yacht. She was rechristened Skaneateles, in honor of Mr. Roosevelt's home town in New York. This private naval yacht was not in commission when the last volume of "expenditures" was published, but her cost to the public probably will run somewhere between that of the Cuyahoga and the Sequoia.

Newspaper men who accompany the President on Atlantic cruises are carried free aboard the Cuyahoga, except that they pay for their meals. When the President attended the America's cup races at Newport the White House correspondents were aboard the Cuyahoga, as well as the camera men covering the President.

It also is recalled that when the President took his $500,000 cruise to Hawaii the cruiser New Orleans went along as a Presidential escort and transport for representatives of the press associations.

When the President viewed the combined fleet in New York harbor the White House correspondents covered the event from a battle cruiser, while the other representatives of the press were carried on coast guard cutters. Such service always had a profound effect upon the newspaper men, particularly the White House correspondents, who are accorded the courtesies of the warships. They are unrestrained in voicing their appreciation.

The cruiser Minneapolis and six destroyers assisted a coast guard fleet of perhaps a hundred craft in patroling the course when the President attended the international races. It costs $1,617,000 a year to operate a 10,000 ton cruiser and $223,000 a year to operate a destroyer. Thus, the navy spent about $88,891 on 11 days at the America's cup races.

Naval authorities when asked for an explanation, replied that the America's cup series was a distinctly naval affair.

HALE'S OPPONENT CHARGES FRAUD; PLANS CONTEST

Waterville, Me., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Charging election practices "tantamount to fraud," F. Harold Dubord, apparently defeated Democratic candidate for United States senator in the Sept. 10 election, tonight announced his intention of contesting the reëlection of Senator Frederick Hale, Republican.

Returns compiled by the secretary of state indicated Hale's reëlection by a plurality of 1,701 votes. Dubord made known his intention to challenge the result in letters to Secretary of State Robinson C. Tobey and Gov. Louis J. Brann.

In his letter to the governor he charged irregularities in voting, illegal use of absentee ballots, and illegal registration of voters in various precincts.

50,000 Fans Protest Tax on Fights Fatal to Bull

NIMES, France, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Fifty thousand bullfight fans of southern France addressed a petition today to Premier Gaston Doumergue protesting a new tax on fights that end in the killing of the bull. The concensus was that the new tax, amounting to 30 per cent of receipts, would make the traditional sport in southern France impossible. The petitions declared Doumergue was infringing upon the rights of "Roman France." After dispatching the petition, many of the signers watched a bull killed at the historic Nimes arena.

FRENCH DEPUTY 'PINKS' LAWYER IN SWORD DUEL

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAINT-MALO, France, Sept. 30.—Blood was drawn today in a French political duel for the first time since the late Serge [Handsome Alex] Stavisky restored the ancient institution to its former place in French public life. In two previous duels no blood was shed.

The combatants were Guy la Chambre, undersecretary in the Daladier cabinet, and Jacques Renouvin, prominent Paris lawyer, who the other day called La Chambre an "assassin" and slapped his face.

The duel took place early this morning at Saint Servan race course near here, and rapiers were used instead of the more usual small caliber target pistols. A solemn contract had been drawn up by the two sets of seconds stipulating that the combat would go on until one of the combatants was wounded, but would then cease.

Sterilize the Blades.

The little party of duelists, seconds, referee, and doctors assembled on the race track and went through the time honored ritual of the duel, culminating in passing the blades of the rapiers through alcohol and flame to sterilize them, and then placing the adversaries point to point and giving the signal.

Within 25 seconds Renouvin had received a scratch from the enemy's sword point in the right biceps, and the combat halted according to contract.

The duelists stalked off the field without the customary reconciliation.

La Chambre is the third deputy to be involved in a duel since the Stavisky scandal, and the second cabinet minister. The former minister of communication, Jean Mistler, exchanged shots with a royalist insulter under the walls of Carcassonne last spring.

Blame on Police Gun Fire.

The three duels and several challenges all are due to accusations of being mixed up in the Stavisky scandal or being an assassin for having belonged to the Daladier cabinet, which is held responsible for the bloody February riots in which twenty-five anti-Stavisky rioters were killed by police gun fire, the latter being the cause of today's affray.

Today's affair lacked the ceremony of the previous encounters, La Chambre and Renouvin being dressed in street clothes and caps. La Chambre wore a blue shirt, and his whole attitude was matter of fact and perfunctory.

One of La Chambre's seconds was Gen. Barthelemy, president of the Saint-Malo Officers' Reserve association. That organization demanded Barthelemy's resignation because of his association in the duel.

DEATH OF THREE CALLED DOUBLE MURDER, SUICIDE

Stephenville, Tex., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Police said today the killing of three persons in the Johnsville community was "a plain case of double murder and suicide."

The wife and son of Jess Salter, highway maintenance operator, were found shot to death at their home last night and shortly afterward Salter was found dead at the home of a neighbor with a shotgun and pistol lying beside him.

At the house of Odell Wright, nearby, police found Salter's automobile with the motor still running, parked at the front gate. Salter's body lay in the yard of the Wright home and Mrs. Wright told them that Salter came there looking for her husband, threatening her with the shotgun.

Mrs. Wright related that when she told Salter she did not know where her husband was, he fired a bullet from a pistol through his forehead.

N.Y. ANTI-FASCISTS AND REDS RIOT IN BAND PROTEST

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Anti-Fascists and communists protesting the appearance of the national Fascist military band of Italy at the Academy of Music were prevented by police tonight from clashing with 200 Fascist sympathizers.

Although the 150 anti-Fascists and communists were outnumbered, 100 mounted and foot policemen were forced to disperse them when they attempted to punch Fascist marchers. Police were impeded by 10,000 spectators who jammed the sidewalks and street, blocking trafic.

One man was arrested for striking a patrolman with the stick of a banner he was carrying.

The Fascist band was filling the third of a four-concert engagement. The theater has been picketed since Friday when the band first appeared.

SOVIET COUNCIL ADDS 10,000,000 TO VOTERS' LIST

[Copyright: 1934: By the Associated Press.]

MOSCOW, Sept. 30.—Ninety million Russian voters, 10,000,000 more than there were three years ago, will participate in soviet general elections to be held starting Nov. 10 to elect delegates to the seventh all-union soviet congress.

The 10,000,000 new voters are mostly children and youths, sons and daughters of kulaks, who are doing useful work for the soviet union. The central executive committee issued regulations today giving them the right to vote.

The youngsters have been trained by communist and labor organizations. The bars have been let down also for many kulaks [individual farmers] and their families, those who have demonstrated by hard work their loyalty to the soviet union.

Lets in Many Kulaks.

Kulaks in exile for anti-soviet activity who have been working faithfully in their new homes are to be given back the ballot after five years' exile, or after three years if they are engaged in the gold or platinum industries.

Young kulaks who have become shock brigaders in Russian industries under the second five-year plan are to be given the ballot regardless of the length of their exile.

All dependent relatives of exiled kulaks have been disfranchised under stringent soviet constitutional restrictions, and today's order provided the vote will be restored to them automatically when the franchise bar is lifted against the head of the family.

The regulations provide that no election will be valid in which 50 per cent of the qualified electors fail to cast votes.

Divide Election Period.

The general elections are to be held between Nov. 10 and Jan. 10, with the congress opening Jan. 15. Nine hundred and eighty-six delegates are to be chosen for the all-union congress, which is the supreme authority under the soviet constitution.

Rural soviets will elect their members between Nov. 10 and Dec. 28. Those living in metropolitan centers will vote from Nov. 20 to Dec. 10. These local soviets elect delegates to the district soviets, which in turn elect representatives to provincial soviets.

Delegates to the provincial congresses are elected in the same manner, and provincial congresses elect delegates to the all-union congress. The designation of these all-union delegates will take place between Dec. 30 and Jan. 10.

BOMB DAMAGES WHITE RUSSIANS' OFFICE IN PARIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 30.—A momentary panic was caused tonight when a bomb was set off at the door of the White Russians' headquarters in a street fifty yards from the crowded Champs Elysees. Passersby rushed to places of safety while diners in the fashionable restaurants ran out onto the streets to see what had happened. It was discovered that the door of the White Russians' headquarters had been smashed down, and part of the staircase was wrecked.

A badly frightened White Russian in a fluttering nightshirt told the police that he had seen nothing and had heard no one enter the building.

Attached to the crude, amateur bomb were two notes in Russian signed by the Volunteers' Common Front, which is an organization of socialists, communists and extremists. The notes warned:

"We do not intend to spill blood this time. This is only a warning, but the next time we will wreck everything."

RULES TO AVOID FUEL WASTE AND FIRES GIVEN OUT

Now Is Time to Go Over Plant, Chambers Says.

With the fall and winter heating season in the offing suggestions for smoke abatement and fire prevention were issued yesterday by Frank A. Chambers, chief of the Chicago bureau of smoke inspection.

Chambers declared that, contrary to common belief, homes, apartments, and large heating plants are the worst offenders in "the annual attack upon the purity of Chicago's air." Industrial plants, he said, have for the most part learned that clean fires are the most economical fires.

"Every citizen can save money and benefit his community by paying attention to his heating plant, which is too often looked upon as a necessary evil," said Chambers. "A necessity, yes; an evil only through neglect, careless operation, and impractical fuel combinations."

Three Rules Laid Down.

Three general admonitions in the situation were set forth by Chambers, as follows:

1. See that chimneys and stacks are in good repair, that bottoms are provided with substantial, tight closing clean-out doors, that tops are in good condition to resist wind and weather. To give satisfactory performance stacks should not be sheltered by overhanging trees, roof projections, surrounding buildings, or other obstructions that might deflect air currents down the flue. Smoke pipes from too many heating devices may overload the capacity of a stack and make it entirely inffective. All cracks or unused openings should be closed tight. See that no loose brick, soot accumulation, or other thing obstructs flue passages.

2. Smoke pipes and boiler bearings should have well fitting dampers, convenient and positive in operation. All joints and connections should be tight and securely fastened. Always avoid turns as much as possible, run pipes straight from boilers to the chimney or stacks. In many cases it pays to have them insulated to protect against overheating.

Urges Care of Apparatus.

3. Pressure, or other automatic draft control devices should be checked, chains connected to draft doors, and otherwise put in condition to work properly, thus controling fires and saving fuel. Air valves on steam radiators should be provided that will let the air escape freely, thus permitting steam to enter without undue boiler pressure, saving fuel. Steam gauges, water columns, safety valves, and water supply pipes need attention to assure their proper function should an emergency arise. Replace broken, warped, and burned grates to prevent fuel waste by its falling through into the ashpit.

Chambers also cautioned against closing the smoke pipe damper tightly shut. He said that gas might accumulate and result in explosions.

INDIANS POWWOW WHERE THEY SOLD NEW YORK FOR $24

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Three hundred Indians, many attired in traditional costumes, held a powwow today in Inwood park, the site where legend says the Indians sold Manhatan island to the white man for $24. It was the seventeenth annual meeting of the Indian Confederation of America.

Thirty Indian tribes from the far west and east sent representatives to the meeting to be greeted by Princess Naomi, "mother" of the confederation.

WIN DANCE CROWN AT FAIR

Miss Alice North and Glen Bond of Milwaukee, chosen as best Carioca dancing team in contest held at A Century of Progress. Champions in two other types of modern ballroom dancing also were chosen.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS NOTES

Special ceremonies will mark the holding of the one thousandth performance of Wings of a Century, the transportation pageant which has been given several times daily since the opening of the 1933 Fair. The thousandth performance will be given within a few days, the weather to determine the exact time. Invitations will be sent to Mayor Kelly, civic, railroad, and automobile leaders.

Ernest Kasas, artist who painted the 34 foot mural, "The Gift of the Book to Mankind," in the General Exhibits building, is spending the remainder of the Exposition period putting on canvas the beauties of the Fair. Mr. Kasas is specializing on night scenes.

The latest styles in doughnuts, ranging from heavily frosted ones to those made from cracked wheat flour, will be featured this week at the Mayflower shop at 23d street as a part of national doughnut month.

The "Take an Orphan to the Fair" movement has thus far brought 85 Chicago orphans to the Fair, Exposition officials announced yesterday. Of the 85 children 62 have been boys. It is possible to give a child a day at the Fair, including admission to the grounds, several concessions, and a meal, for about $1.00 a child.

A whistling contest will be the next of a series of competitions at the Fair. Preliminaries will be held Wednesday and Thursday nights and the finals are set for Friday night in the Court of States. Whistlers may use fingers and thumbs, but will not be permitted to make use of mechanical devices.

The Lincoln Turners, a famed athletic team which is rated highly in amateur athletic union and amateur athletic federation circles, will give an exhibition on the stage of the Swift band shell today at 6:45 p. m. Fanny Horschke, one of the members, is the A. A. U. and A. A. F. woman's champion gymnast.

The work of the United States employment service will be demonstrated daily until Oct. 6 in the exhibit of the department of labor in the Federal building, beginning today.

The Sanish Village at the Fair was in full operation again yesterday. It was reopened Saturday, having closed Sept. 6.

R. M. Bell of Pittsburgh is convinced that Fair visitors get a square deal. Intending to check his two suitcases in the pay locker inside the 12th street entrance yesterday, Bell carefully deposited his coin and locked the locker, taking the key with him. He forgot, however, to place the suitcases inside and left them on the floor of the room. They were discovered by a fair employé and returned to him in the evening by the lost and found department.

Valuable Steins Entered in Drinkers' World's Fair

Beer steins valued at a quarter of a million dollars have been entered for display in the Wine, Liquor and Beer World's Fair which will be held at the Hotel Sherman Oct. 15-19. A feature of the fair will be a contest for the "oldest and most beautiful" beer stein in America. A national price stabilization conference, presided over by Joseph Triner, chairman of the code authority for the liquor industry, will be held in conjunction with the show.

MUSEUM MAKES PLACE FOR FAIR SCIENCE EXHIBITS

Installation of Some to Await Remodeling.

Preparation for the removal of nearly 1,000 World's Fair scientific and industrial exhibits to the Museum of Science and Industry in Jackson park, is now under way at the museum, O. T. Kreusser, director, said yesterday.

Expansion of the museum floor space and the creation of additional exhibit booths will be necessary before the new exhibits can be installed, Mr. Kreusser said. The actual removal of exhibits is expected to begin Nov. 1.

"The large number of gifts which have been offered the museum is spurring us to make every possible preparation to exhibit them properly," Mr. Kreusser said. "However, for a number of months we'll have to store much of the material, pending our expansion program."

Will Spend 2 Millions.

The expansion program contemplates the expenditure of $2,000,000 to complete the interior of the renovated Columbian exposition Fine Arts building which now houses the museum, which was founded as the result of donation by Julius Rosenwald. Plans for the expansion were completed early in the fall, and the late Leo Wormser, attorney for the trustees of the museum, had announced that actual construction would start before winter.

The death of Mr. Wormser in an automobile accident stopped the building plans, however, and it is doubtful that construction will be started before next spring.

Transfer Lengthy Job.

The transfer of the World's Fair exhibits to the museum is expected to require five or six months, Mr. Kreusser said. The work will be accomplished by the regular museum employés reinforced by present part-time workers who will be given full time jobs.

One of the most comprehensive and popular of the exhibits to be transferred is the "Story of Oil," now exhibited in the Hall of Science, Mr. Kreusser said. Chemical, geological, and medical exhibits are included in the present gifts. A major portion of the exhibits offered are industrial, depicting modern processing methods.

FIRE PREVENTION WARNINGS SENT TO FACTORIES

A bulletin stressing the need for precautions against fire in factories was issued yesterday by the Illinois Manufacturers' association to members in connection with Fire Prevention week which begins next Sunday.

"Fifty per cent of fires of known origin are preventable," states the circular. "Manufacturers can show their interest in preventing fire losses, and what is worse, the resultant unemployment, by having fire drills, prevention meetings among employés, clean-up campaigns, and fire prevention messages to employés in pay envelopes.

"Clean up accumulations of dirt and rubbish, especially in basements. Clean up packing and shipping rooms. Do not permit obstruction of entrances or fully stored."

FOUR KIDNAP GIRL, TOSS ESCORT OUT OF CAR AND FLEE

Sidney, N. Y., Sept. 30.—(AP)—John Hutchins of Middleburg tonight told state police that four men he had given a lift threw him from his automobile after a seventy-five mile ride across two counties and fled with his 17 year old girl companion.

Hutchins said the men were armed and were headed toward Binghamton. The police immediately warned Binghamton police to be on the lookout for them.

A warning also was broadcast over the state-wide police teletype system and was transmitted to Pennsylvania state police so they might watch the roads.

Hutchins made his report to the authorities after he had been found near Afton, Chenango county, lying by the roadside, his hands and feet securely bound. He said the men, all strangers to him, had menaced him with revolvers while they tied him up and then had tossed him out of the car. He was found by Mrs. Will Hartman, who freed him and took him to her home.

The girl was Gertrude Bender, also of Middleburg. Hutchins said he and the girl had attended a baseball game and had given the four men a lift.

Canada Confiscates Plane of U. S. Cigaret Smugglers

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 30.—(AP)—An airplane belonging to two brothers of Rochester, N. Y., who were arrested here, has been seized at an Ottawa airport, it was disclosed today by authorities investigating the smuggling of American cigarets into Canada. The brothers, Archie and Ross Noblett, were arrested here Friday as they sat in an automobile on a downtown street. Royal Canadian Mounted Police said they found 36,000 American cigarets, on which Canadian duties had not been paid, in the car.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

In the original text of the dispatch in yesterday's TRIBUNE on the department of the interior's subsistence homestead project at Arthurdale, W. Va., a West Virginian in a nearby town was quoted as saying, "I am glad of Arthurdale. It has taken some no-gooders out of our town." This comment was described as unfair. Owing to a typographical accident the brief remark was omitted from late editions, with the result that the charge of unfairness seemed to apply to H. S. Whetsell's comment on extravagance in construction of Arthurdale. The charge of unworthiness is unfair to the earnest homesteaders but the charge of governmental extravagance in building is justified.

IDEAL WEATHER DRAWS THRONGS TO WORLD'S FAIR

Ideal fall weather, following several gloomy days that kept fair attendance below the 100,000 mark, yesterday drew thousands to the World's Fair. The rush to the grounds started during the morning and officials were confident that some of the losses of the last week would be recouped. At midnight 134,599 sightseers had passed through the turnstiles.

Many special events are planned for this week, one of the major ones being Eastern Star day observance Thursday. The celebration will climax the grand chapter session held at Medinah temple, with delegates present from all sections of Illinois.

One of the highlights of the day will be the presentation of Miss Eastern Star and a hundred beauties, selected from throughout the state. Addresses will be made at the Court of States by Amy H. Berry of Chicago incoming grand matron, and Harry C. Boeke, state senator of Freeport, Ill., incoming grand patron. All members of the order will be in costume.

INCENDIARY FIRE DAMAGES HOME; OWNER SEIZED

Vartan Kachigian, 37 years old, 2153 North Mason avenue, owner of a frame residence at that address, where an incendiary fire caused damage estimated at $500 yesterday, will be questioned by Fire Attorney Thomas J. Sheehan today. He was held at the Cragin police station last night.

Kachigian, who is on the relief roll, told the police that his home was insured for $4,000 and the furnishings for $3,000. He denied setting fire to the building. He lives there was his wife and two children.

Fire Marshal John Touhy of the Sixth division reported that the fire had started in two places, in the basement and in the pantry off the kitchen. Rags soaked with oil were found in the kitchen and on the stairs leading to the attic.

3 WAY COLLISION ENDS RACE FROM POLICE; 5 INJURED

Fugitives and Pursuers Hit Same Auto.

A high speed pursuit of three youths in an automobile by a dectective bureau squad yesterday ended in a triple collision at Jackson boulevard and Campbell avenue in which three policemen were injured, two seriously, and two of the youths were hurt.

The injured policemen were Sergt. John Gapinski, 42 years old, 1032 North Mayfield avenue, squad leader Detective Frank Sheehan, 27 years old, 2017 North Lamon avenue, and Detective Charles Touzinski, 30 years old, 2921 West 24th street. All were taken to the Garfield Park hospital.

Driver Passenger Hurt.

Morrie Jacobs, 22 years old, 3223 Grenshaw street, driver of the pursued car, and Morris Kessler, 22 years old, whose address was given as 14th street and Blue Island avenue, a passenger in Jacobs' car, were injured and taken to the Bridewell hospital. Bernard Waldman, 20 years old, 1131 South Turner avenue, another passenger, was unhurt. He was held at the detective bureau for questioning. The young men told police they did not know police were pursuing them, and were only on a joy ride. The accident happened when Jacobs' car veered into a large sedan being driven west on Jackson boulevard by William T. Bishop, 28 years old, 537 North Clark street, which was swerved into the path of the oncoming squad car.

The car in which the youth's fled was owned by Clarence Newby, 1739 Mohawk street, who said he had loaned it to Jacobs. Newby was held for questioning after stolen Michigan license plates were found on the car.

Leap from Car Fatal.

Mrs. Mildred Johnson, 29 years old, died at her home, 5605 South Sacramento avenue, yesterday afternoon of a skull fracture suffered early yesterday when she jumped from a car driven by her husband on 55th street between St. Louis and Trumbull avenues.

The husband, Raymond, 34 years old, a clerk in a government supply depot at 1749 West Pershing road, told Chicago Lawn police the couple had been on a tour of drinking places and were returning home when the accident occurred. Thinking his wife was not seriously hurt, Johnson said he took her home, where her condition became serious after noon, and she died before a physician called to attend her could arrive.

Johnson denied having had trouble with his wife. He was held for the inquest this morning.

One Killed, Nine Hurt.

One man was killed and nine persons were injured in three accidents in a half mile stretch of Mannheim road within two hours early yesterday. John McCartney, 38 years old, of Villa Park, was killed when the car in which he was riding struck the abutment of an overhead bridge on Mannheim road near Roosevelt road in Westchester. Norman Morris, 38 years old, 210 South 10th avenue, Maywood, a passenger in the car, was taken to the Westlake hospital with a possible skull fracture. Andrew Nelson, 37 years old, 305 Grand avenue, Westmont, the driver, was held by Westchester police for the inquest.

One Crash Hurts Six.

A collision of two automobiles at Mannheim road and Harrison street injured six persons. They were John H. Deere, 35 years old, 200 North Berkeley avenue, Elmhurst; Mrs. Lilliam Deere, 34 years old, his wife; Walter Stanley, 28 years old, 646 Hawthorne avenue, Elmhurst; Mrs. Connie Stanley, 26 years old, his wife; Thomas Davis, 23 years old, 1528 South 32d avenue, Bellwood, and Stanley Bruknis, 19 years old, 113 South 25th avenue, Bellwood. Deere was the driver of one car, and Davis the other.

The third Mannheim road accident occurred two blocks north of Roosevelt road in Hillside when a car driven by L. J. Layman, 28 years old, 2255 North Kedvale avenue, skidded into a ditch. The injured were Layman, T. R. Studer, 37 years old, 4101 Kammerling avenue, and George Glass, 27 years old, 1851 North Karlov avenue.

Injuries Prove Fatal.

The death of Mrs. Johnson, McCartney and three others brought the 1934 Cook county trafic toll to 894. The other victims:

Niels Jensen, 35 years old, 7203 Champlain avenue, a dairy wagon driver. Died in Jackson Park hospital early yesterday of injuries incurred Saturday when he was struck by an automobile driven by James J. Grimes, 32 years old, 6324 Kimbark avenue, at West 71st street and Ingleside avenue

Mrs. Anna Nelson, 70 years old, a resident of the Norwegian Lutheran Bethesda Old Peoples home, 2833 North Nordica avenue, was killed when she was struck by an automobile while crossing Narraganset avenue at Diversey parkway. James Diattalo, 19 years old, of 2655 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, driver of the car, was held for the inquest.

An unidentified woman, about 65 years old, in the Belmont hospital early yesterday of injuries suffered earlier in the night when she was struck on North Central avenue at Belmont avenue by a car driven by Frank Spiegle, 3641 Palmer street.

SPANISH LEFTISTS FORM NEW PARTY; RAP MONARCHY

MADRID, Sept, 30.—(AP)—The Republican Union party, a political group opposed to the restoration of a monarchy and seeking to consolidate leftist elements, was formed here today. In a keynote address former Premier Diego Martinez Barrios warned that a trend to the right in the Spanish government threatens to bring on "disturbances comparable to the French revolution."

"The restoration of the monarchy would result in civil war," the former premier said. "The trend of the republic must be diverted to the left. On the other hand Socialist domination is unthinkable, because government by one class is impossible."

CHARGES WEAK; VIENNA MAY FREE CAPT. PODERJAY

VIENNA, Sept. 30.—(AP)—It appeared today that Capt. Ivan Poderjay, husband of the missing Agnes Tufverson of Detroit and New York, may go scot free.

Austrian official sources disclosed that, while the government is anxious to give up Poderjay to American authorities, the perjury charge on which the New York district attorney's office seeks extradition of the former Jugo-Slav army captain is not considered a crime in Austria unless a false oath is taken before a judge or duly constituted court.

Poderjay married Miss Tufverson, New York lawyer, last December just before she disappeared. He is under indictment for perjury in connection with the marriage license, in which he falsely swore he had not previous married.

INDIANA BISHOP ASKS RELIGIOUS SCHOOL COURSES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Addition of religious courses to the secular studies in the nation's schools was advocated by Bishop John F. Noll of Fort Wayne, Ind., addressing today the convention of the National Council of Catholic Women.

The bishop estimated the nation's annual policing bill at 15 billion dollars, saying religious education in the schools would be a better preventive against crime.

The motion pictures, he said, offer the best barometer of the nation's state of morals. Some hundred million people, he said, attend the movies once a week to applaud the portrayal of crime and lax morals. He pointed out that Catholics can do much to improve the moral caliber of the country, since they constitute one-third to one-half the population in most of the large eastern cities.

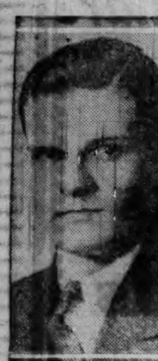
YOUTH TO DENY KILLING GIRL TO WED TEACHER

Bobby Edwards Reads Bible Latter Owns.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Denying himself to all save his counsel, Robert A. [Bobby] Edwards, youthful mine surveyor, thumbed through a Bible in his cell tonight, the eve of his trial for life.



R. A. EDWARDS.
[Acme.]

Tomorrow he will face a Luzerne county jury to deny he blackjacked to death Freda McKechnie, 26, a neighbor girl with whom he had been friendly so he could marry Margaret Crain, East Aurora, N. Y., music teacher.

It was Margaret's Bible Edwards read after the usual prison prayer meeting was called off.

Often an Amateur Actor.

Edwards did not leave his cell, and his only caller was Frank McGuigan, chief of the defense counsel. They talked over plans for the trial.

Edwards, proud of his reputation as an amateur Thespian in the mining colony of Edwardsville, is keenly interested in planning his own testimony, the high lights of the defense case.

His attorneys explain he will "tell everything" of his romance with Freda that is said to have begun when he heard her voice over the telephone while she ran a switchboard in a brokerage office and he worked there as a clerk.

He will tell how they met, went to church together and took part in social affairs of the congregation.

To Deny Killing Girl.

The young man will describe the July 30 night swimming party at Harvey's lake—the "date" they kept despite a pelting rain.

But Edwards will deny he beat the girl to death.

McGuigan said emphatically today Edwards will plead not guilty. The defense will ask acquittal.

Across the street at the courthouse Thomas M. Lewis, prosecuting attorney, went over the state's case again with his colleagues, Harold Flannery and John Dando.

The state will ask the death penalty.

Flannery represented the district attorney's office in the preliminary investigation and Dando was added to the staf because of his record as a defense attorney.

The commonwealth will insist Edwards, hoping to marry the music teacher he met at college several years ago, beat Freda as they swam, then, burying her clothing in a grove on the banks of the lake, returned to his home and retired.

The body was found the next day.

Husband Shoots Wife Through Door of Home

Mrs. Grace Scaruzzo, 41 years old, of 2718 Princeton avenue, was in a serious condition at the Michael Reese hospital last night with a bullet wound in her abdomen. She told Pekin police that she had been shot by her husband, Phillip. According to her story, Phillip left her two weeks ago after a quarrel. He returned last night and she refused to open the door for him. He then fired a shot through the door and the shot struck her. Phillip fled and is being sought by police.

FILIPINOS FIND IT'S HARD TO PEN A CONSTITUTION

No Clause Is Written After Two Months.

MANILA, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Filipinos are finding writing of the constitution of the commonwealth government, which is designed to bridge the gap before complete independence, a longer and more difficult task than they anticipated.

Two months after the convention of 202 delegates assembled July 30, not a single clause of the document has been written, although it was asserted then the task probably would be completed within a month.

Many Reports Awaited.

Senator Claro Recto, president of the convention, and Filemon Sotto, chairman of the central committee, predicted today the constitution would be completed in November, but others believe it may be December before the charter can be submitted to President Roosevelt for his approval.

Twenty-six committees have already reported, but fourteen still remain to submit their recommendations.

The convention as a whole is scheduled tomorrow to take up the constitution's preamble, which, in its present form, fails to express island gratitude at granting of independence by the United States. This in itself may mean further delay inasmuch as such an expression was favored originally by the preamble committee.

Various specific provisions for inclusion of the constitution will be taken up successively, with weeks of debate on the floor of the convention in prospect. More than 2,000 suggested provisions have been filed, an average of ten for each delegate.

All-Filipino Document.

The charter, in its final form, will be a strictly all-Filipino document, as the plan to invite Representative Hatton W. Summers of Texas to assist in its formation as adviser, was not carried out.

When the legislature provided for the constitutional convention it allotted $2.50 daily for the expenses of each delegate. Complaints that this sum has proved insufficient will result in each delegate receiving the lump sum of $300 tomorrow in addition to his $2.50 per diem.

Relief Workers to Make Comforts for State's Poor

The manufacture of comforts for distribution to relief clients throughout the state will be undertaken by the work division of the Illinois emergency relief commission, according to an announcement yesterday by Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the commission. The Federal Surplus Relief corporation has allotted 500,000 pounds of cotton to Illinois and this will be used to turn out 170,000 comforts. A comfort is planned eventually for every Illinois family on relief.

KASPER'S CYCLE RACE ANNOYING TO COUNTY BOARD

Commissioners Are Busy Curbing Promoter.

Thirteen county commissioners yesterday were considering ways and means of disciplining the fourteenth member of the county board, Frank J. Kasper, whose campaign fund raising activities have proved to be a source of embarrassment to his colleagues. Kasper is regarded as a problem by his fellow commissioners because two reprimands have thus far failed to dampen his enthusiasm.

FRANK J. KASPER.

The first reprimand came last July shortly after Kasper announced he was sponsoring a bicycle road race as a means of raising campaign funds for the November election. The road race is to be run from Elgin to Berwyn on Lake street and Harlem avenue on Oct. 21. Kasper plans to fire the starting gun in Elgin and race by auto to his home town, Berwyn, to take a prominent seat in the judges' stand.

Asked for Gift; Complains.

A short time later a prominent Chicagoan made a protest, saying he had been called upon to donate $500 in prizes for the race on threat of having his taxes raised. Kasper was summoned before Democratic party leaders and cautioned to curb his solicitors.

The second reprimand came in August after the commissioners learned Kasper's solicitors were seeking funds on the representation that the county commissioners were sponsoring the road race as a mark of their affection for Kasper. The resolution did not mention Kasper or the road race, although commissioners said it was directed at the program. It stated the county board was not sponsoring any campaign fund program and warned citizens to beware of such solicitation.

Now Complaints Flood In.

Last week new complaints came to the county board offices. Various citizens said they had been solicited to purchase tickets for "a county commissioners' road race" at $1 apiece. The complainants said they learned to their astonishment the tickets entitled them to view a bicycle race from public highways.

Several clergymen were among the complainants. The chancery office of the Catholic archdiocese was among those solicited.

The new complaints have set the 13 commissioners to considering some means of confining the solicitations for the road race to limits they consider proper.

POLICE HUNT ROBBER GANG.

Town Hall police were searching yesterday for five men in an automobile who robbed Vernon Jacobs, 832 Argyle street, of $385 and his automobile Saturday night on the way home from his butcher shop at 3561 Broadway after forcing his car to the curb at Pine Grove avenue and Grace street.

Grocery Boy, Please take back that other beer and bring me Schlitz! Mrs. J.

She's right—there is a difference in beers. Drink Schlitz and you will taste that pleasing difference. Schlitz has its own finer flavor, its own stimulating lift, its own brewing process with precise *Enzyme Control. You can count on Schlitz to taste perfect every time—whether you buy it on draught or in the famous brown bottles.

DRINK Schlitz The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous

*Enzymes are Nature's invisible transforming substances, present in most foods and all beers. If these enzymes are to work properly, every step of their activities must be controlled perfectly. That is the reason for Schlitz Enzyme Control. This expensive, secret process controls the action of the enzymes so accurately, so rigidly, that it guarantees perfect beer—Schlitz Beer—ripe, mellow, fully fermented, delicious.

POLICE HAVE BIG SURPRISE FOR THE YELLOW KID

He's Amused at First, but Read On!

It looks like a long hard winter for Joseph [The Yellow Kid] Weil, suave confidence man. It wasn't the matter of a $5,000 "betting coup" conspiracy which caused his arrest Saturday, that brought a drawn look to the debonair mustached Kid. That, said Mr. Weil, was just child's play.

"And besides," as he explained to Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan, "you haven't really got a thing on me. Conspiracy is an extremely difficult charge to prove."

Something Else Again.

But a warrant charging the Kid with operation of a $32,000 confidence game upon Miss Agnes Harter, 45 years old, 6544 Newgard avenue, wealthy owner of a Montana copper mine—that, Mr. Weil agreed, was a horse of a different hue. The warant, issued two years ago, bobbed up at the detective bureau yesterday to cause Mr. Weil considerable anxiety.

And just to clinch the case, Miss Harter viewed the Kid at the show-up. One look at his dapper green suit, snappy light grey hat, shell-rimmed eyeglasses, shaggy walrus mustache, whose yellow is now tinged with grey, and distinguished features, was enough for Miss Harter.

It's Doctor Frederic!

"That," said Miss Harter, "is Dr. Ludlow Frederic, who was introduced to me Oct. 1, 1931, as a German official, a representative of the German government, a man well versed in world affairs, and a mining expert."

Miss Harter went on to explain that she owned a copper mine near Missoula, Mont., which she wanted to sell. The Kid undertook to act as her agent, and succeeded in getting advances for his promotion work, which eventually totaled $32,000, Miss Harter declared. This process lasted until December of 1931, when "Dr. Frederic" suddenly disappeared.

No! It's the Kid!

In time Miss Harter became suspicious, and viewed the rogue's gallery at police headquarters. She identified the Kid and obtained a warant, which was held pending the eventual appearance of Weil.

Weil's arrest was brought about by Otto Clauss, a landscape gardener with offices at 1837 North Harlem avenue, who became suspicious just before the Kid was about to execute his "betting syndicate coup."

BARNES TO SET NEW DATE FOR PARISH'S TRIAL

FRANK P. PARISH.

A new date for the mail fraud trial of Frank P. Parish, former head of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company, will be set by Federal Judge John P. Barnes when the case is called today. The date set probably will fall some time after the Samuel Insull mail fraud case may be expected to end, according to Assistant United States Attorney Warren G. Canaday, in charge of the Parish prosecution.

The charges against Parish grew out of the $35,000,000 collapse of the pipe line company, and the trial is to be scheduled for the second time. Parish fled the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal courts in February, 1933, shortly before the case was first called.

Parish also faces charges of assaulting two government witnesses in the Palmer house on Aug. 14. The two are W. G. Maguire, former director of a Missouri-Kansas subsidiary, and Phillips B. Preston, former treasurer of the company, both witnesses in the mail fraud case.

CHEMISTS SCORE SYSTEM USED TO PICK TEACHERS

Course Requirements Criticized.

New York, Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Asserting that even Nobel prize winners in science would not be permitted to teach their specialties in many high schools, because of the system of qualifications that has been set up, the American Chemical society announced today that the appointment of a committee to study what was called "a dangerous situation" in the nation's schools.

Hit Strict Rules.

"The requirement in many states that teachers in high schools, regardless of their training in a particular subject, cannot be appointed unless they have had a prescribed number of courses in schools of education is developing a dangerous situation not only for chemistry but for the various sciences, the languages, and other subjects," the announcement said.

"The result is becoming more intolerable, for it brings into the colleges and universities boys and girls both improperly and insufficiently trained."

To Study Requirements.

The committee will study requirements of professional education courses for chemists entered for the various degrees conferred in this science, and will enlist the coöperation of other interested societies.

Prof. Ross A. Gortner of the university was announced as the chairman, other members being Prof. R. E. Swain of Stanford university, vice chairman; F. S. Sullivan Jr. of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana; Prof. Harold C. Urey of Columbia university, and Prof. W. L. Evans of Ohio State university.

HOLD TWO AS ROBBERS.

Two men identified as the pair who robbed Charles Lees, 50 years old, 4057 Washington boulevard, of $10 in an alley near Lees' home were held at the detective bureau yesterday. They are George Jessica, 25 years old, 2315 Flournoy street, and Tony Pela, 28 years old, of 3108 Polk street.

CONROY TO BOSS BIG DEMOCRATIC BALLOT CANVASS

Rally Cost Jobholders Heavily, Says G. O. P.

Circuit Court Clerk John E. Conroy was given the task yesterday of supervising a door to door canvass by the Democratic precinct captains in advance of the first registration day, Oct. 9. Democratic County Chairman Patrick A. Nash, in giving Conroy charge of this activity, said it is the most important election preparatory undertaking to insure success for the democratic county candidates.

Mr. Nash, who is to speak tonight at a meeting of Democratic ex-service men in the Morrison hotel, said that the Republicans, with defeat staring them in the face five weeks before the election, need watching, and the captains were directed to prevent any fraudulent registration. The Democratic chairman said the attendance of 40,000 at the stadium last Friday indicated a Democratic landslide.

Calls Meeting Costly.

A statement issued from Republican county headquarters by Ald. James C. Moreland, said the stadium meeting cost Democratic jobholders $120,000. This was through an assessment of $10 levied against every jobholder, he said.

"Fifty thousand tickets were issued," Ald. Moreland said, "and the jobholders were ordered to attend under threat of disciplinary measures. But only a favored few, those from whom favors are being sought, were given tickets that actually entitled them to sit in proximity to the party dictators.

$10 Assessment Resented.

"The $10 assessment has occasioned considerable resentment among the ranks of the Democratic jobholders who had to pay the freight to hear Postmaster General Farley, the Grand Poobah of Tammany patronage, extol in thinly veiled insinuations the vote-getting devices that the Illinois Tammany has at its command. Their resentment was partly occasioned by their fear that a good portion of the money was diverted by the bosses for their own selfish purposes.

"Of special service in the vote-getting field, Farley mentioned the emergency relief administration with its expenditures here now running at more than $10,000,000 a month and steadily mounting."

Charges Threats to Needy.

Ald. Moreland saw in the Democratic door to door canvass something more than an appeal for votes and the prevention of Republican fraud.

"In many wards of the city and districts in the county, unfortunate citizens now on relief are being threatened with elimination from the relief rolls unless they vote Tammany," he charged.

"Copies of relief rolls have found their way into the hands of Democratic precinct workers."

"The Republicans," he said are admitting another achievement of the Democratic national administration."

BRIDE OF DIRECTOR

Ruth Channing, film actress, who wed Hamilton McFadden, director, in Santa Barbara yesterday.

Chief of Chinese "Iron Army" Guest at Banquet

Gen. Chiang-flat Fuie, commander of the famous "Iron Army" of China, was the guest of honor at a banquet yesterday in the Pagoda inn, 202 West Cermak road. The banquet was sponsored by Robert T. K. Kah, Chinese consul general in Chicago, and was attended by local Chinese leaders. Gen. Chiang, who is accompanied by his wife and his staf officers, is studying occidental military tactics.

FORECAST G. O. P. GAINS DESPITE NEW DEAL SLUSH

Republican Senators Tell of Hopes Here.

triumph of Judge Harry Truman over two Democratic rivals was a victory for his political backer, Thomas J. Pendergast, boss of Kansas City, and that the Democratic ticket is "boss ridden."

Nebraska was given particular attention by the conference. Robert G. Simmons, 42 year old world war veteran with 10 years of congressional experience, is Republican candidate for the senate against Congressman Edward R. Burke, Democrat. Mr. Burke swamped Gov. Charles W. Bryan in the Democratic primaries.

Good Chances in Nebraska.

Behind Mr. Burke was Arthur Mullen of Omaha, floor manager of the Roosevelt forces in the 1932 national convention in the Chicago Stadium, who vowed openly his ambition of "driving Bryan out of politics." The primary sores among the Democrats were said to be unhealed. Mr. Simmons' report on the trend of sentiment and on the general situation, led Chairman Hastings to remark that in Nebraska the Republicans have better than an even chance.

Three mountain states were represented in the parley by Republican candidates for the senate, Don B. Colton of Utah, Scott Leavitt of Montana, and George W. Malone of Nevada. Their description of the situation as it has been developing in recent weeks led the campaign managers to declare that surprises for the Democrats may come next month in these states. They appeared especially impressed with a possibility that Mr. Colton might defeat Senator William H. King, Democrat, of Utah.

Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio was represented in the conference by F. F. Taggart. The battle between Senator Fess and former Gov. A. V. [Vic] Donahey is reported one of the hardest in the campaign.

Although there is no wet or dry issue this time, the ultradryness of Senator Fess before repeal is still a factor, although the Republicans report it is being overcome.

It was declared that the Republican ticket has been strengthened in the midwest in recent days by the selection of Donald R. Richberg and other radicals to reorganize the NRA. In the round table discussion several reports were made that the reaction against this step is already pronounced, especially among voters who have been thinking that President Roosevelt might "swing to the right."

Finances were discussed by George F. Getz, treasurer of the Republican national committee. He reported the 1932 deficit is rapidly being wiped out, and that as fast as funds are made available assistance will be given the campaigns in the states.

Plan Aid in Stumping West.

One question debated is how to get assistance for Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, co-chairman of the Republican campaign committee. He has been carrying the western headquarters load of platform speaking almost single handed.

This situation, it is explained, is due to the fact that most of the Republican senators and congressmen who are up for reëlection, are so busy with their own campaigns that they are not venturing out of their own states. Senator Hastings will seek to recruit in the east an oratorical battery to aid Senator Dickinson.

SELLS, RIOT FIGURE, IN BAD IN HIS HOME TOWN, HE EXPLAINS

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Bert Sells, 50, of Arcadia, Neb., a central figure in the Loup City, Neb., riot of June 14, is in bad in his home town.

Sells, severely beaten during the riot, told of his home town's attitude when he paused here en route to Chicago to see an ear specialist and to attend the second congress of the League Against War and Fascism.

For 26 years a Socialist, he says he now faces impairment of his hearing; realization that a boycott is hindering his implement and garage business, and charges of inciting a riot, unlawful assemblage, assault and battery, and resisting an officer.

On his side of the ledger is a $300,000 damage suit he has filed against the Loup City sherif and his deputies.

The riot in Loup City occurred after Sells made a speech. He had been warned by the sherif not to appear.

Former Broker Swallows Antiseptic; Dies Next Day

He was found unconscious Saturday night near the Illinois Central railroad tracks at 43d street, with an unloaded .22 caliber rifle at his side.

"My mother IS THE BEST COOK IN OUR BLOCK"

Of course she is, little girl. Dad recently bought her a gas range which was "Tested and Approved" by the Gas Appliance Society. The highest quality and most modern range sold today. Now she doesn't have to guess how meals are going to turn out. She knows. There is no guesswork with the new automatic oven heat control. All kinds of baking and roasting are done perfectly. Nor does she have to work in a stuffy, hot kitchen any more. The fully insulated oven of her "Double Check" Gas Range keeps the heat in the oven and out of the kitchen; the new smokeless broiler is marvelous, too—it does perfect broiling quickly and easily.

Haven't you often heard her say that with her new "Double Check" Gas Range foods almost cook themselves? Haven't you often heard dad say he never before tasted such tender, juicy steaks and roasts? And the beauty of it is, the new range cost so little and it is so easy to pay for. Small monthly payments that you never miss.

If you, too, would like to have the reputation of being the best cook in your block, see your dealer today. Ask him to show you an attractive "Double Check" Gas Range. Don't waste your time or money on inferior quality ranges—there are no substitutes for the famous ranges marked with the "Tested and Approved" seal. They are guaranteed.

PROPER PASTEURIZATION of milk is one of the essential safeguards of a family's health. You can't do it at home. You must depend upon your dairy to take the extreme care that pasteurization requires.

To make sure that not a single quart of Bowman Milk "gets by" without measuring up to Bowman standard, Bowman engineers have invented an automatic control. If the temperature should vary even one-half a degree, a siren blows. Everything stops—until the temperature is corrected.

TAXPAYERS BEGIN BATTLE ON TAXING CAPITAL STOCK

League Objects to Direct U. S. Levies' Spread.

Holding the federal capital stock tax to be unconstitutional, the American Taxpayers' league announced yesterday the inauguration of a campaign to resist the national government's occupation of the direct property tax field in a statement from the league headquarters, 30 North La Salle street.

The announcement came from a special committee of six representatives of large Chicago business fields working with the league, who reported after several months of investigation. On the committee are L. L. Beach, Crane company; F. E. Packard, Standard Oil company; B. W. Snow, Bartlett Frazier company; C. C. Larus, United States Gypsum company! G. A. Neesham, Wycoff Drawn Steel company, and A. L. Steinhauser, Montgomery Ward & Co., all taxation experts.

States Avoiding Field.

At the proposed $1 per $100 per annum, the capital stock tax would extract nearly two billion dollars a year from American industry, the committee declared.

"Illinois and other states have adopted a retail sales tax with the announced intention of reducing the burden on real estate and personal property," Chairman Beach's statement said. "Immediately congress imposed this direct tax in a field always considered outside the province of the federal government.

"The constitution declares in article 1, section 9, 'No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken." Many constitutional lawyers believe that under this clause the act will be found unconstitutional.

Attributes Trick to Congress.

"Congress started off with a relatively modest rate of assessment against capital stock, but there is no limit to what our lawmakers can do and usually will do, as witness the federal income tax. That began with a levy of 1½ per cent, and now reaches 63 per cent in one bracket."

The league explained that congress evaded the specific injunction of the constitution prohibiting direct taxation by considering the capital stock levy as an excise tax, which heretofore has been applied as a tax on a transaction or single sale, and not on property regardless of income. This tax, the league stated, is one of the resorts of the government in its struggle to make up its mounting deficit.

N. Y. TAX AND BUDGET OUTLOOK TAKES ON GLOOMIER ASPECT

New York, Sept. 30.—[Special.]—With the members of the local laws committee of the board of aldermen meeting tomorrow to discuss the tax program suggested by the banking syndicate, New York's financial outlook was darkened today by a set of figures indicating that the city may have to resort to new taxes for budget purposes, regardless of unemployment relief.

The figures, made public by the citizens' budget commission, consisted of a recapitulation of departmental budget requests for 1935, the figures totaling 587 million dollars, including debt service. That total, the commission pointed out, is 36 million dollars more than the O'Brien budget, and 51 million dollars more than the budget after the La Guardia economy act had been put into effect.

The commission pointed out that under those circumstances, a tax levy of 496 million dollars on real estate would be necessary, and that that is 46 million dollars more than the city is permitted to levy on real estate under the bankers' agreement, which is part of the laws of the state.

Youth Knifed in Quarrel with Taxicab Passenger

Alfred Buchanan, 19 years old, of 7011 South Park avenue, was in a serious condition in the Woodlawn hospital last night after being stabbed in a quarrel at East 64th street and South Park avenue. Witnesses said that Buchanan was at the street intersection when a taxicab, driven by a Negro and containing a Negro passenger, drove up. There was a dispute between Buchanan and the passenger and a scuffle followed, during which the youth was stabbed.

ITALY RIDICULES IDEA OF BEING ALLY OF FRANCE

Claims Plan Opposes Fascist Policy.

ROME, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A spokesman for the government today flatly denied reports of an Italo-French military, political, and economic alliance under which France was to give Italy two billion lira [$172,950,000] in exchange for Italian treasury bonds, and renounce her naval competition in the Mediterranean.

"These reports, in addition to being untrue, are not even logical," said the spokesman. "They are contrary to Italian policy under the Fascist régime, which has been not to accept foreign loans on the grounds that interest payments would disturb the stability of the lira.

No Alliance, Italy Says.

"Moreover, if there is a question of borrowing money, there is plenty to be had on the internal market, as shown by Italy's rapid increase in bank savings.

"Whatever rapprochement may be reached during the visit here of French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou, it will not be in the nature of an alliance."

The spokesman intimated that Barthou will not come to Rome probably until November, since preliminary negotiations are proceeding slowly.

Many Details Considered.

This does not indicate negotiations are encountering obstacles, said the spokesman, but merely that there are so many details to be considered concerning relations between the two countries that an outline for discussion could not be reached before that time.

3 Escape Serious Injury as Stunt Plane Crashes

Benkelman, Neb., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Three men fell 500 feet with a stunting airplane here today but apparently escaped serious injury. C. R. Schneider of Straton, Neb., the pilot, and Dick Chapman of Benkelman were thrown clear of the ship when it crashed, but Art Irish of Benkelman was pinned in the cockpit.

JUDGE TO RULE ON BUCKET SHOP WITNESS TODAY

Arson Trial of Three Is to Begin.

Two important trials in the Criminal court are to enter this morning their second week, and the start of another trial will inaugurate a new phase of State's Attorney Courtney's campaign to stamp out arson in Cook county.

The TNT racketeering conspiracy case, deriving its designation from the Trucking and Transport exchange, is in the midst of jury selection. Testimony taking began last week in the bucket shop prosecution.

The force of the state's charges in the trial of seven alleged bucket shop operators hangs in the balance this morning pending the ruling of Judge Walter J. La Buy on the admissibility of certain testimony. Judge La Buy will decide whether Maj. Tate B. Collins of Fort Reilly, Kas., shall be permitted to testify against the defendants, who are charged with obtaining $1,000,000 in the exchange of questionable stocks for sound securities.

Seven Defendants in Case.

Defense attorneys contend that Maj. Collins should be barred from testifying because the transactions in which he is alleged to have lost $3,000 occurred outside the state. If this view is upheld the state admits that its case would be weakened because three of its other witnesses are also from out of the state.

The defendants are Leonard Rollnick, Benjamin Reuben, P. J. Greene, Barney Lavin, Ernest Wahl Simon, G. William Herbst, and Albert L. Sherman.

Three more alleged members of the recently uncovered $1,000,000 arson ring will go on trial this morning before Judge Harry B. Miller. They are Sam Fraga, Valentine Notari, and Salvatore Roman, who are charged with having set fire to the Mexico Publishing company building at 737 South Halsted street on Jan. 21, 1933, in order to collect $9,000 insurance. Notari and Roman are alleged to have confessed to being the incendiaries and are reported to be willing to testify for the state. A fourth defendant in the case, Harry Brown, is a fugitive.

Arson Queen Awaits Trial.

Last week three other members of the arson ring pleaded guilty before Judge Miller. They are Nick Basuris, who was sentenced to one year in the Bridewell; Abe Blank, who was given one year in the Bridewell and fined $2,000, and Rudolph Pisani, already under sentence of 25 years for kidnaping, who was given one to two years in prison, to run concurrently with the kidnaping sentence.

There are twenty-two other defendants awaiting trial on arson charges and several more are fugitives. Mrs. Bertha Warshovsky, 57 years old, a grandmother, described as an "arson queen," is expected to go on trial shortly on a charge of murder by arson.

In the TNT trial the work of selecting the jury will be resumed before Judge William V. Brothers. Fifteen defendants, including John M. Bransfield, well known paving contractor, are to be tried. Assistant State's Attorney Thomas E. Bugan said that it was unlikely the jury would be completed this week.

EXECUTIVE GROUP OF LABOR ASKS CHANGES IN NRA

Demands Pay Increases and More Jobs.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—The American Federation of Labor, through its executive committee, called today for a "major adjustment" in the nation's economic organization and an increased tempo by business that would "use the capacity of our industries."

In its report on the year's activities to the annual convention of the federation, the council also urged that NRA codes be further amended to increase employment and boost wages.

A broad legislative program was proposed, including a 30 hour week, minimum wage laws, old age security and ratification of the constitutional amendment to outlaw child labor.

Opposes Currency Inflation.

The council said organized labor must be "forever opposed" to "currency inflation as the method of recovery" and it viewed the increased national debt with "alarm and with misgiving."

Saying that the year's progress toward recovery fell "far short of what we had hoped" and that "ten million are without jobs," the report gave the following program of what organized labor believes necessary:

"We need a new vision of American living standards and a plan for growth of consuming power which would lift every American worker to a health and efficiency level and millions to a comfort level of living.

"The demand for our products could then reach the point where new factories could be built to manufacture consumer goods, creating new jobs in the consumer industries and using the excess capacity of our heavy industries to build the necessary equipment.

Create New Living Standard.

"We are suffering now from a 15 year shortage of consuming power. We cannot solve the unemployment problem by going back to 1929, for even then there was a shortage. We must plan for a future when wealth produced by our industries will be equitably distributed and will create a new standard of living."

The council said "experience during the last year has proved that business men when left to their own devices take no measures to put the unemployed to work on a nation-wide scale."

"Our unemployment problem," it added, "is immediate and critical; final responsibility for its solution rests upon the government. The present situation challenges the administration to give us a plan by which industry, labor, and the government may coöperate to restore to workers their opportunities to create wealth and earn a living.

Puts It Up to Government.

"If the situation cannot be met in this way then it becomes the duty of the government to find other means.

"When private busines is not able to resume normal functions then society is forced to take over the means of production. It is essential to get the unemployed back to work producing wealth."

Placing the federation membership at 2,608,011 for the year ending Aug. 31, an increase of 481,215 over last year's average, the council said:

"Unusual progress has been made this year in the extension of union organization into new fields—previously unorganized mass production industries and industries developing out of industrial research and technical progress."

Urge Reorganization of NRA.

A 10 point program for reorganization of NRA was proposed to increase the labor benefits. It follows:

"1. The NRA should be reorganized from the point of view of a longer period than that to June 16, 1935. It becomes increasingly evident that some action will be necessary for perhaps a long time to come. Policies should therefore be considered from a long-time rather than a purely emergency point of view.

"2. Codes should be reopened for such changes as will bring about the original purpose of the act—reëmployment and increased wages.

"3. Codes should be reopened upon petition by labor as well as upon the initiative of industry or the administration.

Should Answer to President.

"4. Compliance machinery should be divorced more completely from the NRA administration. An independent compliance board, answerable directly to the President, would be better able to assure unbiased and prompt action.

"5. Every resource of the government should be used for the enforcement of the code provisions and the decisions of the labor relations boards.

"6. Collective bargaining between bona fide trade unions and employers must be assured through enforcement of section 7-A and the destruction of company unions.

"7. Adequate information, reporting and planning agencies must be created by the government.

Wants Labor Active Partner.

"8. Labor must be made an active partner in the supposed partnership of government, industry and labor.

"9. Service industries should be included under codes. The distinction between intra-state and inter-state commerce is not a legitimate basis for the extension of protection to some workers and the denial of protection to others.

"10. The entire agricultural labor population has so far been left without protection in regard to wages, hours, organization, or in dealing with employers."

Discussing the relief problem, the council said that "because every individual is entitled to an opportunity to earn his living, every worker deprived of employment is entitled to the essentials of life."

"Relief must be supplied the needy," it continued.

"Work is the keystone in any relief program. A well planned program of public works and national conservation is the most direct way to start up the depresesd heavy or durable goods industries. By putting the unemployed back to work in the heavy industries, new consuming power will still further stimulate the consumer goods industry.

"The American Federation of Labor believes that sound social planning consuming power will still further stimulate the consumer goods industries."

GREEN FACES FIGHTS AS LABOR SESSIONS BEGIN IN CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—(AP)—On the shoulders of President William Green apparently rested tonight the burden of solving the most bitter jurisdictional fight in the recent history of the American Federation of Labor in the convention opening tomorrow. That involves reinstatement in the building trades department of the A. F. of L. of the international unions of the carpenters, bricklayers and electrical workers. On that issue may hinge an attempt to elect some one else as president in Green's place. Those unions have about 370,000 members.

Another problem for Green is that raised by the rank and file at a meeting called for tomorrow night to discuss his attitude that the recent general strike in San Francisco was "sabotage"; the call for the meeting said that "must not remain unchallenged."

The A. F. of L. executive board in denying that art education is a public school frill said:

"Art education rightly done is no more a 'frill' than was, in earlier time, the teaching of the three R's."

PUT STOLTZMANN THROUGH A QUIZ ON BUS MURDER

Ruling on Two Injunctions Expected Today.

Ralph Stoltzmann, president of the union which called a strike against the Chicago Motor Coach company Aug. 16 and who was indicted Saturday as an accomplice in the murder of James Kelly, a bus company employé, was questioned for several hours yesterday and last night in the detective bureau.

When indicted Saturday, Stoltzmann and six others were ordered held in the county jail without bail. Stoltzmann is president of local 1022 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway, and Motor Coach Employés. The international body is an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor. Local 1022 was organized to enroll Chicago bus employés.

The evidence so far against Stoltzmann was obtained in the confessions of six of the men indicted with him. Albert Semple and Edward Nacki, the actual killers of Kelly, said they were hired by Earl Renner, who, in turn said he was hired by Stoltzmann. Semple, Nacki and John Bretschneider admitted numerous other acts of violence intended to aid in winning the strike.

Hoyne to Carry on Fight.

First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley and Lieut. Frank Johnson denied last night a report that the union chief had made admissions to them. So far as could be learned Stoltzmann was not "shown up" to any one.

Maclay Hoyne, former state's attorney, who surrendered Stoltzmann at the Criminal Courts building Friday night, said yesterday that the indictment of his client would not halt his legal program of civil court action, and he was unable to say whether it would have any effect on continuation of the strike.

"I don't practice in the Criminal court," Mr. Hoyne said, "but it looks as though I will be forced to now. I was engaged in representing Mr. Stoltzmann and other union officials in an injunction matter before Circuit Judge John Prystalski. In the midst of that case my client was arrested and indicted."

Decisions on Two Writs.

Judge Prystalski had indicated he would give his decision at 11 o'clock today on the two injunction cases. The bus concern and its company union, the Chicago Motor Coach fraternity, each obtained an injunction restraining Stoltzmann and other unionists from interfering with the operation of the motor coaches, and a hearing was held before Judge Prystalski on a motion to dissolve the injunctions.

"I will also proceed with a petition filed by my office with the Illinois commerce commission asking an order for a reduction of bus fares," Attorney Hoyne said. "We set forth the charge that the 10 cent fare is excessive due to the fact one man is now operating each bus instead of two, and consequently the expense is not as great.

Seeks NRA Prosecutions.

"I have also requested permission of Attorney General Otto Kerner and the compliance director of the NRA state board for prosecutions of the bus company for various violations of the National Recovery act. Under the state NRA such permission must be obtained before violations may be prosecuted in state courts instead of in federal courts.

"The indictment of Stoltzmann will not interfere with my plans, but it will take me into the Criminal courts, where I have not wished to practice."

Richmond, Va., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Walter Legenza and Robert Mais, condemned murderers who shot their way out of jail here yesterday, continued to elude police tonight as more than 1,000 officers were hunting for them.

City police believed the two remained in the city or in outlying sections after they had escaped by shooting down three officers and commandeering a mail truck and a private automobile.

Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, and District of Columbia state police, agents of the department of justice, county officers, and postoffice department inspectors centered their attention on the case and every road in Virginia or leading out of the state was watched. Mayor J. Fulmer Bright of Richmond offered a reward of $1,000 for the capture or slaying of the two.

Closed Urbana Bank's First Repayment Will Be 35 Pct.

AFTER EXCITEMENT AND STRAIN...
Get a LIFT with a Camel!

COLLEGE STUDENT. "When I'm working hard at my college studies, I smoke one Camel after another. Camels never upset my nerves," says John Birgel, showing that brain workers need energy, too. "When mental fatigue sets in, I just smoke another Camel and soon have the energy to concentrate again."

RAILROAD HISTORY entered a new phase as the Burlington's gleaming "Zephyr" flashed like a silver streak across the Great Plains from Denver to Chicago. Time: 13 hours and 5 minutes (nonstop)—1015 miles in 785 minutes—setting a whole flock of new records! On the throttle was the steady hand of Jack Ford, veteran engineer, who pulled the Fast Mail for years on the Chicago-Galesburg division. Below he tells what the long, nonstop trip felt like, and what Camels meant to him after it was over.

SPORTSWOMAN PILOT. Mrs. Cecil Kenyon, of Waban, Mass., says: "Camels are the mildest cigarette I know. Morning, noon, and night I can smoke them steadily—without a touch of upset nerves."

A PLEASURE that drives away fatigue and listlessness!

MOTOR-BOAT RACER. Bill Horn, who drives a big racing hydroplane at 70 m. p. h., says: "It's a swell feeling, when tired, just to smoke a Camel and be your real self again. That's what I do whenever I feel played out."

Jack Ford, crack engineer of the Burlington on the "Zephyr's" amazing "dawn to dusk" dash, says:

"When the 'Zephyr' rolled to a stop at Chicago, what I wanted to do was let go of that throttle, pull out a deck of Camels, and light up. I'd been through a lot of excitement and strain and felt pretty much used up. But a Camel quickly gave me a 'lift' and I felt O.K.

"Most railroad engineers prefer Camels. They have a rich, good taste. And Camels also help to increase their energy when they feel worn out. I've smoked a lot of Camels in my time, and that goes for me—all the way."

Everyone is subject to strain—whether physical, mental, or emotional. So it's important to know that Camels do release your stored-up energy.

The findings of a famous scientific laboratory have confirmed Camel's "energizing effect." So begin today to enjoy Camels. Enjoy their wholesome and delightful "lift." Enjoy their mildness and rich, good taste. Enjoy them often! For the costlier tobaccos in Camels never affect the nerves.

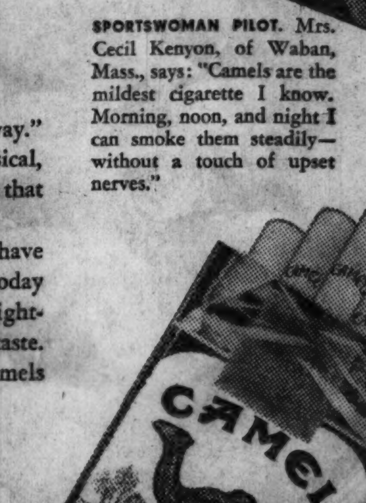
SECRETARY. Says Elizabeth Harben: "You can feel plenty of nerve strain being a secretary. I smoke a great deal, but I am careful in my choice of cigarettes. I prefer Camels. They don't make my nerves jumpy."



LEAF-TOBACCO EXPERTS AGREE: "Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

Camel's Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves!

Don't Merely Coddle It with Half-Way Measures!

A cold is nothing to trifle with! It may end seriously. A cold, being an internal infection, calls for an internal treatment. It also calls for a COLD remedy and not something good for a number of other things as well.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is direct and internal—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is taking chances with a cold. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is sold at all druggists, 30c and 50c. Accept no substitute.

HITLER INSISTS GERMANY CAN MAKE OWN LIVING

Speaks to 700,000 Peasants on Harvest Day.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 30. — "The latest prophecy is that lack of currency for the purchase of foreign raw material will bring about our collapse. They will never beat us down. Under the worst circumstances they will make us more independent."

Chancellor Adolf Hitler made this statement to 700,000 peasants at Bueckeburg hill this afternoon at the national harvest festival celebration.

Earlier in the day, in the former imperial palace at Goslar, Hitler had received peasant delegations with whom he chatted for an hour. The reichsfuehrers' drive from Goslar to Bueckeburg was a triumphal procession. Towns and villages displayed gay flags and harvest decorations. Bands played and the route was lined with cheering thousands.

Repeats Desire for Peace.

In his address at Bueckeburg, Hitler reiterated his desire for peace.

"We Nazis regard honor and life as indivisible," he said. "We have told the world what is the honest wish of every German—Germany and the German people desire nothing but peace. Nevertheless, they will never relinquish equal rights."

Beyond the customary attack on the "emigrant press" and a reference to Paris newspapers which, he said, "are mystified by the miracle of the German reawakening because they themselves are entangled in party and class hallucinations," Hitler made no further references to foreign affairs.

He again blamed the earlier governments for the reich's present difficulties.

"When I talk of troubles I never think of capitulation," he added. "We will not rest on our laurels. What is not achieved in the first two years will be attempted in the next two. Determination will bring success in the end."

Hits Enemies of Nazis.

Claiming that "Germany in the past year is not weaker, but stronger," Hitler admitted that the "struggle for the restoration of our people is made difficult because of people who do not wish that success so essential for the nation since it is counter to their party and personal interests."

He appealed to these people, declaring: "Conditions would be better in Germany if they did not present obstacles to the revival of the nation."

The fuehrer declared that the sharpest campaign has been inaugurated against Jewish intellectualism "because so long as it poisoned German life there could be no security for German peasants and workers."

"The reawakening of the German people and their faith and confidence has been the most important Nazi success because that is the basis for every decisive earthly success," Hitler said.

He asserted that the volunteer labor service was "not initiated to make cheap employment for a few unfortunate jobless, but that every German, irrespective of origin, class and future profession, shall have a spade placed in his hand and be compelled to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow."

Defies World Powers.

"The nation knows today that it is impossible for enemy powers to again force us to our knees through hunger," proclaimed Walter Darre, national farmers' leader. Darre explained that this condition has been achieved by reducing imports of foreign foodstuffs from close to two billion dollars, at the present rate of exchange, in 1928, to about four hundred million dollars today.

In connection with today's thanksgiving celebration it was announced that 34,100 more babies were born in Germany during the first quarter this year than in the corresponding period last year. This increase is primarily due to marriage bonuses, which resulted in 121,000 more weddings in a year's time.

MARION DAVIES' PICTURE ROW UP IN COURT TODAY

Museum Asks Right to Remove Exhibit.

VENICE, Italy, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The Venetian Civil court will sit in judgment tomorrow on a demand by the Whitney Art Museum of New York for right to withdraw its exhibit from the biennial art exposition in protest over the hanging of a painting of the actress Marion Davies.

The museum objected to the fact that the painting, although not forming part of its exhibit, occupies a place in the entrance to the American pavilion. After strenuous efforts to obtain its removal the picture remains the first visitors see when they go to inspect the American display.

Suit Filed by Director.

Suit for the right to remove the entire Whitney exhibit as a protest was filed by attorneys acting for Mrs. Julianna Force, director, last July, after exposition authorities had determined to allow the painting to stay.

Hints that the exhibit would be withdrawn brought an official statement that no pictures could be removed from the exposition until it was over. Mrs. Force forthwith ordered the legal action. It is based on the museum's claim to property rights over its works and hence the right to move them about at will.

Mrs. Force's attorneys maintained that refusal to allow withdrawal of the exhibit was entered at the exposition.

An Embarrassing Positioin.

They take no stand against the subject matter of the Davies portrait, but maintain that the American pavilion was to be given over to the Whitney exhibit alone. The museum was obliged to turn down a number of paintings because there was no further room in the exposition, Mrs. Force said, hence the appearance of the Davies portrait puts it in an embarrassing position.

Vittorio Baisini, Milanese lawyer, is chief representative for the museum in the legal action. A decision in the case is not expected immediately and may even be withheld until after the exposition closes.

Quarry Yields Wreckage of Two Ancient Autos

An all day search of the water filled quarry a mile south of the village of McCook, south of La Grange, for stolen or abandoned automobiles yesterday produced the battered remnants of two ancient cars. The search will be discontinued, however, it was said at the sherif's office, because of its cost—$100 a day.

BRITAIN TO HAVE MILE A MINUTE NEWSPAPER TRAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 30.—What is claimed to be the world's fastest newspaper train will be inaugurated by the Great Western railway Tuesday.

The night flyer leaves London for South Wales at 1:20 a. m., and, running nonstop to Newport, will cover 133½ miles in 137 minutes, despite the severe speed restriction for four miles through the Severn tunnel.

After Newport, the train calls at Cardiff and the principal stations to Swansea. The new service knocks 45 minutes off the present schedule, and insures that practically every town and village in South Wales will have London newspapers by breakfast.

BRITONS ROILED BY ARTICLE IN U. S. MAGAZINE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Indignation is expressed here over an article in Colliers, an American magazine, referring to the British royal family. All copies of the magazine have been withdrawn from news stands by the British distributors, W. H. Smith and Sons.

The offending article is reported to have been written by T. R. Ybarra. It was illustrated with cartoons of the royal family which, it is believed, are a bit too strong for public consumption.

Efforts to obtain a copy of the magazine today from the chief London hotels and news agents were unsuccessful. In reply to questions, an official of W. H. Smith's declared: "We succeeded in stopping 90 per cent of the copies before they were sent out and others we have called in. We took the action because we believe the article would offend British taste and should not be circulated in this country."

WARNS FARMERS NOT TO SIGN NEW CROP CONTRACTS

Danger of Government Control Stressed.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Millions of farmers have had experience this year in producing and marketing agricultural products under the government's rigidly controled program. Thousands of producers have signed two year contracts compelling them to grow and sell their products for another season under rigid regulations of the federal government, whether they like it or not. Farmers whose contracts expire at the end of this season still have an opportunity to vote yes or no on future programs.

Burocracy, regimentation, dictatorship, lock-step, and similar terms are being used by ciritics of the government plan designed to aid farmers through adjustment of production, benefit payments, processing taxes, marketing agreements, and licenses.

Producers Get Warning.

In advance of the signing of new contracts, critics, including educators and farm leaders, warn individual producers of the danger of government control of farms and farmers.

Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, says that farmers must choose between a sweeping regimentation of agriculture from Washington and a sweeping reorganization of the total agricultural forces of the nation in coöperative units.

"They cannot have both," he added. "The permanent adoption of regimentation means the prompt death of the coöperative movement.

"The imposed government regimentation and the self-government of coöperation cannot exist together. One is the method of dictatorship and the other the method of democracy."

Organization Short Circuited.

It is President Frank's opinion that the farmer's organized forces have been short circuited by Washington recovery leaders who are, in effect, dealing directly with individual farmers. If the American farmer had not been so tardy in organizing, "the possibility of regimentation would not today fall like a shadow across his future," says this university head.

Charles A. Ewing, president of the National Livestock Marketing association, says, "I am opposed to the regimentation of every farm and every farmer as un-American and unsound. For myself, as a farmer, I do not want a government loan or subsidy. . . . I do not approve of too much government in business.

Against Processing Tax.

"I was not in accord with the placing of a heavy processing tax on hogs because I believed it would be in large part passed back to the producer and compel him to take a ridiculously low price when he could least afford it," added Mr. Ewing, who has been criticised for his ideas, and "for not being a yes man and going along more docilely with the program of the secretary of agriculture."

FARMER FOUND DEAD.

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Alfred Ezra Jones, 61, a farmer, was found beside a railroad track near his home today. His health had been bad and he had lost money. A bottle that had contained poison was near him.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Bob Becker

Weather Prophets Busy.

Sept. 30, 1934.

THE last day of September finds a variance of opinion among the workers on THE TRIBUNE experimental and auxiliary farms on the question of an early, cold fall, and whether we may have a cold winter or not. Some of the boys point to the cornsilk on the ears of corn as an indicator. They say that whenever the silk clings close to the husk it's a sign of a cold winter.

Here in the fields they find the silk growing tight to the ears of corn, so they are prophesying a cold winter.

Mrs. Rawlings believes that we are going to have a mild autumn with cold weather coming late because of the way the Muscovy ducks are behaving. One hen is still setting. The argument is that if we were going to have cold weather early the Muscovy hen never would be incubating eggs and preparing to raise a family so late in the season. If we had a few muskrats on the farm one might be able to gather additional evidence for long distance weather predictions, because old time weather prophets invariably like to base a prediction on the thickness of a muskrat's house. If the walls are extra thick they foresee very cold weather.

Clarence Thurow, farm manager, was excited today when he strolled through the fields because he saw six prairie chickens in one covey. This is the largest number observed in a covey on the experimental during the last three years.

Th prairie chickens stay pretty close to the southern boundary line where they nest and apparently find their food supplies. When Clarence saw them they had left a big alfalfa field to go into a cornfield from which the corn had been cut. The birds seemed to be covering the field in order to pick up waste corn that had dropped to the ground when the binder did its work.

Mrs. Louis Thurow Sr. picked four large yellow roses from a bush in her yard today, a rather fitting way to close the month. Although the bush has several buds on it, it is doubtful if they will blossom out this fall.

HUNT FOR MISSING DAUGHTER, 19, OF POLICE MATRON

Police of Chicago and the west suburbs searched yesterday for Miss Mae Jane Lafferty, 19 years old, 1933 South Harvey avenue, Berwyn, who disappeared on Thursday morning when she left her home for work at the E. J. Barch & Sons Candy company, 4656 West Kinzie street.

Mrs. Mae Lafferty, a Berwyn police matron, feared her daughter may have been kidnaped. Charles Lafferty, the girl's father, is an insurance salesman. Mrs. Lafferty said her daughter had been employed at the candy factory but a few days.

"My daughter never stayed away from home before without letting me know," Mrs. Lafferty declared, "and I am sure that she did not elope."

The missing girl, who was formerly a student at the J. Sterling Morton High school, Cicero, was described as auburn haired, and pretty.

SLAIN BY DETECTIVES.

Springfield, Mo., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Ignoring a command to halt, Earl Ross was shot and seriously wounded today by detectives. Three weeks ago his pal, Ray Wheeler, was killed by detectives while allegedly robbing a store.

CHARGES FILED AGAINST TWO IN $220,000 FRAUD

Formal charges of larceny by bailee, forgery, and obtaining money by false pretenses were filed yesterday against John Donald [Don Champagne] Walker, 34 years old, 615 North Lockwood avenue, an ex-convict. He is accused by Mrs. Grace M. Forschner, wealthy widow of Palos township, of squandering $220,000 of her fortune.

J. Henry Jonassen, 48 years old, 639 North Laramie street, owner of the Wetzel Iron works, 3345 Grand avenue, who gave Walker a job after his parole from Joliet prison, was also named in a warant charging that he received $6,800 obtained by false pretenses. Walker and Jonassen are to be arraigned on Tuesday in Felony court.

Mrs. Louise Granger, 36 years old, 5637 Kimbark avenue, through whom Mrs. Forschner met Walker, was released last night.

TAGS TO BE SOLD FOR BENEFIT OF CHILDREN TODAY

Women volunteer workers for the Chicago Children's Benefit league will hold their 26th annual tag day on the streets of Chicago today for the benefit of the 50 children's charities included in the league.

Tag donations aggregating $50,000 were made last year, and officers of the league, which is nonsectarian, have set an equal amount as this year's goal, according to Mrs. Wilfred S. Reynolds, president of the organization.

All agencies are approved by the Association of Commerce. They include children's wards in hospitals, orphan asylums, schools for the deaf, children's homes and nurseries.

ENDS LIFE ON SIDEWALK.

Harry Sambor, 48 years old, 1228 Dickson street, unemployed, shot himself to death yesterday on the sidewalk before the rooming house where he lived.

They Must Be Healthy!

EVERY cow producing milk for BORDEN'S is regularly inspected by one of our staff veterinarians. Every cow must be healthy.

All handling equipment on the farm is carefully examined and passed upon to insure that the highest standard of sanitation is maintained.

You're always welcome to visit any BORDEN Plant

Now is the time to drink VITAMIN D milk

Shorter days—more time spent indoors—smoky air—clouds—means the sun supplies you with less sunshine vitamins. To make up for this lack—for protection against rickets in children—for better development of strong bones and teeth—drink BORDEN'S IRRADIATED VITAMIN D MILK. It's good for grown-ups as well as children. It costs only 1c more than regular milk.

DR. LOCKE'S FAMOUS CORRECTIVE SHOES

Meet Mr. Gilhooly, October 1 to 6

A visit from Mr. Gilhooly is always an important event in Field's Shoe Sections. As a close friend and co-worker with Dr. Locke, he is widely known as an authority on Dr. Locke Shoes. Come early this week to see Mr. Gilhooly . . . he will personally supervise your selection of the new styles during his visit.

Brown or black kid. Last No. 3B, $11.50

Brown or black kid. Last No. 4, $11.50

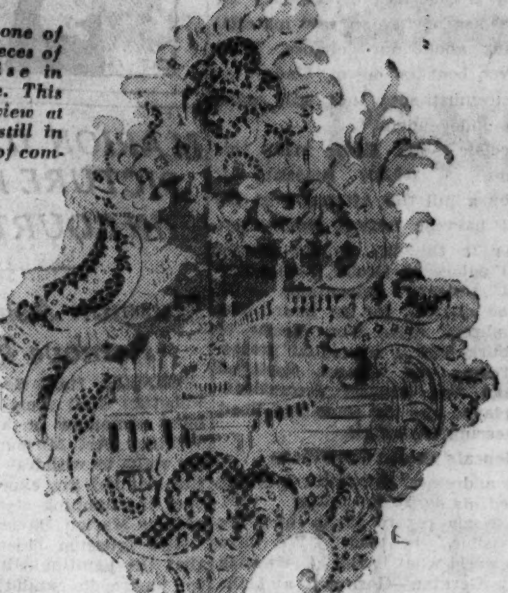
Complete new showings of Dr. Locke Shoes are ready for you.

These shoes are getting more attention every day. We are proud to say that we have sold thousands of pairs of Dr. Locke shoes in the past year to customers who have been satisfied in all cases and highly enthusiastic in many. Dr. Locke's own shoe requirements have been built into every pair . . . years of research and the study of thousands of pairs of feet have resulted in the fine shoes we are selling so rapidly today. Because women want to be proud of the appearance of their shoes, as well as delighted with their comfort . . . the fall styles show smart leathers, trim details and new trimmings that are a pleasure to see.

Modern X-ray equipment determines correct fit

No guesswork about size when you buy a pair of Dr. Locke shoes. The most modern new X-ray machines will show you exactly the size your feet will need. In addition, every Dr. Locke shoe salesman has been carefully trained and certified. We do not give medical advice, but rely on exact fit and the qualities of the shoes themselves for foot correction.

SHOE SECTIONS—FIFTH FLOOR



Motif from one of the finest pieces of Point Venise in existence. This cloth on view at Field's is still in the process of completion.

Authentic Belgian Lace

Made by hand by the nimble fingered of the world-famous lace makers of Belgium, this collection will be of interest to every woman who loves fine laces and linens, whose discriminating taste accepts only the genuinely lovely.

The laces are brought to Field's by Mr. Paul M. Stokvis, secretary-treasurer of the Lace Chamber of Commerce of Belgium. Many of the pieces shown here will be exhibited next year at the Brussels World's Fair . . . their value runs into thousands and thousands of dollars. Included are some of the finest examples ever made of Point de France, Point Venise, Milan, Point Rosaline, Point Malines and others.

Less pretentious but also beautifully made by hand are the more moderately priced laces which are an important part of the collection.

We will take orders for scarfs, tablecloths, doilies in any special design you select and shall be glad to give you estimates.

THE BURIED TALENTS.

Security issues reached their lowest level in March, 1933, when there were virtually no new investments offered. That condition was a political predictability, containing the natural uncertainties of a new administration being offered to a country hard hit in an economic depression. Industry would be marking time to see what was about to happen. It is now nearly a year and a half from the low of 1933, a period filled with the New Deal recovery legislation, and with what result? In August this year less than 180 million dollars of new securities were taken. Investment still remains at a virtual standstill.

Along with this showing is the indication that the relief lists will be larger this winter than ever before. The government program for taking up the unemployed has failed to accomplish its purpose, in spite of the extravagant use of public funds. Private enterprise remains so uncertain of the future that it will not expand. The prime reason for unemployment is government prevention of private investment, as the figures show.

For a year and a half the prospect of private investment has been increasingly precarious. Citizens do not know what will happen and consequently are afraid to make any adventure with their money. The causes of their fears are readily discovered. People do not know what will be the value of their money. They have no assurance as to the validity of contract. They know that the government has devalued the dollar, but they do not know where it will be pegged. They know the government has repudiated the gold contract obligation and they do not know what kind of currency will be used if debt impairs the public credit.

The security of property has been decreased by law. The obligation of the debtor has been weakened or removed. The mortgage contract has been impaired. The man who has put his money out cannot rely upon a return. Legal remedy has been taken from him. The future burden of taxation is not calculable, but from the character of the men controling politics the fear of tax extortion is justified. New Deal doctrines and programs prepare people for government destruction of private enterprise by competition, regulation, and expropriation.

The country has seen the results of experiment in price control, crop destruction, limitation of production, and government invasion of fields of private investment. No producer can foresee at what point a New Deal administration possessed of administrative, legislative, and judicial authority will enter to impair his investment, limit his market, control his production, and fix his prices. He does not dare expand his plant or seek new markets. He cannot foresee what laws he will encounter, what form of competition he will meet, and what he can get for his product, what his labor contracts shall stipulate, or what his money will be worth six months from now.

The continued rise within the governing party of such irresponsible radicals as Upton Sinclair and Huey Long reveals the bent of the governmental tendencies and causes the investor to look for the most durable repository for what he has left. He does not seek new enterprises which might start the wheels of production again but something which will carry him through a period of collapse with the least possible damage to his security. Often he is at a loss to know what this protective form will be, but it is not in business adventure. The man with anything left to his financial account is in no mood to put what he has to an uncertain risk. If he can bury his talent and save most of it he considers himself lucky.

The country is trying to be half one thing, half another. Under the theories of the New Deal it endeavors to be the socialistic state and at the same time a society of private endeavor. The one thing kills the other, and as the socialistic state fails there is no refuge in the achievements of a free society. The pump doesn't prime and it doesn't pump. Public expenditures proceed toward exhaustion and private enterprise remains in a paralysis of uncertainty and fear.

IL DUCE'S SHOTGUN WEDDINGS.

Mussolini is using economic pressure to force his Fascist subjects into marriage. Men and women alike are being thrown out of jobs to throw them into matrimony. The status which most of all was supposed to be voluntarily assumed becomes compulsory. One of the developments of economic evolution well within memory has been the separation of marriage and economics. It has been made possible for women to make marriage a matter of choice and not of necessity. Dictatorship reverses the trend and takes away the liberty which is properly regarded as one of the highest desirability. It is inconsistent with the spirit of dictatorship to recognize that any liberties exist.

THE MOUJIK GOES FOR ANOTHER RIDE.

The Russian government is back at its old game of whipsawing the Russian farmer. In the early days of the soviet régime the government sent its agents out to the farms after harvest, took what it wanted, and the farmer got what was left. That benign policy resulted promptly enough in a refusal of many farmers to plant more than enough for their own needs and to hide any surplus from the taxgatherers. The result was famine. When hunger became so menacing that it threatened his régime, but not before, Lenin announced his new economic policy which lifted some of the restrictions on private trading.

As soon as the famine was relieved the government again began to tighten the screws on the peasants. It took arbitrarily determined portions of the crop and paid at a fixed price in rubles of steadily diminishing value. Again this policy produced hunger and discontent and again it was followed by an order which this time fixed the proportion of the crop which the government would take and permitted the farmers to dispose of the rest at their discretion.

Now, according to recent cables from Moscow, the permission to dispose of the surplus has again been restricted. The farmers may sell any grain left them after the requisition has been satisfied, but only to state or coöperative organizations. The peasants, therefore, will continue to get less for their product than it is worth. In addition, special taxes on the kulaks, or successful farmers, have been imposed which are deliberately calculated to destroy them by confiscating their property.

Here is another demonstration of the incapacity of a burocracy to learn from experience. Perhaps the explanation lies in the circumstance that the burocrats generally manage to eat no matter how many hundreds of thousands of others may go hungry.

THE COLORED LEAF.

Without trying to pinch hit for Mr. Bob Becker of the natural history world, into whose life silos, Herefords, Shropshire rams, and various other items of husbandry have entered of late, this department ventures afield, keeping the chimney smoke in sight to find the way back. An effect of the heavy late rains is marked in the luxuriance of the autumn flowers. Their case seemed hopeless, but with fields in a spring freshness of green there is a flowering which has not been as lush for many a season, particularly as to wild asters.

The price of this luxuriance may be the loss of many days of sun streamed autumn mist when John McCutcheon's "Injun Summer" comes back to the front page—no autumn authentic without it. If this must be the loss of the days, not the reprint of the picture, let Saturdays be exempt. Saturday bids for fair weather. For reasons see the sporting pages.

The waves of warblers are passing through. They are the greatest confusion and perplexity of the dilettante afield. He is in luck if he can identify a half dozen. His perceptions are not good enough. With, say, two score varieties flitting about, the also flitting observer suffers the twinges of illiteracy, of unfitness, an unpleasant sensation which would be of more frequent occurrence if the mind were not fortified to ignore what it can't comprehend. The warbler as a traveler puts man in his place, and the humming bird is the even greater marvel. The fragile wings which hold him above a flower take him to South America.

Among the stay at homes a father cardinal is feeding his offspring, one, and a female. The mother has quit the job and quit with spirit. It's apparently a matter of discipline and the mother knows her sex. Here may be a bit of nature faking, but after one determined rebuff given by the mother a sparrow sidled up to the young cardinal, and if that sparrow didn't feed the youngster the eyes played some tricks. Maybe it thought it could swipe something.

The woods are starting to break out their colors. There are wine reds and lustrous yellows. The last bloom of the year is in bud, the flower of the wych-hazel. It blooms, and it is fall.

Editorial of the Day

AN URGENT NEED IN ILLINOIS.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

The recently created vacancy in its Twentieth district is said to open the way for congressional redistricting in Illinois. If the administration of Gov. Horner wants to perform a task long overdue it will see that the most is made of the opportunity. The fourth least populous in the state, it was the district of the late speaker which was generally credited with having caused the deadlock in the last legislature that prevented a congressional remapping.

If there is a member of the Union which needs redistricting so urgently as Illinois it does not come to mind. Illinois' existing 25 districts were laid out on the basis of the 1900 census. With the passing of a third of a century there has come, as is only natural, a shifting of population from some districts into others. The result is a great many inequities in the matter of constituents represented.

On the basis of the 1930 census Illinois has eight districts—three in Chicago and five downstate—with populations ranging from 138,000 to 199,000. It has ten, eight of which are outside Chicago, in the 200,000-300,000 group. Two districts, those of Representatives Schaefer of Belleville and Reid of Aurora, have approximately 350,000 each. The districts of Representatives Kelly, Moynihan, and Simpson of the Chicago area have between 500,000 and 600,000 each; that of Representative O'Brien, also of Chicago, has 632,000, while that of Representative Schuetz of the same city has 889,000, considerably more than the estimated 1933 population of St. Louis. Or, to put it even more strikingly, the district of Representative Schuetz has approximately the population of the districts of Representatives Parsons, Gillespie, Allen, Sabath, Kocialkowski, and De Priest combined!

Not only does the present arrangement of congressional districts result in a grossly uneven distribution of constituents. It also has caused Illinois to choose two representatives at large every congressional election for the last 22 years. These representatives at large, who are always members of the party which carries the state as a whole, are in a sense strays in its house delegation. They have no districts of their own. Yet neither can they hope to represent in the house the interests of an entire state so large and populous as Illinois.

From every standpoint the situation is bad, as Gov. Horner recognized in his campaign. The legislature to be elected this fall in Illinois will not only enable him to keep a pledge but accomplish a signal public service if it redistricts Illinois according to population at the present time.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

LIFE'S JUST ONE DARNED THING AFTER ANOTHER.

What to do? I saw two automobiles firmly locked together in the street. The front bumper of one car had run into the higher rear bumper of the other car and the two machines were clinched and neither one seemed inclined to let go its hold. A fat man with a bald head was jumping up and down on the bumper of one machine and a dozen bystanders were heaving and hauling and a couple dozen more were giving advice. "That wouldn't have happened," said a man who had stopped his car to look on, "if either of those autos had had bumper guards. I've got 'em on my car, you betcha!" I asked him what a bumper guard was. He explained that a bumper guard was a bar of metal eight or ten inches long fixed crosswise on the bumper and that they (bumper guards go in pairs) would prevent a higher or a lower bumper on another car from going up or below the bumper they guarded. "Like mine," said the man. I examined his bumper guards. Then I went right down to the shop and bought bumper guards for the family hack. And as I drove along the street coming home I saw two more autos in a death clinch, their bumpers firmly interlocked. A fat man with a bald head (there's always a fat man with a bald head around every time two cars get locked) was jumping up and down on the bumpers; a dozen people were tugging and pulling and a dozen more looking on and giving advice. I drove up alongside and poked my head out of the window and said: "That wouldn't have happened if either of those autos had had bumper guards. I've got 'em on my car, you betcha!" "Oh, the hell you have!" said the fat man with the bald head as he stopped jumping up and down. "Well, if you take a look you'll see that one of these cars has got bumper guards on, too, and the damn things are hooked up under the other bumper like a coupla fishhooks, and it jest makes it harder to get 'em apart, that's all!" Well, well! So now what?

MY SONGS SHALL NOT HAVE AGED.

I lingered with her, love-beguiled,
Beside a petal-scented sea,
For she was fancy's fairest child,
The silken bride of minstrelsy;

And many a song I wrought for her
Beside the pale enchanted sea,
Until the murmurous matin-stir
Would drown my music utterly.

Yet off I roamed, for I was young,
Far from the petal-scented sea,
Leaving the songs that I had sung
And leaving her there, thoughtlessly:

I shall return, now I am gray,
To the same pale enchanted sea—
My songs shall not have aged a day,
But she will not remember me.

WHAT, DEAR FRIENDS, have you done with that extra hour? You were given that extra hour yesterday when the clocks were turned back just sixty minutes. We all know that every minute is golden and set with sixty diamond seconds. That means you were presented with sixty golden minutes—three thousand six hundred diamond seconds. Some present! What did you do with it? Did you waste it in slumber? Did you use it to read some great classic or did you read a detective story only to find out it was dear old Grandma who committed all those terrible murders? Or did you spend that precious hour drinking cocktails and cutting for high card for ten cents per cut? It's an awful responsibility to have a whole hour of life suddenly given you to use as you will. Bet a nickel you wasted the darned thing. So did I.

THE DEMOCRATS in this neck of the woods have discarded their slogan "Stick By the President," changing to "Forward with Roosevelt and Recovery." That's pretty fair, but I still think the best one, the one that will do most to carry conviction to the sovereign voter, is: "What! Would You Shoot Santa Claus!" That's a bearcat and, while the Democrats haven't asked me about a slogan, still I think they ought to adopt it. "What! Would You Shoot Santa Claus!" You can't beat it.

"TEMPERATURE OF 91 DEGREES in Los Angeles, 102 in Near-by Valleys." Headline. That was last Saturday and I'm mighty glad I wasn't out there that day. Every local resident I met would have grabbed me by the lapel of my coat and held me firmly while he explained that, no matter how hot it is in the daytime out there, you always have to sleep under two blankets at night. The next time I'm in Los Onglaize on a hot day I'm going to get a couple of woolen blankets and carry them on my arm wherever I go. Then when a local resident tries to flag me I'll pat the blankets significantly and say, "Yes, yes, I know." Then, by shouting loudly, "What a climate! What a climate!" I may be able to get by. But it's hardly possible. Still, it's worth trying.

OCTOBER! We're getting on. Golden September has folded its tent and beat it. Now come chilly days, wet days, and sometimes a flurry of snow. But, worse than all, there come the campaign speeches. You can dodge 'em all right at the rallies, but it's going to make it dangerous to go near the radio. You no sooner tune out "I tell you, fellow citizens, this is the time when each and every one of us must do his duty" and feel around for a symphony concert before you land right in the middle of some patriot shouting, "Go to the polls and do your duty. Vote for Right, Liberty, Justice, Progress, Prosperity!" October, on your way!

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Cutter will not make diagnoses, or prescribe for individual disease.

WHAT IS INDIGESTION?

THE term indigestion has been bandied about from pillar to post until it has become well nigh meaningless. By the lay public, however, pain in the stomach, nausea, vomiting, belching, and heartburn are called indigestion.

It has been clearly established that most symptoms arising in the stomach, such as those enumerated above, are due to one principal cause—namely: the inability of the stomach and the first portion of the bowel to move the food along. From many causes there may occur a constriction or partial closing of the stomach outlet. Pressure on the stomach wall follows and then pain. What causes the contraction of the outlet of the stomach is another matter and calls for careful investigation.

Stomach pain nearly always bears a definite relation to food. If the mucous membrane lining the stomach is inflamed pain will usually appear shortly after food is swallowed. If the pain comes on one or two hours after eating, gastric or peptic ulcer must be considered. If pain follows somewhat later, that is, within three hours after eating, duodenal ulcer is probably present. Tenderness that may be felt by pressing on the upper abdomen over the stomach may occur in any type of abdominal inflammation. Acute pain with nausea and vomiting usually suggest a recent inflammation of the lining of the stomach. Quite frequently pain is merely gas and spasm. On the other hand, abdominal pain stabbing in character may be due to perforation of an ulcer, and may call for quick surgical treatment.

To T. Grier Miller we owe an analysis of 2,172 cases of so-called indigestion. A careful study was made of this rather long series, with the result that gall bladder disease accounted for 31 per cent, ulcers of the duodenum for 24 per cent, and functional disturbances for 18 per cent. The balance fell under differing diagnoses, of which stomach ulcer furnished only 4.7 per cent. Miller believes that the frequency of gall bladder disease warants a careful investigation of this organ in every patient complaining of indigestion. The second most common cause — namely: ulcer of the duodenum, should also be kept in mind.

Functional disturbances of the stomach occur in those who have too much time to think about themselves. They are the cases in which no disease can be demonstrated in the stomach or other portions of the digestive tract. Nevertheless they present a definite failure of digestive function. Miller believes that many of these cases demand prolonged study because certain systemic diseases, such as pulmonary tuberculosis, uremia, syphilis, or diseases of the nervous system may be indirectly responsible for stomach symptoms.

Appendicitis is the least common cause of indigestion: in fact, Miller believes that the frequent reference to chronic appendicitis as causing digestive upsets is scarcely justified. He believes that chronic cases are usually symptomless and require treatment only when complicated by adhesions or by some constriction of the appendix itself.

It should be clear that any gastric pain that returns with fair frequency has a deeper meaning than a mere failure of the stomach to perform its task. In the absence of signs of definite disease, functional disorders must be considered. In many instances these may be completely relieved by the use of appropriate remedies that will maintain the tone of the stomach, keeping the outlet [pylorus] working normally, and the acid content at its proper level.

What is indigestion? It is evident that it may mean gall bladder disease, peptic ulcer, systemic disease, or any one of several conditions in which the symptoms are chiefly referred to the stomach.

WHISKERS MOULTING.

N. R. writes: A few months ago I noticed that a small area along my jawbone was devoid of whiskers. The beardless area is increasing. There is also a new separate area appearing. The skin looks normal and there is no irritation. I am 30 years old.

REPLY.

This is probably what is known as alopecia aerata. The condition is more frequent in the young than in those over 40 years of age. It is characterized by a loss of hair in circumscribed regions of the scalp, the hairy regions of the face, the eyebrows, and even the lashes. The cause is unknown but is ascribed by most writers to the existence of a parasite, or to some nervous lesion involving the skin area. Cases have been reported following a severe nervous shock.

The French dermatologists believe that it is an infectious disease. The condition is sometimes confused with ringworm, but in the latter condition there is a slight scaling of the skin.

As a remedy, Fowler's solution of arsenic is recommended, as are various preparations designed to destroy any parasites, if present.

ALCOHOLIC HEREDITY.

Mrs. J. B. F. writes:

1. Is alcoholism, or the desire for drink to the point of intoxication, hereditary?
2. Would this trait be inherited by the offspring of a woman who has this weakness and whose father also had it?
3. Should such a woman have children?

REPLY.

1. Alcoholism is one of the chief causative factors of an unstable nervous system. A father or mother may transmit to their offspring their basic physical characteristics. This includes the nervous system.
2. It is possible.
3. Certain individuals with what is called the alcoholic strain are able to compensate for it and so strengthen the nervous system as to neutralize the tendency. Why not make an effort?

THINKS ALOUD.

Embarrassed writes: How can one overcome the habit of thinking aloud and talking to oneself? I am not old—only 55 years.

REPLY.

Sometimes this habit is apparent in persons with increasing deafness—in other words, thoughts are given vocal expression. It is merely a habit, and, in most instances, can be overcome by self-training.

UNCLAIMED PROPERTY.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A brought his car in to be repaired and B [the garage man] fixed it and notified A his car was ready. After a year the car was still uncalled for and B would like to know what steps should be taken to either secure his money or title to the car. The amount of the repair bill is close to the value of the car. A. N.

A creditor does not, merely by virtue of being in possession of goods belonging to his debtor, have any technical right to sell without legal proceedings, although the right of set-off would give him a qualified immunity if he sold without right. Hence, unless the value of the goods is small compared with the debt, so that they are not likely to be reclaimed, a safer course is to proceed under the 1921 statute which gives any person who has expended labor or material on a chattel or furnished storage at the request of its owner a lien analogous to the familiar mechanic's lien on real estate. Such lien ceases at the expiration of 60 days from delivery of the goods to the owner, unless claimant files in the recorder's office a lien notice. Such lien may be foreclosed by ordinary chancery proceedings or by advertisment and sale, the first step of which is to deliver to the sherif a certified copy of the claim for lien, indorsed with request for foreclosure. Adverse parties may within ten days deny the lien, in which case foreclosure in chancery must be begun within an additional ten days. If no denial, the sherif advertises and sells.

If your principal object is simply to get the goods off your hands, it is simpler to ask a storage warehouse to call for them for the owner's account. The warehouse can easily sell for its charges.

FEDERAL PENSION.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A foreigner having lived in this country for twenty years and never having expressed a desire to become a citizen of the United States hears of the proposed federal old age pension and immediately rushes to become naturalized with the object of being eligible for the pension. When the time arrives would he be in line for a pension? H. A. D.

If you mean to ask as to his chances of securing the federal pension if and when authorized, all that we can say is that it will depend on the wording of the future statute. We cannot predict that wording.

From Across the Sea

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—Prince George will open the great annual motor show at Olympia, London, in October. It is highly probable that in order to give a little extra publicity to the event his future wife, Princess Marina of Greece, will accompany him. In opening the show Prince George will raise the curtain on the biggest fight for mastery of the automobile market that British manufacturers have faced in ten years. It will be a fight between British and American automobiles, chiefly centered around the American streamlined body and the less revolutionary British designs.

Practically all the American and several continental manufacturers will exhibit automobiles with streamlined bodies and other special features. With rare exceptions the British manufacturers are announcing "no change" programs for 1935. The highly successful models with minor alterations and improvements will be continued. Several models have been kept a secret. They are labeled "show surprises." It is believed these surprise models will constitute the British idea of streamlined bodies.

An expert in the British automobile trade has declared British manufacturers will base their future policy on streamlining and similar novelties chiefly on what the public has to say about them at this year's exhibition. If a keen demand for them is shown their position will be serious, since American manufacturers will have had a year's start. Too, the reduction of the horse power tax which becomes operative in January will be more to the Americans' advantage in this market than it will be to the home manufacturer.

Foreign competition is worrying the British automobile manufacturer. This year's show, always the most cosmopolitan and most representative of the world's automobile industry, will be more complete than ever. Fifty-four manufacturers will exhibit their products. This is six more than last October. Four of the six newcomers are foreigners. Twenty-four of the 54 exhibitors are foreign manufacturers. The remaining 30 are British.

TEACHING THE CONSTITUTION.

Sparta, Ill., Sept. 24.—What this country needs is a good 5 cent edition of the constitution. In your excellent editorial on "Teaching the Constitution" you mention "recent proposals for instruction in constitutional law" and go on to deplore the lack of sound and practical methods for carrying out these proposals. It seems to me that the first step in establishing such methods would be the publishing at nominal cost of large numbers of readable copies of the constitution. Most copies now available are buried in the history texts—usually in the appendix. In the same volume containing the constitution should be a short but forceful presentation of the history and development of the laws laid down therein.

People must be made to realize how conditions would be if the individual rights guaranteed in the constitution were swept away. Those who claim that the constitution is outmoded should be answered. They are overlooking the fact that sane judgment is well nigh impossible in the heat of conflict.

To those who claim that the rigidity of the constitution should not be permitted to interfere with the government's plans for recovery there are three obvious replies:

A time of stress is no time for the abandonment of a tried and true standard. Agreement on a new standard would be impossible in the midst of a "recovery" like this.

They must show that there exist clauses in the constitution which make impossible the regaining of the very prosperity which heretofore has existed under it.

If they do succeed in showing that changing conditions have rendered certain clauses of the constitution obsolete or even obstructive, they should be reminded that the constitution itself makes ample allowance for this very contingency. If necessary the constitution could be amended by popular vote and no other procedure can be justified.

In closing I merely wish to mention that I am primarily a mathematics instructor, but I also have charge of the debate club at the local high school. Part of our debate work for the coming season is to be an intensive study of the constitution. In conducting this study I would be greatly aided by a text similar to the one described above. It occurred to me that THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is perfectly equipped to publish such a pamphlet and to help stimulate a market for it. FRANK ALLEN.

DON'T MENTION IT.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—We the pupils of room 202 of the Morris school wish to express to you our gratitude for your courtesy in sending to us the beautiful copies of the constitution. You may be assured that we shall treasure them through the coming years.

THE CORN-HOG REFERENDUM.

Sarona, Wis., Sept. 24.—I hear over the radio and notice in the papers that a referendum on the continuing of the corn-hog contracts is to be conducted throughout the corn belt in the coming two weeks. The voters are to be the signers of the present corn-hog contracts. This seems to mean that the nonsigners are to be left out in representation. Inasmuch as the processing tax comes more or less directly out of the hog growers, it becomes a case of taxation without representation. It is not to be expected that the farmers who are getting benefit payments at the present time would be against the allotment plan. They still believe in Santa Claus. Personally, I think the farmer outside of the contracts should have as much or more to say about the continuance of the plan. ROBERT A. BAILEY.

NEW YORK'S MILK COMMISSION.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 25.—I assume that THE TRIBUNE would not knowingly misstate facts, therefore I am sending this letter to set you right concerning Gov. Lehman's milk commission. There is no such commission. The New York board of milk control is a bureau in the state department of agriculture and markets, a department entirely under control of the legislature. The governor does not name members of this board, has no control over them, and they owe no duty to him. It follows, of course, that the gratuitous fling at Gov. Lehman in your recent editorial is wholly unwaranted.

THE TRIBUNE lately made an attack on the financial standing and credit of the state of New York which would have been mendacious if it had not been stupid. Certainly, action of the securities markets in relation to New York state bonds has not suggested that anybody believes THE TRIBUNE'S statement that this state is "tottering on the brink of bankruptcy." NEW YORK STATER.

AN INDIGNANT TAXPAYER.

Wilmette, Ill., Sept. 26.—I am a consistent reader of THE TRIBUNE, and naturally governed largely by its recommendations in civic matters. Therefore, believing it my duty to help maintain government, I paid promptly my 1931 and 1932 taxes in full, which amount to well over four figures annually.

Now I am told, in spite of this, those who did not meet their obligations are allowed 15 to 20 per cent deductions on certain property. Is it possible that such an injustice can exist?

This is to give due notice that in the future I will pay no taxes until they are well into the penalty dates. This is not vindictiveness but just good common sense. A. W. NOYES.

THE HOUSING PROJECT.

Plano, Ill., Sept. 26.—In your issue of Wednesday, Sept. 26, is a picture showing a house to be wrecked in the district the government contemplates wrecking between Ashland, Racine, Roosevelt, and Harrison street. You state this is a typical house. Why not tell the truth, as you know this is an exceptional house in this district and not a typical one? Your photographer must have worn out a pair of shoes looking for this house in this district.

Why not tell the truth to your readers even if you do hate Roosevelt and the New Deal?

I was born and raised and lived in this district for 50 years, and if there are any homes like this in this district, there must be one like it in 5,000.

R. ROBERT STEEN.

THE FUTURE OF THE FAIR.

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 25.—Since the present management of the Fair has declared positively that they will not operate the Exposition after this summer, why can't the Chicago park board take it over, and, with a few minor improvements, operate it as is? Surely an Exposition which can draw close to 50,000,000 persons into its gates during two years of depression ought not to be allowed to pass out of the picture. The Chicago World's Fair should take its place as the nation's greatest playground. It should be one of the city's permanent attractions. EDWIN A. LUCADO JR.

SEE BIG RELIEF CONTRASTS IN THE TRI-CITIES

Davenport's Expenses Far Below Illinois Level.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 30.—Of the Tri-Cities, Davenport, Ia., presents a relief picture in striking contrast with that of its neighbors, Rock Island and Moline, on the Illinois side of the Mississippi river. A survey today showed how relief costs have multiplied in Rock Island county under the "remote control" system of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission.

That comparison is easy because natural factors and industrial conditions are much the same in both Scott county, Ia., and in Rock Island county, Ill. In the former some 3,000 families out of the mainly urban population of 70,000 are on relief, and of Rock Island county's population of 100,000, also mainly urban, 3,500 families are on the rolls, about the same percentage.

Here the similarity ends. Scott county is taking care of its needy unemployed for $80,000 a month, while across the river $102,000 was spent for the same purpose in September, about $10,000 more than the percentage indicates as necessary. In February about one-third as much, $35,000, sufficed for the support of almost 2,000 families of Rock Island county.

But Costs Show Difference.

The difference in the costs of administering the relief, however, is even more indicative of the results of methods in Illinois. From $4,165 in February, that item soared to an average of $12,325 for May and June, later figures not being available.

In those two months administration represented 7.5 per cent of actual relief expenditures, but that figure does not include the salaries of staf members drawn from work relief rolls. Nor does it cover heat, light, and headquarters office space.

A year ago, when the number of relief families was about the same as now, the Rock Island county relief staf was composed of 40 persons, according to Allan Welch, secretary of the county relief committee. Since then that staf has been increased to 100.

Maj. Harry F. Evans, chairman of the Scott county [Iowa] relief committee, and of its parent civic planning committee, described the situation there and a few of the reasons for the difference.

Cost Only 1½ Per Cent.

"Our administrative cost runs only 1½ per cent," he declared. "We have no salaried adminisrators, sub-administrators, or others of the like. Citizens give their time to the work as a matter of public service.

"We won't permit any one to bring in high-brow social workers, brain trusters, or other professional theorists. Relief is handled by sane, experienced business men. There is no politics, no graft nor scandal, connected with it, so I believe it has been rightly said that we have one of the best organizations in the United States.

"There is no destitution here, nor neglected poverty. We give our needy decent care, including sustenance, medical and nursing service, but no frills. None of our relief families are riding around in automobiles."

JUGO-SLAV KING LEAVESBULGARIA; SEES FRIENDSHIP

King Alexander expressed himself as delighted with his visit, which, he said, gave him new insight into the dicted political and economic ties between Jugo-Slavia and Bulgaria would become stronger as a result of the visit, and that the two countries henceforth would live in a fraternity of peace, instead of enmity and suspicion.

Tells How Community Fund Will Be Spent; List Charities

The 130 private charity agencies which will participate in the $3,000,900 campaign of the 1934 Community fund were announced yesterday by its president, Edward L. Ryerson Jr. The campaign will open today.

In explaining how the relief dollar contributed by the private citizen is spent, Mr. Ryerson said that 47 per cent goes to family service, 22 per cent to child care, 11 per cent to health agencies, 13 per cent to neighborhood agencies, and five per cent for protective and miscellaneous uses. Only two per cent will be spent for administrative purposes.

The agencies listed according to their classifications, follow:

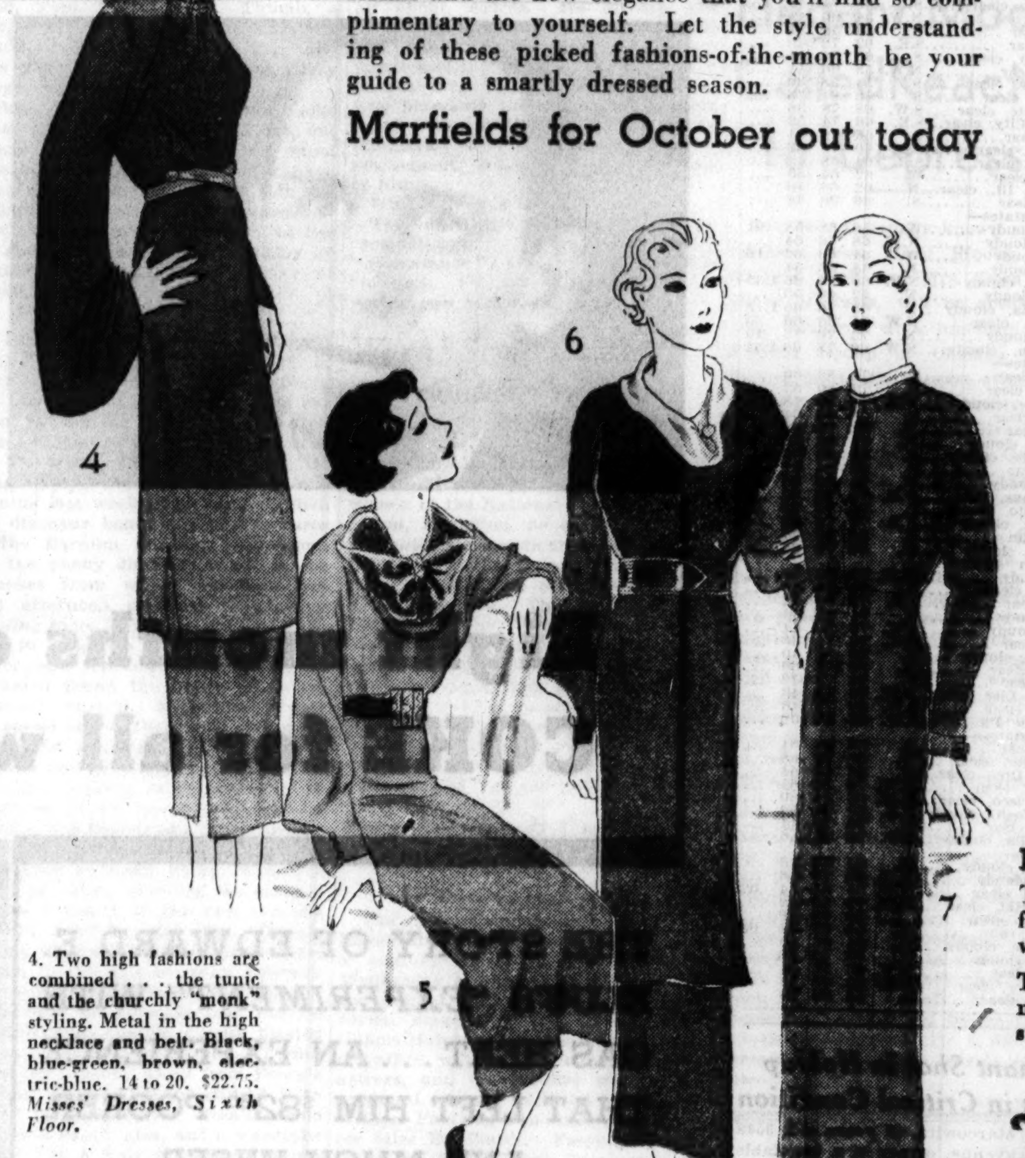
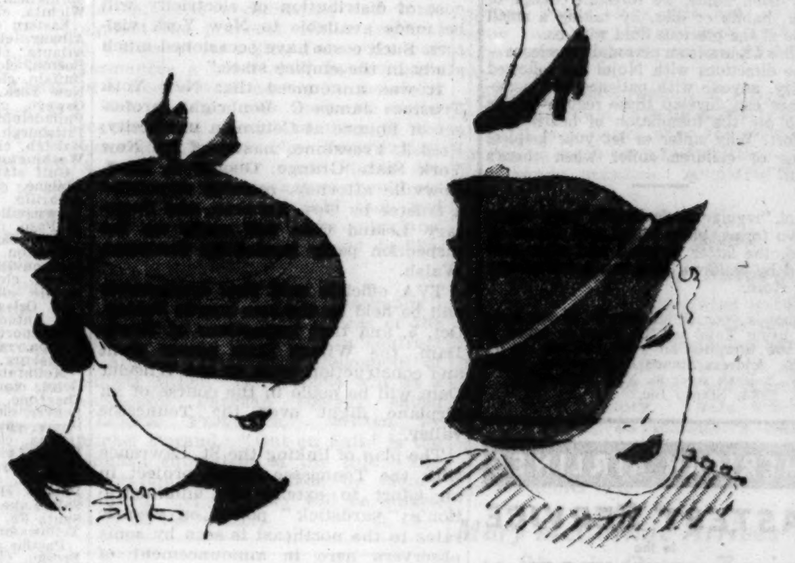
Marfields for October out today





THESE MARFIELD HATS present two becoming new points of view

The Moderately Priced Room chose a fine black or brown duvetyn for its dusky beauty, bound its flattering brim with satin, circled it with metal and tucked a soft point into the crown, $7.50.

4. Two high fashions are combined . . . the tunic and the churchly "monk" styling. Metal in the high necklace and belt. Black, blue-green, brown, electric-blue. 14 to 20. $22.75. Misses' Dresses, Sixth Floor.

5. Cobble crepe with a tempting Lyon's velvet vestee and loops, make the most of the rich colors. Of gold, green or rust with brown. Sizes 11 to 17. $19.75. Petite Miss, Sixth Floor.

6. The matelasse crepe contrasts smartly with the collar of this tunic frock. The skirt is slit. Black or brown with aqua, green with brown. 14 to 20. $12.95. Utility Dresses, Fifth Floor.

7. Buttons run from high neck to hem in one slender line. The buttonholes are hand made! Pure silk tree bark crepe in black, brown, and green. 33 to 44. $25. Women's Moderately Priced Dresses, Sixth Floor.

11. Three pieces make a smart pajama ensemble, when the fabric is smooth suedeskin rayon and the coat is tunic length. Tearose or blue with brown, tearose with blue. $5.95. Knit Underthings, Fifth Floor.

12. A satin nightie as decorative as the new season's fashions. The back is of wide straps and joins with the upper shaped bodice in a contrast color of blue or rose. 34 to 40. $5. Lingerie, Fifth Floor.

8. Exciting Llama cloth, the new sport woolen, styles this 2-piece out-of-doors Marfield with a monogram on one of the three pockets. Bonfire and navy, stardust and brown, okra green and black. 12 to 20. $22.75. Sports Room, Sixth Floor.

9. You'll be more than proud of this pencil slim coat of handsome Jumbo Crepe or Forstmann material with its large, squared off collar of cross fox. Lining of fine quality satin. In black or brown. $89.75. Misses' Coats, Sixth Floor.

10. So many fine qualities to this Marfield coat! Jacquard woolen, with 100% lamb's wool interlining, crepe lining and a full collar in Jap mink, beaver, skunk, fox or wolf. Black, brown, green, wine. 32 to 46, $50. Women's Moderately Priced Coats, Sixth Floor.

A TRUE STORY

By A MOTHER

Following faithfully the advice of one's doctor or surgeon, as did Mrs. W. E. Waters, of 344 Lafayette Avenue, Lexington, Kentucky, is very sensible and wise. Read her letter below.

"Twenty years ago, after a painful operation for hemorrhoids, my surgeon warned me that my probably inherited tendency to faulty elimination would be apt again to cause me much misery unless I regularly took Nujol. Since then, Nujol has been as essential to me as drinking water. That is, Nujol is a vital factor in my continuous good health.

"Following instructions on the Nujol folder, I cured myself of life-long (I was then 17) constipation. For years I have been able to go for days without taking any Nujol, but if I am forced to eat white bread (which binds me) or am under any sort of nervous strain, then I can rely on a few nightly teaspoons of Nujol to keep me in good condition.

"Julia Ann, aged 13 and Billy, aged 11, have taken Nujol since babyhood. They both were bottle babies, raised on pasteurized milk which has a slight tendency to constipate. They love Nujol and fuss if I give it to one and not to the other.

"The secret of keeping Nujol palatable and agreeable to take is keeping it cold. There is always a bottle of Nujol in our refrigerator. If either the children or I are away from home, we forestall change of water, habits or diet, by taking a small bottle of the precious fluid with us.

"This I know from personal experience—if the directions with Nujol are followed exactly, anyone with patience and perseverance can develop those regular habits which are the foundation of health and comfort. Why suffer or let your helpless babies or children suffer when there's Nujol?"

Nujol, "regular as clockwork," now comes in two forms, plain Nujol and Cream of Nujol, the latter flavored and often preferred by children. You can get it at any drug store.

What is your Nujol story? If you have been using Nujol for ten years or more, if you are bringing up your children on it, tell us. Address Stanco Incorporated, Dept. 23-W, 2 Park Avenue, New York City. Copd. 1934, Stanco Inc.

N. Y. MAY BUILD POWER PLANTS ON ST. LAWRENCE

Authority to Study Work in Tennessee.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—The New York state power authority is considering the possibility of constructing power plants on the St. Lawrence waterways project similar to those being built by the government in the Tennessee valley, according to a letter from Chairman Frank P. Walsh of the New York power authority to Director David E. Lilienthal of TVA, made public today.

Mr. Walsh informed Mr. Lilienthal that the New York power authority is "charged with development of a project affecting the entire northeastern section of the country," which he said "may be regarded as a part of the President's broad plan for establishing the country on a more permanent basis of national wellbeing and prosperity," in indicating that trustees plan a personal visit to the Tennessee valley Oct. 5 to 9.

Invites Power Authority.

An invitation to the New York power authority to make this investigation trip had been extended by Mr. Lilienthal, who wrote that "the Tennessee valley authority board of directors, and the staf executives as well, would derive real benefit out of such a visit, during which we could exchange ideas and get your reaction to many of the problems of the TVA. I believe you would find the work interesting and useful to you in carrying out the great project which has been entrusted to you."

"Members of the power authority of the state of New York," a TVA statement today said, "have expressed a deep interest in the TVA system of rural electrification, whereby farm residents receive the same low rate that those in the cities obtain. This TVA project is working exceedingly well in northeastern Mississippi.

"Another subject in which the New York body evinces keen interest is decentralization of industry. The TVA has made extensive researches in this field.

Walsh to Head Group.

"Results obtained by the TVA in the cost of distribution of electricity will be made available to New York visitors. Such costs have occasioned much study in the empire state."

It was announced that New York Trustees James C. Bonbright, professor of finance at Columbia university; Fred J. Freestone, master of the New York State Grange; George S. Reed, Lowville attorney, recently appointed a trustee by Gov. Lehman, and Secretary Leland Olds will make up the inspection party headed by Chairman Walsh.

TVA officials said that conferences will be held by the two boards Friday, Oct. 5, and that inspections of Norris Dam, the Wilson Dam power plant and construction work on the Wheeler Dam will be made in the course of an airplane flight over the Tennessee valley.

The plan of linking the St. Lawrence with the Tennessee valley project in an effort to extend the administration's "yardstick" policy on electric rates to the northeast is seen by some observers here in announcement of the inspection trip.

President Advocates Project.

In a telegram sent to a conference of western advocates of the St. Lawrence seaway Aug. 18, President Roosevelt advocated the St. Lawrence project for the first time since the ratification of the treaty was defeated in the senate.

He telegraphed:

"Recent events have served only to confirm my interest in and hopes for the development of deep navigation between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic ocean. I am strongly for the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway which, in addition to providing the United States with a great international highway for shipping, will give us a fourth yardstick in the power development projects already started by the government on the Colorado and Columbia rivers and in the Tennessee valley. The St. Lawrence should be the fourth."

The President gave permission to publish his statement, which was addressed to Mayor Hoan of Milwaukee. It was the President's first public statement on the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project since defeat of the treaty last March.

Merchant Shot in Holdup Is in Critical Condition

Harry Marcowitz, 42 years old, 3549 Dickens avenue, owner of a vegetable market at Maplewood and Milwaukee avenues, was shot in the abdomen early yesterday while resisting three holdup men. He was reported in a critical condition in the Lutheran Memorial hospital. Marcowitz and his wife, Rose, were on the way home with the day's receipts when the robbers demanded the money. Marcowitz and his wife fought them. He was shot twice. The fleeing trio dropped the loot.

IRISH WORKERS' REPUBLIC GOAL OF REDS' RETURN

Oppose DeValera; Disclaim Link to Russia.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Communism reëntered the political picture of the Irish Free State with the organization of a new group, known as the republican congress, at a convention here today.

The congress determined to start a movement to be called the "United Front," the object of which will be the establishment of a workers' republic. Representatives from Belfast to the meeting of the congress urged that a membership campaign be undertaken in northern Ireland.

The united front will have a military arm, the recently reëstablished citizen army. This army disappeared when its Socialist leader, James Connolly, was executed by the British in 1916 for participating conspicuously in the Dublin insurrection of that year.

The republican congress admits no connection with other communist groups, but its leaders acknowledge they believe in principles of communism and that they are prepared to use its methods.

Draws From I. R. A.

The Irish citizen army, it was said at the convention, draws much of its man power from the Irish republican army, from which numerous leaders were expelled because of their communistic leanings. It was said that in some cases whole battalions are switching their allegiance.

Peadar O'Donnell, one of four former leaders of the Irish republican army now directing the citizen army, explained the objects of the congress as follows:

"We want a republic for Ireland, a republic in which the workers will be the rulers.

"The Irish republican army has lost its drive. Fianna Fail [the party of President Eamon de Valera] is out of touch with the needs of the people. Present policies, whether the pseudo-republicanism of De Valera or Blue Shirt Fascism, are bringing us nowhere.

"The interests of the small bourgeois stand in the way of the republic. We must rely on the people below to realize the ideal—the small farmers, the unemployed, all those who are the victims of the capitalistic system."

Gilmore Reckless Leader.

The three men in addition to O'Donnell directing the citizen army are George Gilmore, Michael Price and Frank Ryan.

Gilmore, 33 years old, slim and swarthy, has been the central figure in several exciting political episodes. In the régime of President William T. Cosgrave he was regarded one of the most reckless and enterprising of the oppositionists.

While Cosgrave was president Gilmore led an armed raid on Mountjoy prison, Dublin, and released 17 prisoners. In 1931 he was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment for possession of firearms, but he refused to wear a prison uniform, and through several winter months he remained naked in his cell. He was freed on the accession of De Valera.

O'Donnell is a novelist and former teacher. Price and Ryan formerly were on the headquarters staf of the Irish republican army.

TYPHOON SWEEPS ROADS AND FARMS OF PHILIPPINES

MANILA, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Heavy damage to roads, communications and farms was left today in the wake of a typhoon which swept northern Luzon Saturday.

The exact extent of the damage could not be determined, however, inasmuch as communications had been disrupted throughout the entire province of Zambales and at least fourteen towns in other provinces could not be reached either by road or wire. The center of the storm swept the provinces of Cagayan, Isabella, Nueva Viscaya, and Ilocos Norte, as well as Zambales. All are in northern Luzon.

CHIEF OF POLICE BELIEVES LOST CHILD IS SAFE

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Police Inspector John Griffin said tonight he believed missing Dorothy Distelhurst "is in friendly hands and is safe." That announcement came shortly after Gov. Hill McAlister posted a $500 reward for the 6 year old child's "kidnapers."

Inspector Griffin has been in charge of the search for the child here since she vanished on her way home from school twelve days ago. Announcement of what he described as an "opinion" that Dorothy is safe was the first recent indication on the part of officials that they believed her even to be alive.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Distelhurst, have contended from the first that she was kidnaped.

Police Hunt for Supposed Victim in House Collapse

A frame residence which was being wrecked at 2906 South La Salle street, collapsed yesterday. A report that a man was buried in the ruins sent two Cottage Grove avenue police squads there. A search of the wreckage revealed no one. Only the framework of the structure was remaining when the supports gave way. The building had been condemned.

Back to Solid Fuel and Solid Comfort

Eight months of GAS HEAT cost $172.30
COKE for all winter never exceeded $90

THE STORY OF EDWARD E. KLUG'S "EXPERIMENT" WITH GAS HEAT . . . AN EXPERIENCE THAT LEFT HIM $82.30 POORER, AND MUCH WISER

● "I decided to install gas heat in my home. It proved to be an expensive experience with no advantage to be gained that could not be obtained from coal or coke as fuel.

"My home is a five room bungalow. The gas burner was installed the early part of September, 1933, so I was in a position to give it a fair trial from the beginning of the heating season.

"I had, for the six years prior to installing gas heat, been burning coke for fuel and was perfectly satisfied with it. The cost for one year including wood necessary to start fires was never more than $90.00. To heat with gas it cost me $172.30, including the rental of burner, for 8 months. From this it can be seen that my experience proved to be expensive to the amount of $82.30.

"In weather below zero it was impossible for me to get more than 68 degrees in my home which is something I could not say when I used coke.

"I have been convinced that I can heat my home cheaper and better with coke and I have already placed my order for next year's supply."

Yours truly,
Edw. E. Klug
2206 Walter Avenue
Northbrook, Illinois

AS Mr. Klug suggests, experience is an expensive teacher. It was "estimated" that gas heat would cost him $130. It cost, including $24 burner rental, $172.30. And in addition, his home could not be heated comfortably in zero weather. Before you succumb to enticing arguments for gas or liquid fuel, look into the experience of others. Consider the comfort and the economy you have enjoyed from coal or coke. Then do the sensible thing. Call a member of this Association and order you winter's fuel supply at once. You may be sure of honest weight, careful grading, uniform quality. You'll know what the cost will be in advance. And when the temperature drops to zero and below, you'll have no fear of chilly rooms, cold floors, and the physical discomforts of an inadequately heated home.

Put it on your back, not up the chimney!

It's time to invest in warm clothing. Coal heat will save you the price of an overcoat—or maybe five of them! Buy clothes—or anything else you need—instead of gas receipts.

"True Experiences" is a book of letters from home owners who tried gas or oil and went back to coal heat. Ask any member of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association to show you these letters.

Century Club's Last Party Will Be Wednesday

Open House Will Continue Through Week.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THREE AND A HALF WEEKS before A Century of Progress closes its gates forever, society's most popular World's Fair rendezvous, the Century club on Northerly Island, will padlock its front door. Invitations were in the week-end mail for the farewell festivities to begin on Wednesday evening and continue through the first of next week.

Arthur Meeker, the genial president who has given much of his time and effort to make the club a success, is to be host at the official "good-by" party on Wednesday night. Beginning with dinner at 8 o'clock, it will be a matter of gayety mingled with recollection of the happy experiences provided by the club and the Fair.

Band for Dancing, Stars for Floor Show.

A good sized band is being brought in to make dancing possible Wednesday night and stage and night club celebrities will supply a lively floor show. Dozens of reservations have already been made.

After the party Wednesday the club will have open house the remainder of the week, allowing all of the members a last luncheon or dinner. Then early next week the clubrooms will be dismantled and all of the furnishings auctioned to the highest bidders. And, it almost goes without saying, every piece will go, for a Century club ash tray or divan will make an attractive as well as sentimental souvenir of Chicago's great achievement.

Difficulty in heating the clubrooms is the reason for the closing before the Fair itself. Last year, it will be recalled, discomfort was experienced on more than one occasion during October and November because of insufficient heat.

Barbara Graf's Wedding to Be in Church Dec. 1.

At 8:30 o'clock the evening of Dec. 1, in the Church of the Redeemer, at 56th street and Blackstone avenue, where her parents, the Robert J. Grafs, were married, Miss Barbara Graf will become the bride of Charles S. Connell, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. Gregory Connell of Oshkosh, Wis. The ceremony will be followed by a reception, but just where it will be Miss Graf is not certain. She has not completed any further details for the wedding, for its size will depend on her mother's health. Mrs. Graf has been ill for a few months, but is greatly improved.

The autumn season begins this morning for the ladies who are members of the Needlework and Textile guild of the Art institute. At 10 o'clock the guild rooms in the institute will be opened and from then on throughout the winter and spring until June 30 there will be activity. The lesson hours are 10 to 12 and 2 to 4 on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and the instructor is a talented English woman.

The members will be producing everything from purses to piano stool covers, exquisitely worked during the next several months. Mrs. Harry H. Shearson is president of the guild; Mrs. Potter Palmer and Miss Elizabeth McCormick, vice presidents; Mrs. Robert A. Gardner, secretary, and Mrs. John W. Gary, treasurer. The board members include Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne, Mrs. Charles G. King, Mrs. Barrett Wendell, Mrs. Oakleigh L. Thorne, Mrs. Edwin L. Ryerson Jr., Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift, and Mrs. E. Crane Chadbourne.

Portraits by Trebilcock on Display at Tavern.

Members of the Tavern will be dropping into the club today to see the exhibition of Paul Trebilcock's portraits of a number of Chicago's most beautiful ladies which is to be hung this morning. Mr. Trebilcock's most recently completed work is a study of Mrs. Gail Borden. Others who will be appearing on canvas at the Tavern are Mrs. Potter D'Orsay Palmer, Mrs. Peter C. Lutkin, Mrs. William Cox, and Mrs. Richard Bolster, who was born Elizabeth Warren. Also included in the exhibition will be Mr. Trebilcock's portraits of the Morgan twins, Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt and the Viscountess Furness.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Fortnightly, Mrs. Selim W. McArthur and Mrs. Grant H. Laing will be hostesses at tea to many of the young matrons interested in the St. Luke's fashion show to be held Oct. 23 at the Stevens. Mrs. Walter B. Wolf will discuss the work at St. Luke's and the allocation of the funds raised each year by the woman's board through the fashion revue.

At 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Casino Mrs. A. Watson Armour, a member of the St. Luke's board, will entertain at tea for the fashion show assistants. These assistants are the young women who will be models and cigaret girls.

Benefit Auction at Old Palmer Home.

The woman's board of St. Luke's is busy with another project that will benefit the hospital, an auction of furniture and objets d'art that Mrs. Frank Hibbard and Mrs. I. Newton Perry are arranging as a joint benefit for St. Luke's and the Children's Memorial hospital.

The women of the two boards have been collecting donations all summer and this week they are opening an office in the old Potter Palmer mansion on Lake Shore drive which Mr. Palmer has loaned to them for the auction. The articles they will collect

Engagement Announced

MISS MARY GILL AP MADOC.
[TRIBUNE Studio Photos.]

THE engagement of Miss Mary Gill Ap Madoc to Emmett O. Brown was announced yesterday evening at a buffet supper for relatives and a few intimate friends given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tudor Ap Madoc, in their home at 2200 Sheridan road, Evanston. Miss Ap Madoc may be found every morning rehersing for the Service club revue, "Little Lady, What Next?" to be given Oct. 20 in the Civic theater in the Civic Opera house. She is a member of the mechanical drill chorus which depicts what the "Little Lady" would do were she to decide on the career of a mathematician. Mr. Brown lives in Evanston.

A CONTRIBUTOR writes that he was walking across the bridge when he saw a man poised on the railing, ready to jump. He caught his arm and said, none too gently, "What's the big idea?"

"I am going to end it all," the fellow answered. "I am hungry, no place to sleep. The wife ran away with the lodger . . ."

At this moment a second man came by, and, seeing our friend clutching the other fellow, asked what was wrong. The would-be suicide repeated his story and when he had finished the second man suggested that the first postpone his jump for a half hour while they talked it over.

"So they talked it over," writes the contributor. "And at the end of the half hour they both jumped in."

AN Evanston woman was visiting in Atlanta recently and an impromptu birthday party was given one night at a club. The woman who gave the party telephoned home and made arrangements for her maid to send down a present for the guest of honor.

"Pearlie Annie, you know that little table I bought for Mr. G———," she said. "Well, take the price tag off and bring it to the desk of the Georgian Terrace. Say that I will call for it."

She later called at the desk for the table, and to her surprise the clerk gave her an envelope containing the price tag.

OUR hospital scout contributes an incident that concerns an unconscious patient who was brought into a Chicago institution. He was accompanied by his son, who spoke very little English, and the nurse had difficulty obtaining the civil data for the hospital records. She asked the boy why the man was brought to the hospital, and his name, and other relevant questions, but she was unable to understand his answers. She finally recorded as the reason for the patient having been brought to the hospital what she thought the boy had told her.

"Stiff papa," she wrote. And instead of the name of the patient, "unidentified white male."

Later, when the patient came out of his coma, she learned that the son still had been trying to tell her his father's name when she had gone on to the next question, which was about the reason for bringing him to the hospital. The man's name was, it seems, Steve Pappas.

Miss Beery, 4, Gives Dad Task in Diplomacy

Birthday Party Guest List Requires Fixing.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—It was a perfectly natural mistake for Carol Ann Beery, Wallace Beery's adored adopted daughter, to make, but it involved some embarrassment before it was all straightened out.

Carol Ann has been playing for ten days about the set of Twentieth Century's "The Mighty Barnum" in which Beery impersonates the roaring voiced Phineas T. Barnum. The picture reached the stage where Barnum, not long out of the general store business, has launched himself as a museum showman dealing with giants, midgets, two-headed calves, tattooed men, and bearded ladies.

As Carol Ann romped about the set she got acquainted, but developed a particularly confident and easygoing manner with George Brasno and George's sister, Olive, midgets who impersonate Gen. Tom Thumb and Mrs. Lavinea Thumb in the story.

It came time for Carol Ann to confer with her daddy about the party celebrating her fourth birthday anniversary which took place at the Beery home today. "Are we going to have a cake, daddy?" she asked. "Yes, we'll have a big cake," Beery assured her.

"And we'll have lots of ice cream?" "Yes, dear."

"And I'll get presents?" "Lots of presents."

"Well, that's fine," said Carol Ann. "I've invited all the children to be there." And she named the "children" she had invited, starting with Gen. Tom Thumb, Mrs. Thumb, a couple of the other midgets, and including all the three and four and five year olds residing in the Beery neighborhood.

Brasno thought it was a good joke when it all was straightened out, but Beery hasn't made up his mind whether it is such a good joke to have Carol Ann believing the midgets are children. You see, Brasno smokes big, black cigars around the wings of the set and Carol Ann astounded daddy by asking him to get her a cigar to smoke.

They've been having fun and grief in mingled doses about the set of Barnum. It was fun for Sid Grauman, the Los Angeles theater man who has been partner in many of the enterprises headed by Joe Schenck, co-head of Twentieth Century pictures, to hang around the "Barnum" set one evening last week until he could filch the dinosaur bones out of the cases in the Barnum museum. Grauman hid the phony dinosaur bones in the trenches from which workmen had that afternoon removed the former dressing room bungalow of Mary Pickford in order to make room for a larger, new studio building. When the workmen found the bones much excitement ensued. Meantime, inside the sound stages there was still more excitement while props had the camera men, assistant directors, and everybody else looking in corners and all about the lot for his treasured bones.

The sound technicians then ran into their own store of trouble when it came time to shoot Beery, who is 6 feet 2 or taller, greeting the midget, Brasno, 3 feet 8, in the first meeting between Barnum and Tom Thumb. Putting the overhead microphone close enough to the pair to catch Brasno's thin voice, they placed the delicate mechanical ear so close that Beery's conversational rumble almost blasted the sound machinery to bits. Trying to get the "mike" away from Beery's lips and close to Brasno caused it to appear in the picture. Finally some one had a happy idea, and a wardrobe woman cut a hole in Beery's pants and they suspended the mike in his trouser leg after coiling the wire upward from the floor.

Good Morning!

This is fun! A variant of the good old Cinderella plot.

It's all about a poor little stepdaughter who, due to the activities of an up and coming young literary man, wins the Cinderella contest conducted by a certain magazine.

A limousine rolls into her life. A penthouse apartment shelters her. Butlers and maids leap to do her bidding. Fame is hers for a day—and there's a Prince Charming all scheduled to be her husband. . . .

Only—Cinderella wants to pick her OWN Prince C. In fact she HAS—but the dumdennis, who is the literary man, doesn't get the point. Until . . .

Well, until much laughing water has rushed under innumerable bridges. . . . "Romance in the Rain" is a takeoff on contests and publicity stunts and very merry it is over its kidding of same. The action is fast and in spots extremely funny. Anyhow, I laughed.

Heather Angel and Roger Pryor are appealing in the romantic leads. Victor Moore as the publisher of the magazine, who doesn't know what it's all about, scores. He dithers and dothers amid a slough of softly spoken and idiotic protestations and arguments and is completely at the mercy of the large blonde [Miss Ralston] who possesses the key to his rabbity heart. She, finally, in a stadium, to the blare of a brass band and his utter amusement, makes an honest man of him.

Miss Ralston's clever.

The clean little yarn bursts into occasional song. "Love at Last" and "F'rinstance" are the featured melodies.

World Style Show Provided for Wives of Rotary Members

A lecture by Dr. Cosette Faust-Newton, world traveler, with twenty young women of the National College of Education, Evanston, as costume models will entertain guests at the ladies' day luncheon of the Rotary club of Chicago in the Hotel Sherman at 12:15 p. m. tomorrow. The subject of the lecture will be "The Rainbow-Hued Trail of Customs and Costumes of Other Lands." Dr. Faust-Newton recently returned from a six week's sojourn in Turkey to study the status of modern Turkish women. Miss Lutfiye Sabry, a student of Istanbul, will exhibit a harem costume known as "the shalvar" at the luncheon.

Sara Bernhardt Coiffure Is Reproduced for Show

The coiffure made famous by the immortal Sara Bernhardt nearly half a century ago, will be reproduced Wednesday at the Hotel Sherman for the annual fall coiffure and fashion revue, staged by the Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers association. Ruth Guenther will impersonate the great actress, and the coiffure will be reproduced from artificial hair by William Faerber, who created the style for Miss Bernhardt. Faerber is said to be the oldest living hairdresser in the country. The coiffure was seen yesterday at a dress rehersal for Wednesday's show.

Elegant Modes Called Reaction to Depression

Two internationally known style authorities, Mrs. Mary Brooks Picken of New York and Mrs. Dora Loues Miller of Paris, will be speakers at noon tomorrow at a luncheon of the Fashion Group of Chicago at the Palmer house, the largest event to be staged to date by the recently organized fashion arbiters here. Mrs. Picken is president of the Fashion Group of New York. Mrs. Miller is the Paris representative of the Lace league.

The tidal wave of elegance through every phase of fashion, Mrs. Miller asserted yesterday in her suite at the Palmer house, undoubtedly originated as a general rebellion against the restrictions of the depression years. Women have bought clothes they could "make do" for too many seasons, she declared, and the French designers answered the concerted demand for glamorous fabrics and colors with sensationally elaborate costumes, at their August openings.

"Everywhere we have gone in America," she commented, "we have seen a marked trend toward the elegant type of clothes, in both day and evening garments. We have noted, too, a marked tendency toward home dressmaking as demonstrated by the tremendous increase in dress pattern sales. I can't see that that sort of thing hurts Paris at all. It shows an accelerated interest in better fabrics, I believe, and naturally I noted the versatility with which lace is now endowed.

"The real news about lace is that it is now woven as a fabric and comes by the yard in adequate widths, instead of being just the flounces of grandma's day. Both cellophane lace, which was introduced for the first time in August, and the lastex fabrics, for which Paris imports the thread from America, are American developments that have vastly increased the uses and the smartness of lace."

Mrs. Ford Carter, regional director for the Fashion Group, will preside at tomorrow's luncheon, the members and guests at which will be representative of various fields of fashion activity in Chicago.

THE STAGE

The plan of a group of New York theatrical producers to revive "the road" by touring companies giving twelve performances a week at low prices has been blocked, temporarily at least, by the Actors' Equity association. The organization has voted against the proposal, which required a waiver of its ruling that eight performances a week shall be the basis of a week's work among its members.

This decision was made by acclamation at a special meeting of the association, held in New York Friday. A point frequently made in the discussion was that the actors should not grant the concession until they had received assurance that the musicians' and stagehands' unions would do likewise.

Ina Claire, the star of "Biography" last season under the auspices of the Theater Guild, has signed a contract to appear under the management of Gilbert Miller. Her vehicle will be a successful Parisian comedy called "Liberté Provisoire," written by Michel Durand. "Out on Bail" is the English equivalent of the title. The adaptation will be made by Sidney Howard, and the play will be staged early in the winter. C. C.

Sequin Capes Are Dazzling Style Success

Sparkling Models Score at Dinners and Dances.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Capes are going strong. There are short, perky fur numbers for sleek, tailored street dresses, any number of longer models of smooth, flat furs that can be detached from the shoulders of a form fitting winter coat worn over dull crêpes and thin woolen frocks for afternoon, and then hustled back the next cold day to the original position on the coat.

Lots of the smartest street costumes of wool, whether thick, nubby weaves or sheer wools, are made with dashing waistline capes, and practically every swanky traveling outfit of tweed comes with a matching cape buttoned on, or a separate long cape that covers from shoulder to hemline. Even the newest knits have capes.

But the glittering, gleaming successes are the sparkling models for dinner, dance, and evening gowns. They are made in all lengths, in every imaginable style, and the result is blinding! Paillettes or sequins have come a long, long way since the first model made of tiny round dots.

This winter you'll wear twinkling, lovely things made of big round circles, of long oblongs, of squares, and any other shape. You'll wear deep capes that fasten demurely straight in front or contrarily on one shoulder. Short jacket effects, with the short sleeves looking like angel wings in the gala manner, are ideal tops for very gouged necklines of gowns that can easily go down to dinner very properly covered with a sparkling coatee or jacket.

Very long capes with vertical rows of sequins are new and extremely effective, especially for tall party goers. Silver with black, gold with black—the material used for a background being black fine net, or the same ravishing effects with gold on either white or black net are outstanding buys.

Fashion photograph. . . . A deep, swinging sequin cape in glittering silver. It is fastened over the shoulder or can be worn buttoned at the center high round neckline. Available in a Chicago shop.

Adventure in Luxury

We have in mind a certain suit from our Custom Salon. Of a heavenly new soft wool, it is made quite glorious by some of the most beautiful Russian sables that ever adorned a woman. As surely as Rembrandt was a great painter, this suit is a work of art. It will be worn by some one, you perhaps, who can appreciate the genius of its design and workmanship. The coat is full-length and may be worn separately; the dress is of a contrasting color. The price is $395. . . . Other suits in the noteworthy Blum collection are priced from $95.

BLAZING GUNS

SYNOPSIS.

Mary Landis inherited the Lazy B ranch from her uncle. It adjoins the Circle 3 T ranch, owned by Chet Radbourne, powerful boss in the country and Mary's legal guardian. He has been stealing Mary's cattle and trying to force her to marry him. To escape his tyranny Mary marries Cole Sanburn, fearless young outlaw and suspected train robber, within an hour after meeting him. The marriage is one in name only, giving them both better advantage to fight against their common enemy. Jordan, one of Chet's men, captures Mary and sends her back to Circle 3 T. Cole, unaware of Mary's plight, rides into Jonesboro with Rusty Hunter, one of his trusted men. He gets Judge Fairley to terminate Chet's guardianship over Mary. Cole kills Jordan in self-defense and is exonerated. Chet sends Slim Calhoun, a good looking young outlaw, to ride the range with Mary. After a run-in with Chet and Haskell, Chet's foreman, Slim leaves the Circle 3 T and takes a letter from Mary to Chet, who accepts him as a follower. By a trick, Cole outwits Chet's men, among them Gray Shirt, and captures Lazy B ranch without bloodshed. He returns Chet's men to him, making Chet the laughing stock of the country. Cole makes Chet realize public opinion will be against him if he harms Mary—a woman.

INSTALMENT XXXI.

MARY WORRIES.

"Chet can talk for himself, and I'll talk for myself," said Gray Shirt. "For a red cent I'd send you out in smoke, and I wouldn't touch her for a million dollars.

Cole gave this man his sudden friendly smile. "You're a man, Gray Shirt. I'll take back what I said about your annoying Mrs. Sanborn. Just the same you're fighting with this scoundrel to take her property from her. You're in the wrong camp. He's not worth the powder to blow him up. I'll tell you something else. You're backing a losing horse. Radbourne is bucked out. This country has had enough of him. He's through."

Gray Shirt turned to his boss. "Tell him he's a liar, Chet. Tell him you'll hang his hide on a fence to dry inside of a week."

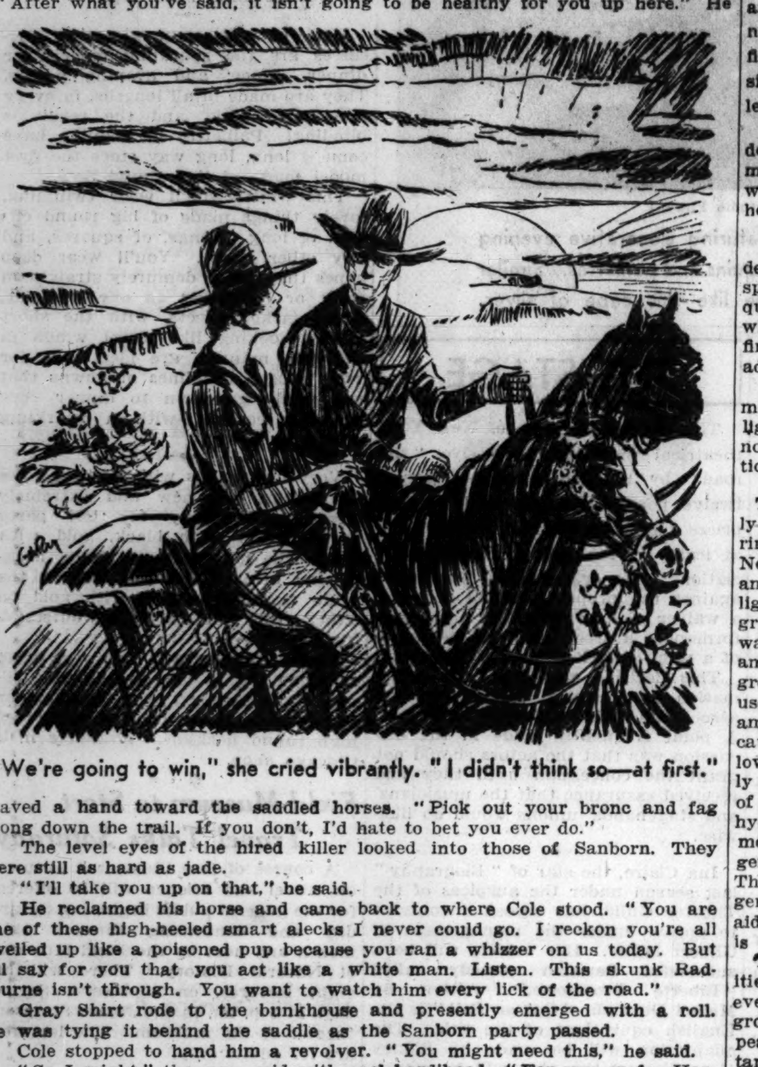
"You boys get on the prod too much," Radbourne said irritably. "I got nothing against Cole, except he's so damn rambunctious. Some one has been filling him with lies about me. I'm a man of peace. Not looking for trouble."

Disgust in his face, Gray Shirt looked the owner of Circle 3 T up and down. "Sanborn is right. You're a yellow bellied crawling sidewinder. That's what you are. And I'm through with you. I never did like you or your outfit. You can dish out orders to bump off some other guy and it doesn't hurt you any, but when it's yore own turn you can't stand up on yore hind legs and take it. Me, I'm going down the trail tonight."

"Rats and a sinking ship. That the idea, Jim?" sneered Haskell.

Gray Shirt looked the foreman over with a cold implacable eye. "Say that again when we're both heeled, Jerry."

Cole gathered his party to leave. Before going he spoke to Gray Shirt. "After what you've said, it isn't going to be healthy for you up here." He waved a hand toward the saddled horses. "Pick out your bronc and fag along down the trail. If you don't, I'd hate to bet you ever do."



"We're going to win," she cried vibrantly. "I didn't think so—at first."

The level eyes of the hired killer looked into those of Sanborn. They were still as hard as jade.

"I'll take you up on that," he said.

He reclaimed his horse and came back to where Cole stood. "You are one of these high-heeled smart alecks I never could go. I reckon you're all swelled up like a poisoned pup because you ran a whizzer on us today. But I'll say for you that you act like a white man. Listen. This skunk Radbourne isn't through. You want to watch him every lick of the road."

Gray Shirt rode to the bunkhouse and presently emerged with a roll. He was tying it behind the saddle as the Sanborn party passed.

Cole stopped to hand him a revolver. "You might need this," he said.

"So I might," the man said with cool hardihood. "For you or for Haskell."

"If it has to be one of us, make it Haskell," Cole answered, grinning at him.

"It won't be you, fellow. Too many coals of fire. I'll say one thing. I'm almost glad I didn't get a chance to fill you full of lead today."

"So am I," Cole told him.

Gray Shirt put his horse to a gallop and vanished down the road.

Mary rode beside her husband, an odd breathless excitement filling her being. It was absurd, she told herself, that she should feel any emotion in the presence of this harsh dynamic stranger who, by some strange quirk of fate, happened to be the man to whom she was married. Their partnership was a business arrangement. Nothing more than that. Yet she felt not only the prickling in the throat that adventure brings but a queer suffocation around the heart ridiculously unnecessary. She told herself it was embarrassment. This straight backed rider with the hard packed muscles and the granite face was a man she did not know at all.

"Tell me about it," she said in her low, melodious voice.

He told her, simply, as if what he had done had been easy and a matter of course.

"Why didn't they think you might take the cut-off up the arroyo in the gulch?" she asked.

"Nobody had ever been up there." He modified his statement. "I did go up once when I was a boy. But it never struck them seven men could make it. Fact is, the slide is rather a breakneck precipice. We were lucky that none of us were hurt."

She looked at him, with parted lips and shining eyes. A wave of emotion crashed through her.

"We're going to win," she cried vibrantly. "I didn't think so—at first. It was a desperate jump in the dark . . . what we did. I was selfish, thinking only of myself. But I've had plenty of time since to think of the danger into which I've dragged you. The worst of it is that I can't be sorry. I know you walk every hour in danger, with so many men ready to destroy you. Sometimes I am shaken with fear."

"I've rocked along all right so far," he reminded her.

"Wouldn't it be best for you to guard me to the nearest railroad station, put me on a train, and send me home? I wouldn't be responsible then if—if anything happened to you."

"You won't be responsible anyhow. Radbourne had a black mark against my name before I ever met you. When I began this thing it was personal. Cole Sanborn against Chet Radbourne. There's more to it than that now. All over Boone county men are watching to see if the influence of the Circle 3 T can be destroyed. Square shooters in Jonesboro are speaking out. If Radbourne's killers get me this fight won't stop. He is coming to the last mile of his crooked trail."

As she listened, the color to her violet eyes deepened. Mary knew that on the frontier the border line between good and evil is sometimes shadowy. Circumstances may sweep men who are not bad along lawless paths. Along such trails Cole Sanborn had galloped wildly. But this she knew. Whatever wrong there might be in his past, he had now turned his back forever on dishonor. The blood beat stormily, exultantly, to her heart.

"Yes, he is afraid," she agreed. "I could see it in the way he treated me. But won't that fear drive him to desperation? He will see his one chance is to—to get rid of you."

"That's on the cards," he assented. "We'll have to be on guard every minute."

"Where are you going to leave me?" she asked.

"At the Peters' house if that suits you all right."

"Would they be in any danger because of me?"

"No. You heard what that man in the gray shirt said, the one called Jim. I don't know his last name. What he says is true. He and his kind respect women. I would trust you on the desert with him just as I would with Dave Pope or Dunc McCoy. He isn't fighting women. Neither are the other Circle 3 T riders."

"And Chet Radbourne—isn't he fighting women either?"

"Not now he isn't," Cole answered. "He daren't. For the first time he has come to understand the power of public opinion. He can kill me and get away with it because I have the reputation of being a bad man. But he won't bother you any more. Far as he is concerned, you're dynamite from now on. He knows that if he lifts a hand against you he is likely to blow himself up."

"So it comes to this," she said. "I'm safe, and you are in more danger than ever. And it started in as my fight, not yours."

"Before I ever said a word to you or had become acquainted you heard Haskell serve notice on me that he was going to wipe me out. I had chips in the jack pot then, and even if the pot has built up a lot since I'm still playing a stack."

"You say that out of kindness to me to keep me from worrying about having got you into trouble."

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

In their zeal for perfection women are accused of going a bit haywire on the subject of superfluous hair. They are inclined to make a beard out of a natural, normal, downy growth. The fine colorless down is not to be considered a blemish. On the contrary, it lends softness and charm.

Exaggerating the importance of down on the upper lip and cheeks may just begin a round of activities which ultimately leads to an increased, heavier, and darker growth.

Dr. Herman Goodman, well known dermatologist, tells me that physicians specializing in skin diseases are frequently consulted by women and girls who appear well nigh frantic over a fine down. In cases of this type the advice is to let things alone.

Dr. Goodman offers a harmless cosmetic procedure which will make the lighter superfluous hair growths less noticeable, diminishing the pigmentation if the down is dark in color.

The area should be washed thoroughly with soap and water. Several rinses with clear water should follow. Next, a pledget of cotton dipped into ammonia water should be drawn lightly across the hair to remove the grease and leave a deposit of ammonia water on the shaft of the hair. The ammonia water should be fresh, and great pains should be taken not to use what druggists call the "stronger ammonia water" which is a great caustic. The ammonia water is not allowed to dry on the face. Immediately after its application, another pledget of cotton, moistened in a solution of hydrogen peroxide, is passed over the moistened hair. The solution of hydrogen peroxide must be reasonably fresh. Through the interaction of the hydrogen peroxide and the hair, a reaction aided by the ammonia water, the hair is bleached and made inconspicuous.

The method is safe and many authorities claim that its continuing use will eventually result in lessening the hair growth. The treatment may be repeated frequently. It is most important to have the area clean.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

We've got plenty of straight perfumes, and some fragrance just for furs, but did you know that you can now get a fragrance just for your hair?

A grand idea if ever there was one. Perfume isn't particularly safe for hair, since most of us don't tub our heads every day and perfume on anything—clothes, flesh, or crowning glory—defeats its own purpose if the surface to which it is applied isn't completely immaculate and free from any little odor of its own.

No matter how fastidious you are, the chances are a hundred to one that some odor clings to your hair in between shampoos. And if you're unfortunate enough to have hair that's overoily or a head that perspires, there's no guess about it. Even the odor of tobacco is something to worry about these days.

This fragrance for hair only acts as a deodorant, and it's our opinion that any woman would be smart to use it just to be on the safe side. It gives a certain sense of security that's more than welcome.

But aside from this practical consideration there's the assurance, always attractive to feminine women, that your hair is rather sweetly scented. The fragrance is a light one, as it properly should be, and it's applied with an atomizer. There's a faint suggestion of a floral odor, but we detect a predominant scent suggestive of lemons. It may sound strange, and we may be wrong, but it's beautifully fresh and clean, whatever it is.

If you're ever troubled with doubts about the aura that surrounds your hair this is something for you to list among your cosmetic possessions.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Mrs. Roosevelt went to New York this afternoon to attend meetings there tomorrow and for the opening of the Todhunter school Tuesday morning, after which she will return to the White House.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt and their small daughter, who have been at the White House for some weeks, have taken possession of the place they have taken near Leesburg.

Mrs. Hull, wife of the secretary of state, has returned from Chicago and joined Secretary Hull at the Carlton. Mrs. Hull was accompanied to Chicago by Mrs. Mary Buford of Jackson, Tenn.

Mrs. Harry Baxter of Chicago, daughter of the secretary of war, Mr. Dern, is spending the week-end in New York and will return here Tuesday.

are not altogether donations, for the donors will receive 25 per cent of the sale price, the other 75 per cent going to the charities.

A preview of the things to be auctioned will be held on Nov. 12 and the auction will start the next day. Mrs. Eugene Thayer gave a handsome piece of furniture to the auction before she moved east and Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine already has given several of her lovely things to the collection.

Miss Barbara Bastien is entertaining at tea this afternoon at 4 o'clock at her home, 900 North Michigan avenue, for the girls who will sell cigarets and flowers at the Cradle ball next Monday. Miss Bastien, Miss Patsy Keith, Miss Lydia Swift, and Miss Peggy Hixon are co-chairmen of the committee arranging for the cigaret and flower girls. Mrs. Augustus W. Eddy is chairman of the committee in charge of the ball, which will be given in the ballroom of the Stevens hotel. A fantom ship with dancing on the deck, a gambling casino [make-believe money will be used], a bar and a floor show will be some of the entertainment. Mrs. Louise de Koven Phelps and Mrs. Frederick H. Scott are co-chairmen with Mrs. Eddy.

Invitations for the "Pooch ball" that Mrs. Frederic McLaughlin is arranging for Saturday, Oct. 13, as a benefit for Orphans of the Storm went out only Saturday, but already a great many reservations for tables have been made, for every one remembers what a good party last year's was and how many who decided at the last minute to go to it were unable to obtain tables. Mrs. McLaughlin, who captivated the country with her dancing when she was Irene Castle, will dance again, as she did last year. The party will be at the "Bal" in Hotel Sherman.

Fortnightly Dances. Start in November.

The winter social season for early teen-age Chicagoans will begin in earnest early in November, when the Fortnightly dances will be going full swing. According to Mrs. Nelson Thomasson Jr., who, with Mrs. Stanley Rickcords, Mrs. George B. Harrington, and Mrs. Arthur Galt, is among the active organizers of the Fortnightlys, the first dance will be given early in November. As usual, the parties will be at the Fortnightly club, and there will be a large Christmas party for all of the subdebutante crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Campbell are receiving congratulations in Santa Barbara on the birth of a daughter last Friday. She is a great-granddaughter of Levi Leiter, early Chicagoan.

Mrs. James H. Channon is one of the proudest grandmothers in town, for she is telling all of her friends of the arrival of a baby daughter in the household of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Schreiner Jr. The young lady put in her appearance on Thursday at Evanston hospital and has been named Letitia Channon Schreiner after her mother. The Schreiners live at 537 Brompton place. Mrs. Channon is just back from a summer at her country home at Grand Haven, Mich.

Barbara Warner had one of the gayest birthday parties Saturday that any 13 year old has had in many a day. Through her mother, Mrs. John Eliot Warner, she entertained a dozen of her Winnetka friends at a swimming party at noon at the Woman's Athletic club and then invited her guests to remain for luncheon.

Club Women Meet Today with Orchestra Group.

Mrs. Frederic W. Upham returned yesterday from a summer at her home in Keene county, New York, to preside this afternoon at the meeting the woman's campaign committee of the Chicago Symphony orchestra has called for the city's club women. One hundred invitations were issued asking the presidents and music chairmen of clubs in the vicinity of Chicago to attend today's meeting, which will open at 3:30 o'clock in the foyer of Orchestra hall.

As chairman of the campaign committee Mrs. Upham is assisted by three vice chairmen, Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, who is now in the high seas on her way home from Germany, and Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed. Miss Dorothy Schmidt is secretary of the committee and Mrs. Louis Skidmore is handling the publicity.

The young women who are tagging this morning for the benefit of the Margaret Etter Crèche nursery will lunch and bridge this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Donald F. Bowey, one of the board members. Among the taggers are Mrs. William E. Graham, Miss Martha Lee, Miss Emily Goebst, Mrs. William Wallace, Miss Betty Kellogg, Mrs. Sydney H. Heap, Mrs. Wilbur C. Smith, Mrs. Hart Johnston, Miss Barbara Bond, Miss Jane and Miss Mildred Lawrence, Miss Jane Williams, Mrs. Marshall Haywood, and Mrs. Kirk Bird. Mrs. Blair Baggaley of Winnetka is president of the crèche.

BATS
DO NOT COMMUNICATE LICE TO HUMAN BEINGS

Bats usually avoid human beings. They are afraid of man. Even if they should become infested with lice—which is not the usual case, since they feed on such insects—there would be little opportunity for transferring these pests to man. Bats usually sleep in caves and old barns rather than in houses where people reside. Even in these caves lice would find it hard to escape the appetites of the bats.

JUNIOR GIRL'S DRESS.

A simple, wearable dress like this is always popular for school, college, and business wear. It buttons down the back, may have long or short sleeves, and the neck is finished with an outside, attractively shaped facing. The original dress was made of gray, tweedy woolen, and the bone buttons were an orange red. Gay plaided woolen, canton crêpe, wool crêpe, and velveteen are other suggestions.

The pattern, No. 3040, comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years.

Sew a fine seam. Sew almost anything, in fact, with the aid of the booklet, "How to Make Better Dresses," now available at Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, Tribune Tower, and Hall of Science at A Century of Progress. It's only 10 cents.

Exuberance of Youth Causes 'Tough' Jargon

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

It was vacation time at the seashore. As the boys' spirits rose with their outdoor life and sense of well being, they became more and more boisterous and rougher and rougher in their speech. Among the gentler comments were:

'O, he's a tough egg," interspersed with, "somebody oughta push his face in," and "wouldn't this be a swell club to 'bean' somebody with?"

At last the boys' mother became a little uneasy. She began to hear this gusty speech with an outsider's ears. So one day she spoke to the ..

"I hope you know that the boys don't mean anything when they talk the way they do, and act so silly."

The quiet young woman stopped work and looked at her.

"Of course I do," she said. "Sometimes I feel just the way they do. I want to run and shout and jump up in the air to let out my feelings. And if there's nobody around I do," she admitted a little shamefacedly. "I suppose if any one saw me they'd think I was crazy."

Her "mistress" looked at her in mild surprise.

"You see," the girl explained, "I've worked hard ever since I was younger than the boys. I never had a chance to play. I'm young now and I know just how they feel."

It's odd, isn't it, how quickly we, who are more than a few years away from our middle teens, can forget the high spirits, the bursting energy, the superb vigor that lie behind the "roughhouse," the "freshness" and "big" talk in which many healthy, happy boys indulge.

If we can understand it, we shall mind it less, be more effectual in "channeling" it in general, or in suppressing it when the occasion requires.

WEDDING

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Evelyn Clark Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Brady of New York, to Edward Frederick Wrightsman of New York, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Christian Wrightsman of 7549 Saginaw avenue, Chicago, which took place at 8 p. m. Saturday in the James Memorial chapel, Union Theological seminary, New York, followed by a wedding dinner at Sherry's. The bride attended the Horace Mann School, the Finch school, and Skidmore college. The bridegroom attended Morgan Park Military academy, and University of Chicago, and the University of Illinois, and is a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. Miss June Williamson of Chicago and New York, Mrs. Robert E. Kohler of Kohler, Wis., and John Gillerlain of Chicago were among the wedding attendants.

BY MARY MEADE.

Here we are trotting in with a request again. This time it's for a recipe for vinegar cookies, hungered for by Miss G. B. It seems to be an elusive something which won't be run down in any of our files or in our five foot shelf of cook books. But just in case "there ain't no such animal" going by that name, I'm going to make a guess. I suspect, Miss C., that a vinegar cookie is a simple, brown sugar cookie which has been flavored with a little vinegar in place of lemon juice or other flavoring. I suggest you try the following recipe until we can find you a better one:

Brown Sugar Cookies.

1 cup brown sugar, sifted
½ cup butter
2 eggs, well beaten
¼ cup milk
½ teaspoon vinegar
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2-3 cup chopped nuts.

Cream the softened butter with the brown sugar until light and fluffy. Combine the eggs and vinegar and stir them into the creamed mixture. Add the milk and the sifted dry ingredients alternately, mixing thoroughly. Fold in the nut meats and drop the batter by teaspoonsful onto a greased cookie sheet, allowing 1½ inches between cookies. Bake in a moderately hot oven [375 degrees F.] for about 15 minutes, or until done.

And now I'm going to be like the small boy who, when asked in a school examination to name the Presidents of the United States, replied: "I don't know the Presidents, but here is a list of the state capitals." Not being cocksure about those vinegar cookies I'm going to present you with recipes for vinegar candy and vinegar pie instead!

Vinegar Candy.

2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup white vinegar

Select a heavy saucepan and in this melt the butter. Add the vinegar and sugar, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Wipe the inside walls of the pan with a damp cloth, and then allow the candy to boil until a brittle ball is formed when a little of the sirup is dropped into cold water [256 degrees F.]. Turn out into shallow, buttered pie pans and when it is cool and stiffened pull and cut it as you would taffy.

Vinegar Pie.

2 cups water
1 cup vinegar
¾ cup raisins
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup molasses
1 cup dark brown sugar
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons cinnamon

Combine the first five ingredients and heat to the boiling point. Meanwhile mix together thoroughly the brown sugar, flour, and cinnamon. Just as soon as the boiling point is reached turn in the dry ingredients all together and mix briskly until the custard is smooth. Return to the heat and continue cooking gently until it thickens, keeping well below the boiling point. Turn the filling into a pastry lined pie pan and bake without an upper crust in a moderately slow oven [325 degrees F.] until firm.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

ACES AND SLAMS.

I hope that I am not becoming tedious in devoting so much space to slam bids resulting from no trump opening bids, and to the ace situation which the bidding can develop. The fact is that innumerable slams have been bid against me which were down one from the start because we held two aces. The slam bidders had all the kings and queens, and could have made thirteen tricks had they been allowed to call the lead. By a clumsy process of adding, or accumulating, honor tricks and multiplying them by some promotional factor aped from Whitehead's schedule for opening bids in Auction, they had arrived at a "count of playing tricks" which caused them to anticipate twelve or more tricks; quite correctly except for the time factor. It is absolutely unnecessary for Sims players to contract for any slams when two aces can be laid down against them. My no trump requirements lay a very firm slam foundation, and slams can be bid or signed off with remarkable smoothness and safety if the bidding is conducted unhurriedly and according to method. If you are never set in a slam contract, you are underbidding and not giving the cards a fair chance to score for you. The set, however, should be on an unlucky break, a very remote duplication or an unsuccessful finesse, never on confusion regarding aces. At the same time, you do not need four aces to bid for small slams. Nothing except the right void holding can take the place of the third ace; but the fourth ace may, for small slams, be very adequately replaced by

Reserve Values Which Secure the Time Factor

as soon as that one adverse ace has been led or forced out.

Returning to the subject I have been developing in the last few articles, when the bidding goes one no trump, three in a suit by your partner, you now have a very important bid by which to develop the slam-try without in any way misleading your partner or driving the partnership too high. That is by Raising the Partner's Suit to Four.

This raise conveys the following definite information. You are saying:

[1] I am accepting your slam try; you know this because I am raising you instead of bidding three no trumps.

[2] My hand contains two aces—not only one ace, or I must bid three no trumps; not three aces, or my response would be four no trumps.

[3] My justification for accepting the slam-try at this point is that my hand is more than a minimum. Count on me for four primary tricks and some serviceable intermediates.

[4] I have normal support for your suit—not less than you are entitled to expect from my no trump bid; at least three, including one of the top three honors. If I lacked such reasonable support, it would be because I had bid a no trump with a concealed long, strong suit which it would now be my duty to reveal as an explanation for lack of expected support for your suit, or else to sign off by bidding three no trumps.

[5] We are certainly safe in five of your suit or five no trumps—it is up to you to select the contract. You may safely make any other constructive bid to eliminate losers; if I have no additional information to give you, I will take you back to your suit or no trumps; if I have still more to tell you, I will do so on the next round. In this manner we will locate our losers without error, and contract for either five, six or seven accordingly.

I think this procedure is so natural, so reasonable, so impregnated with common sense that one example hand will suffice to illustrate this manner of bidding twenty-six cards and eliminating losers, in conjunction with several different responding hands. This will be the subject of tomorrow's article.

5,750 Students to Start Work at U. of C. Tomorrow

Classes for 5,000 upper class men and advanced students and 750 freshmen will open at the University of Chicago tomorrow. Most of the students will appear on the campus today to make preparations for the 600 courses offered this year. Continuing its new plan of education, now embarking on the fourth year, the university is offering a "student-at-large" program for persons not candidates for degrees.

Observe Tenth Anniversary of Chicago Temple

Bishop Leete and Pastor Lead Services.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.
[Former Religious Editor of The Tribune.]

The tenth anniversary of the dedication of the Chicago Temple, the First Methodist Episcopal church, Clark and Washington streets, was celebrated yesterday with historical references by the pastor, Dr. John Thompson, and a sermon by Bishop Frederick D. Leete, who will preside at the Rock River conference at Sycamore, which begins tomorrow. Others who took part in the ceremony were Dr. J. W. Holland, radio minister, and the writer.

"The First Methodist Episcopal church," said Dr. Thompson, "was organized in 1831 with ten charter members whose names we have on record. The first building erected cost $425 and was ferried across the river on a scow and placed on the spot where the temple now stands.

"Later a $10,000 brick building was erected, then a much larger one, which was burned in the great Chicago fire in 1871. The building that followed this one was razed to make way for the $6,500,000 temple ten years ago."

He paid a tribute to the founders of the First church and to the fact that the organization had furnished funds for the erection in part of practically all of the more than 200 Methodist churches in Chicago and suburbs.

Bishop Leete declared the foreign missionary work not only of the Methodist but of other churches was a success, as he had learned by personal observation.

"Much criticism is made of Japan," he said, "but I found in that country some of the finest Christians I ever met anywhere in the world.

"When I landed at Christmas time a Christmas tree had been erected in honor of the Christian holiday. By the authority of the imperial government the story of the birth of Christ at Bethlehem was broadcast by radio. A leading newspaper published an editorial in which it said that great good had come from the example and teaching of Jesus Christ."

Dr. Thompson has been pastor of the First church for 14 years, and it is expected that he will be returned for the fifteenth year at the close of the Rock River conference, which ends next Sunday night.

[Dr. W. B. Norton, writer of the Chicago temple anniversary story, retired six years ago after long service as religious editor of The Tribune. His home is in Portland, Ore. He is a guest at the Alexandria hotel while on a visit to Chicago.]

Mrs. W. B. Norton 75 Today; Veteran of Chicago Schools

Mrs. W. B. Norton, wife of the former religious editor of THE TRIBUNE, will celebrate today at her home in Portland, Ore., her seventy-fifth birthday anniversary.

MRS. W. B. NORTON.

Members of THE TRIBUNE staff who knew Mrs. Norton and several members of the First Methodist church who were likewise among her intimates united in sending her a wire reading "Happy birthday to you" and signed with a long list of names.

Mrs. Norton was graduated from the Central High school in 1878, when it was the only high school in Chicago. She was graduated from Northwestern university in 1914 when she was 55 years old. She was a principal of grade schools and a teacher in high schools until her retirement at the age of 70. She is now president of the Northwestern University Alumni club of 90 members in Portland.

New Quick-Whitening Action Makes Dull Teeth Clear and Sparkling
A DISCOVERY THAT GIVES TEETH WONDERFUL NEW WHITENESS. TRY IT. RESULTS WILL SURPRISE YOU
Modern science has discovered why your teeth are still yellow, stained and dull in spite of the daily brushing you give them. Millions of germs are present in your mouth and collecting on the teeth, forming an ugly mask that no ordinary toothpaste can remove.
Now all you do to remove this GERM-MASK is start using Kolynos. Use it as you would any ordinary toothpaste with this exception: Use it on a dry brush, without water. And your teeth will look better after the very first brushing. Soon they will look clearer, cleaner and whiter than you believed possible.
The quick-beautifying action of Kolynos is due to two things. First, Kolynos contains the finest cleansing and polishing agents known to science. Second, it has the antiseptic power—no ordinary toothpaste has it—to kill millions of germs and thus remove the GERM-MASK that disfigures your teeth.
Now try the new-day way that so quickly gives dull, discolored teeth brilliance and whiteness—makes them gleam like polished jewels. Get a tube of Kolynos and start cleaning and whitening your teeth today.

Carson's Presents the Outstanding COAT SUCCESSES

In a Great October Event

Now that we are just far enough into the season to know which coat styles are proving most in demand with fashion-alert Chicago women — we feature a group of these "chosen fashions" at prices that will make even the thriftiest budget sit up and take notice. The slim tube silhouette, fur abundantly used but placed high and close to the neck, sleeves comfortably expanded at the elbow and cut deep in the armholes, ripple collars, half-way shawls, pouch collars, or wide lapels, fabrics with weave interest — these are the fashion rules by which we have measured the coats shown here before selecting them for this event.

(1) $59.75

(2) $85

1. Persian lamb fashions the collar, high and snug in back, and a deep shawl in front, on this black wool coat, designed especially for the woman who wears half sizes. 33½ to 45½. $59.75.

Moderate Price Coats, Fourth Floor.

2. A shawl collar of fox lavishly extends all the way to the waist on this stunning coat for misses. There is sleeve fullness just above the wrist. Brown, green, or black. Sizes 14 to 20. $85.

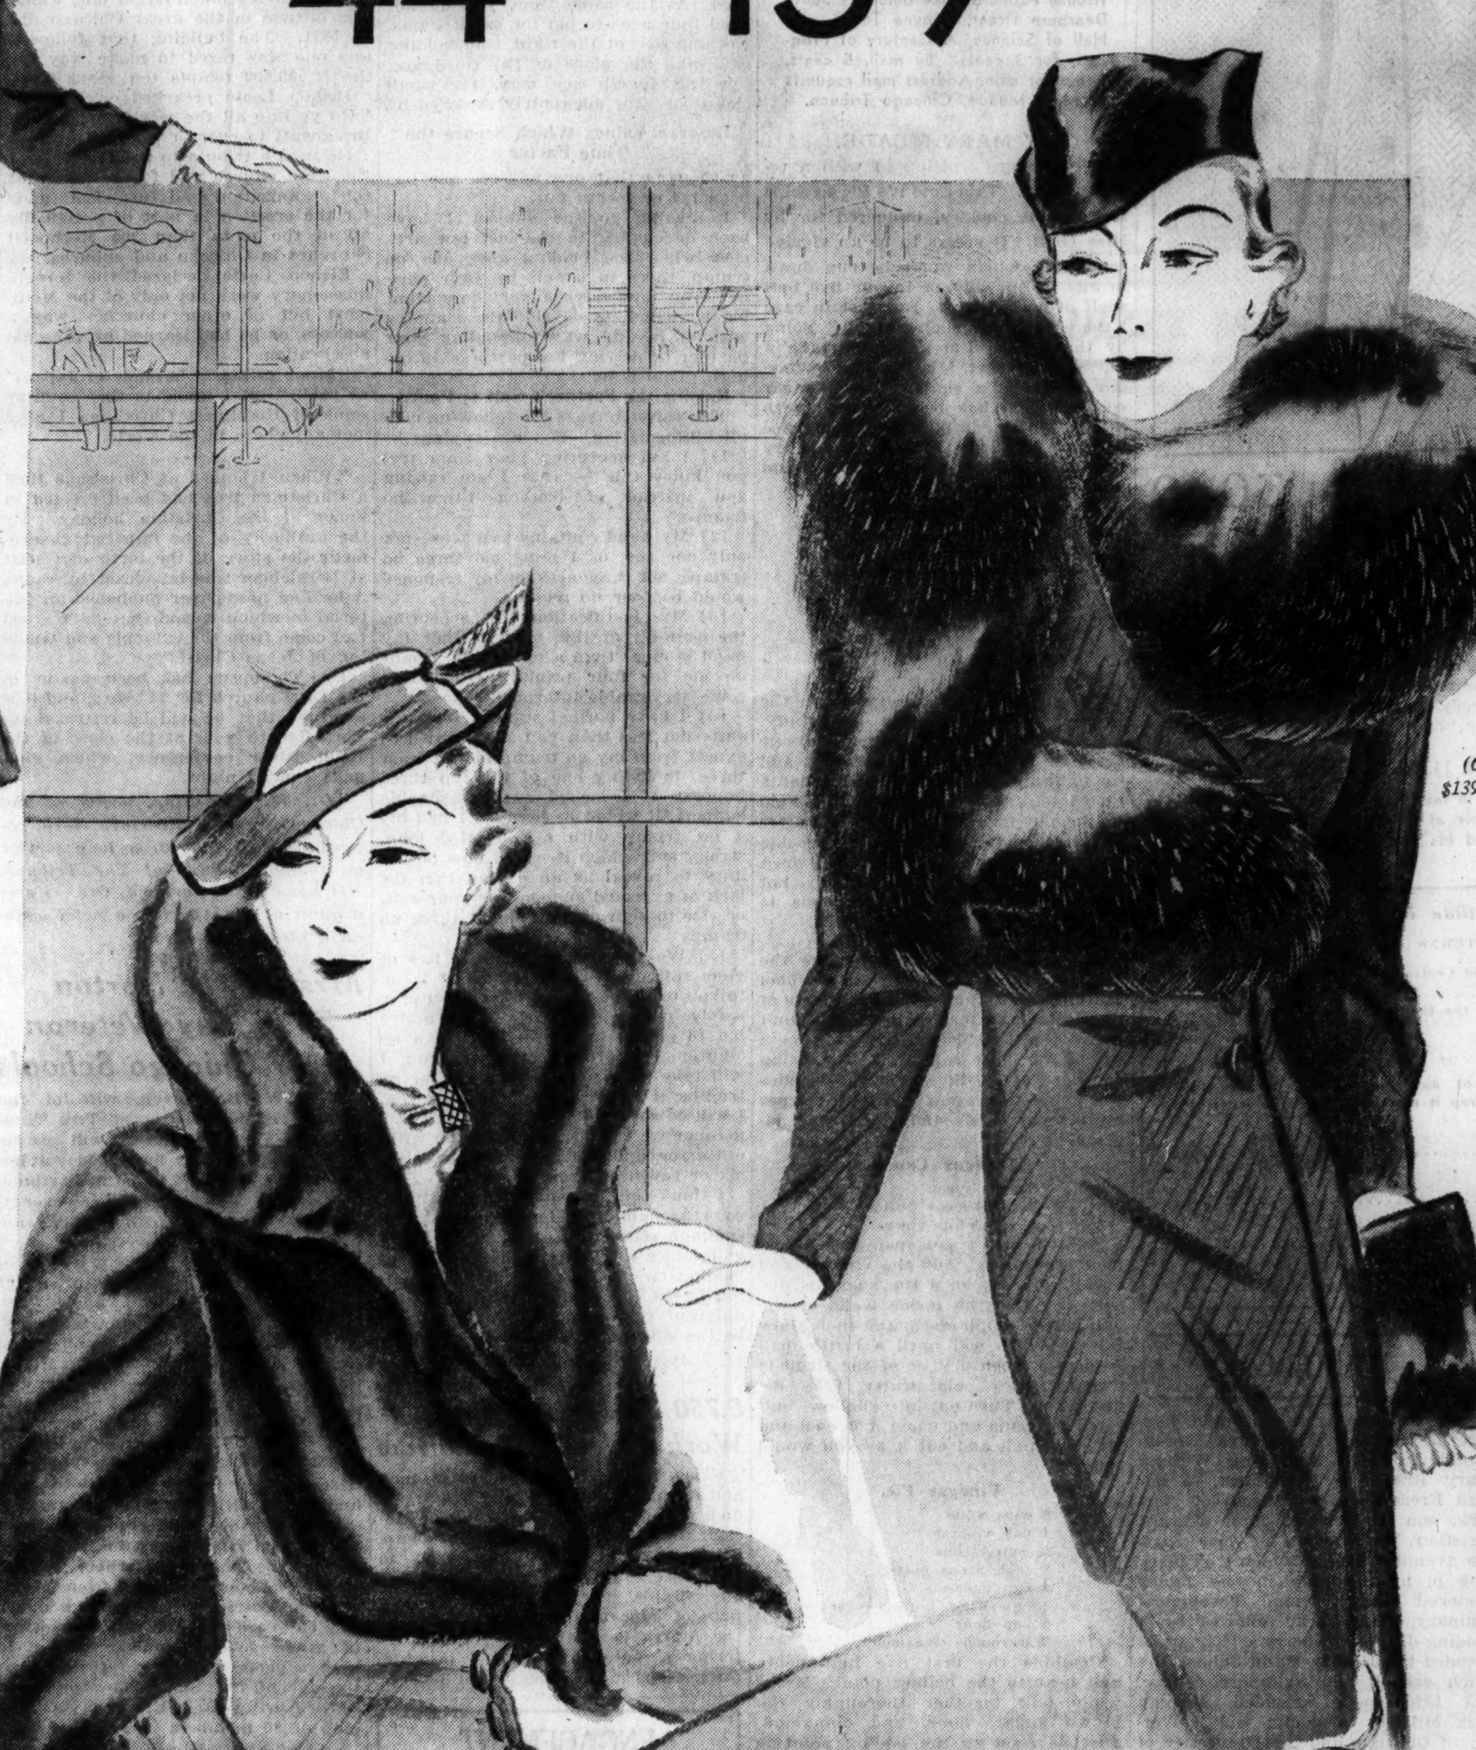
Better Coats, Fourth Floor.

3. A ripple shawl collar, bordered in wolf, stands high at the back, stiffened by smart cartridge detail and will button high to the side in the Russian manner. Green or black with dyed blue wolf, brown with brown. 11 to 17. $44.

Teenya Coats, Fifth Floor.

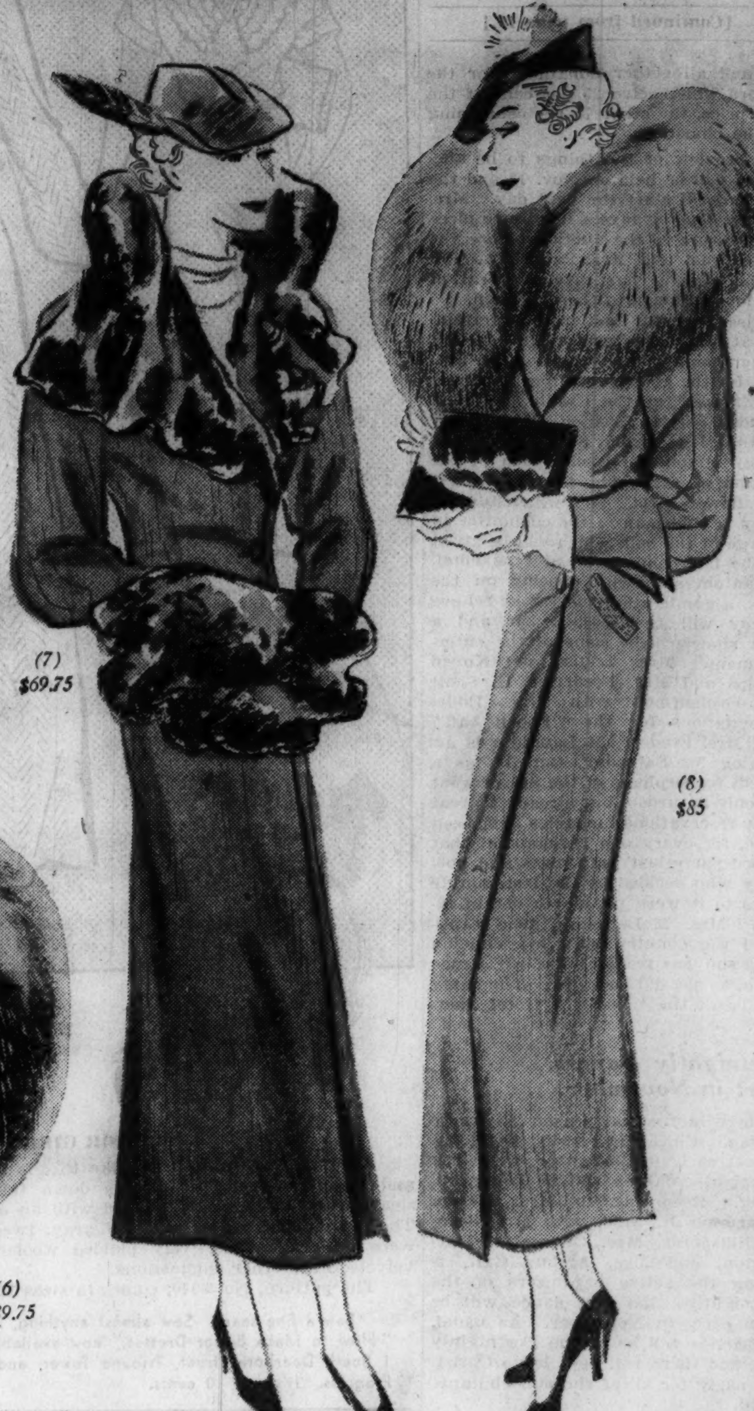
4. Red fox is Teenya's choice — especially when it can be worn straight down like suspenders, diagonally down to form a V, or up like a pouch. Dolman sleeves. Brown, black, or green with red fox; also brown or black with blue dyed fox. 11 to 17. $69.75.

Teenya Coats, Fifth Floor.



(5) $125

(6) $139.75



(7) $69.75

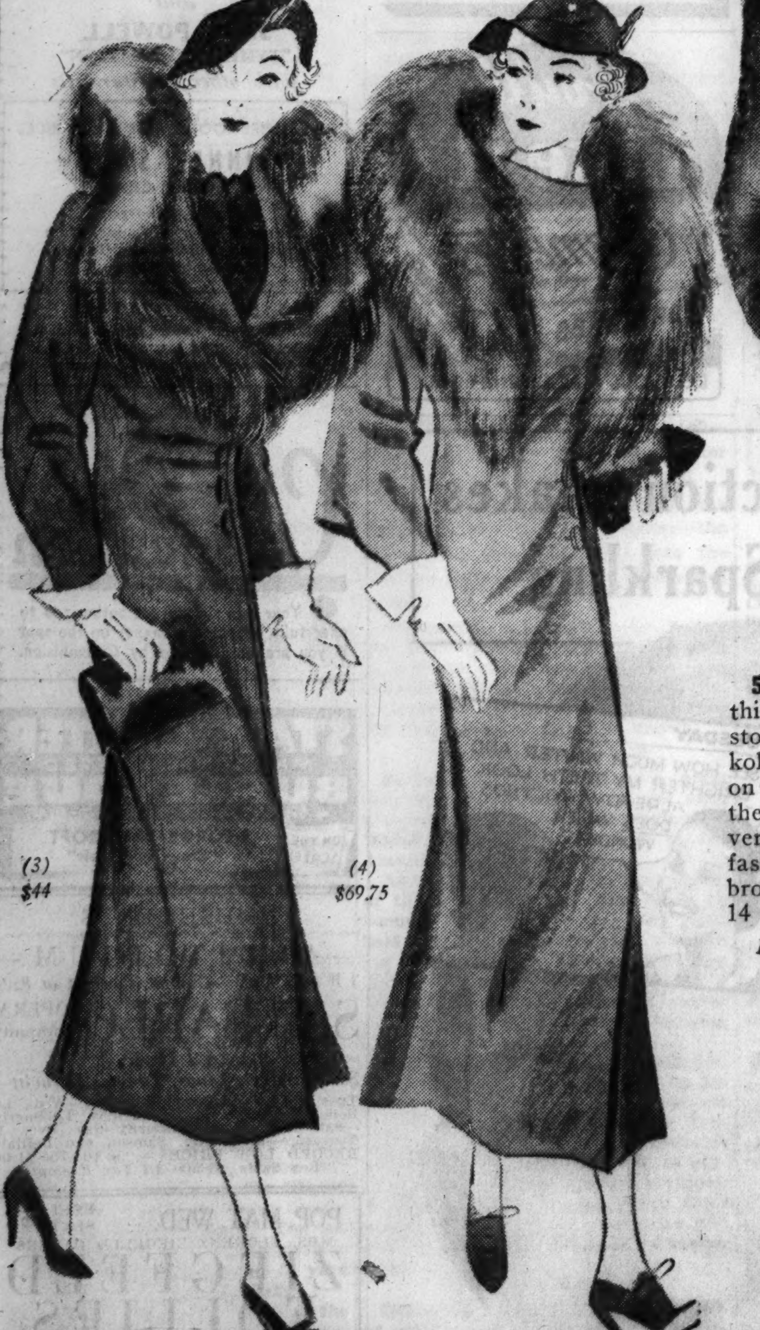
(8) $85

7. The ripple collar of caracul and ripple muff to match are the most notable features of this black wool coat, with slim body lines and just enough sleeve fullness for comfort. 14 to 42. $69.75.

Moderate Price Coats, Fourth Floor.

8. A pouch collar of badger is enchantingly young on this "12 to 20" coat in a corded woolen that is equally smart for sports or dress. In black, brown, or green; also in genuine camel's hair. $85.

Better Coats, Fourth Floor.



(3) $44

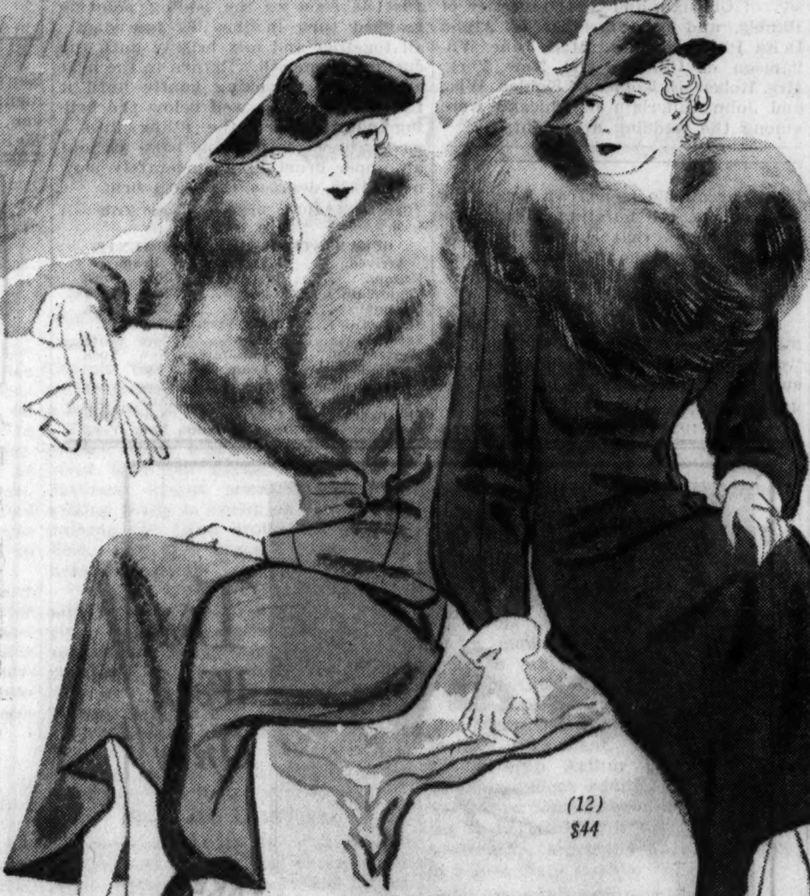
(4) $69.75

5. Fairly dripping with fur, this coat just won't stay in stock. It has an immense kolinsky collar and kolinsky on the sleeve all the way to the elbow. The collar is the versatile type that may be fastened many ways. In brown, green, black, or rust. 14 to 40. Priced at $125.

Better Coats, Fourth Floor.

6. Luxuriant silver fox, richly silvered and fashioned of selected skins, forms a huge swirly collar on a slender young coat of a soft black jacquard-weave woolen. The sleeve fullness comes to the point at the elbow in the true 1934 manner. In sizes 12 to 20. Priced at $139.75.

Better Coats, Fourth Floor.



(11) $69.75

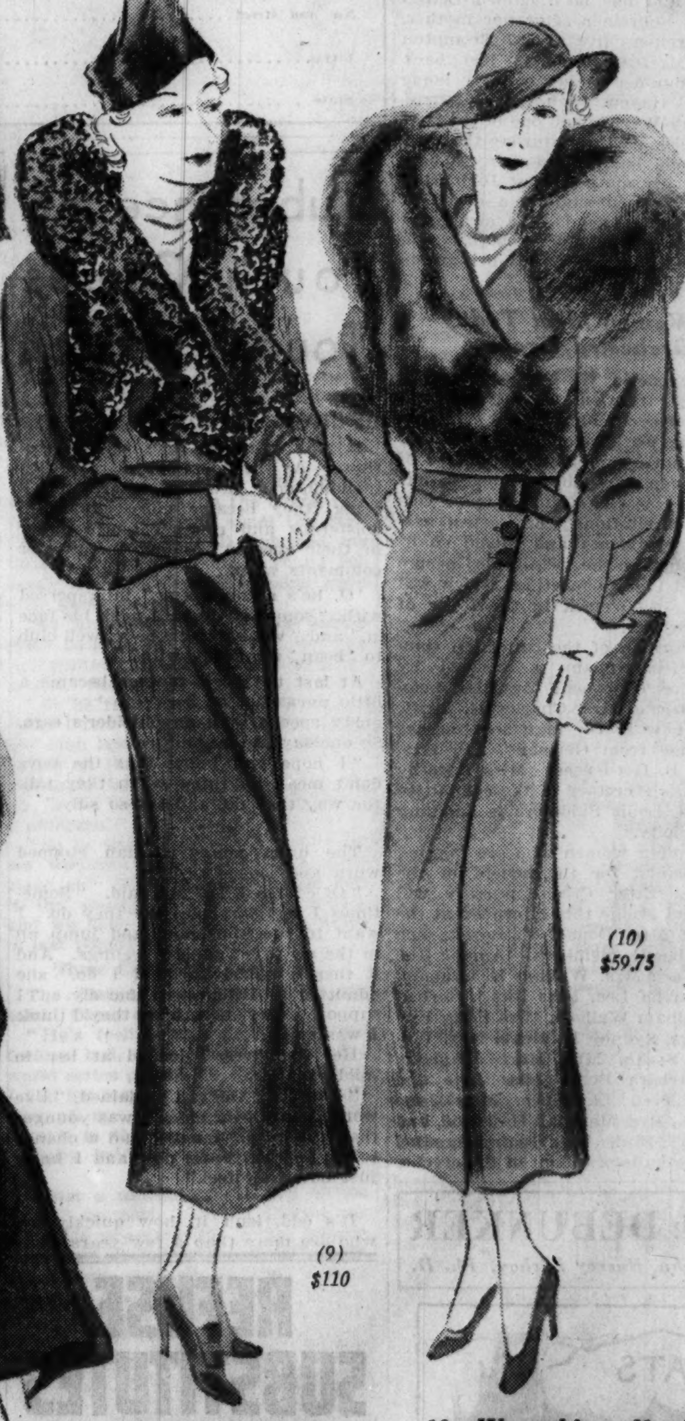
(12) $44

11. Wide, wide lapels of fluffy fox that narrow down to a close-fitting collar at the neck make a flatterer of this diagonal-weave coat which comes in brown, black, or green with blue dyed fox; or black with black fox. 12 to 20. $69.75.

Moderate Price Coats, Fourth Floor.

12. The three-way shawl collar of wolf may be worn whichever way is the most flattering on this coat of matelasse woolen. The side-closing promotes slimness of line. Black, green, brown with light wolf. 14 to 20. $44.

Moderate Price Coats, Fourth Floor.



(9) $110

(10) $59.75

9. The all black coat with Persian lamb collar is a strikingly important woman's fashion this season. In one of the soft new woolens. The collar is treated like fabric in its detail. 36 to 44. $110.

Better Coats, Fourth Floor.

10. Wear this wolf collar as a half-way shawl, or buttoned up as a pouch. The sleeve has dressmaker detail —tucks opening into elbow fullness. Black, brown, green, carioca. 12 to 20. $59.75.

Moderate Price Coats, Fourth Floor.

DODGERS WHIP GIANTS, 8-5; SCORE 3 IN 10TH

PASSES PAVE WAY FOR SCORE IN FIRST PERIOD

Clark Goes Over from 2 Yard Line.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—A touchdown scored at the end of seven minutes' play in the first period gave Detroit a 6 to 0 victory over the Chicago Cardinals in a National Football league game here tonight.

Following this touchdown, the Cardinals braced, and play was about even the balance of the game. Neither team had possession of the ball inside the other's 20 yard line. Detroit, however, held the ball a greater share of the time and gained 119 yards against the Cardinals' 66.

Clark Goes Over.

Dutch Clark was an outstanding figure in the Detroit attack, especially in the early part of the first period, when he scored the only touchdown of the game.

With Frank Christensen he made several forward passes which, mixed with line plays, took Detroit to the Cardinals' 2 yard line. After an ineffective dash off right guard, on which he lost one yard, Clark hit the same place for the score. Clark's attempt at dropkick for goal was wide.

Winning the toss, Clark kicked off over the goal line. On the first play Russell punted to Clark on Detroit's 38 yard line. A forward pass, Christensen to Clark, netted seven yards. McKalip hit right tackle for two yards and Clark passed to Christensen on the Cardinal 21 yard line. Christensen made four off right tackle and Caddel hit left tackle for two. Christensen got five more for first down on the 10 yard line. Another forward pass, Christensen to Clark, was good for eight yards. From here Clark went over.

Bernard Is Star.

The Cardinals tried 20 passes and gained 47 yards as against 67 by Detroit in eight attempts.

Creighton and Neuman were the outstanding Cardinal linemen, while Christensen and Bernard stood out for Detroit.

PACKERS, 20; GIANTS, 6

BY CHARLES NEVADA.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 30.—The Green Bay Packers, led by two former Michigan State stars, Bobby Monnett and Roger Grove, regained their victory stride here today with a 20 to 6 triumph over the New York Giants. This National Professional league football game, transferred to State Fair park from Green Bay, was witnessed by 12,000.

Monnett kicked two field goals to account for the Packers' first points in the second and third quarters. Grove followed with a 22 yard run for a touchdown. He reversed the field and eluded five or six Giant tacklers. Buckets Goldenberg, a star on defense, scored the final Green Bay touchdown in the last few minutes.

Newman Passes to Richards.

The victory, Green Bay's second in league competition this season, might have been more one-sided except for the fact that the Packers could not solve the New York passing combination of Newman to Richards. This pair clicked for a 32 yard gain and touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Green Bay today was superior in most departments of play. In first downs they outgained their rivals, 9 to 7. A break led to the Packer score in the second quarter. Newman fumbled and Goldenberg recovered on New York's 27 yard line.

Monnett Kicks Field Goal.

Hinkle and Monnett made a first down on the 16 yard mark in three smashes at the line. Three more plunges yielded only seven yards. On the next play Monnett made his first successful placement kick with Grove holding the ball.

Gantenbein's recovery of a fumble soon after the second half opened paved the way for Monnett's second field goal. The Packers came into possession of the balls on the Giants' 25 yard line. Drives by Hank Bruder and Monnett failed to gain. The latter then dropped back and registered his second field goal from the 38 yard line. Grove again held the ball.

Quick kicks placed New York in the hole a few minutes later. Grove, Bruder, and Monnett picked up 21 yards on line plays, and then Grove broke loose for his touchdown. Monnett's placement kick was good for the extra point.

The Giants put on an 80 yard march, the most sustained drive of the day, for their score. Newman passed to Stafford and Badgro to gain

Feathers Leads Bears in 21-3 Victory Over Cincinnati Reds

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 30.—Chicago's Bears, champions of the National Professional Football league, won their second consecutive victory today when they whipped the Cincinnati Reds, 21 to 3. The Bears trailed, 3 to 0, in the second quarter and went into the fourth period leading only 7 to 3. However, in the final fifteen minutes the Bears varsity shifted into high gear and ran over two more touchdowns.

Eight thousand saw the opening of the professional season in the Queen City and cheered the valiant, although ineffectual efforts of the Reds against the league champions.

Cincinnati was a markedly improved eleven over that which last Sunday was defeated, 9 to 0, by the Chicago Cardinals at Dayton. The spur of playing on home territory and the advantage of meeting the Bears' shock troops in the first quarter probably accounted for the improvement. Even when the Bears' first eleven took the field, the Reds fought back until injuries and exhaustion made them easy prey for the smashes of Bronko Nagurski and the sharp off tackle slashes of Beattie Feathers, Gene Ronzani, and Red Grange.

Mooney's Kicking Saves Reds.

Jim Mooney, a Chicago boy who once played for Georgetown and who is one of the best kickers in the professional league helped check the Bears first period offense. The Chicagoans had one opportunity when Art Buss, 218 pound tackle from Michigan State, recovered a Red fumble on Cincinnati's 27 yard line. But two line plays gained only 4 yards and after two forward passes had failed Mooney kicked out of danger.

Another punt by Mooney placed the ball on the Bears' 20 yard line as the quarter ended.

Feathers, who had come into the game with the other Bear regulars, punted out only to the Bears' 25 yard line against the wind. Algy Clark then connected with two forward passes to Mooney. With aid from Les Corzine's plunges, the Reds reached the Bears' 4 yard line. Here, on fourth down, Clark drop kicked for Cincinnati's 3 points.

The Bears gathered impetus immediately and seven minutes later they took the lead. Smashes by Nagurski and Ronzani advanced to the Reds' 35 yard line where Feathers took command. The shifty half back knifed inside of the Reds left tackle with success and on his last drive sprinted 18 yards to the goal, offering a change of pace which baffled the defensive secondary. Carl Brumbaugh, Bears quarter back, place kicked the extra point with Ronzani holding.

Passes Bother Champions.

Norris Steverson, Arizona half back, caused the Bears no end of trouble with forward passes in the third period. But the champions' misplays also served as adequate check. Cincinnati had difficulty keeping the ball under control, too, and the period was played without either team kicking. Nagurski fumbled twice and each team intercepted passes to stop impending scoring assaults.

The Bears snapped out of their lethargy at the beginning of the final quarter. From midfield, they went to the Reds' 29 yard line on successive off tackle runs by Feathers and Ronzani. After an incomplete pass the line smashing was resumed and the

The Babe Is Through; 10,000 Cheer Slugger in Last Stand

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Babe Ruth wrote the final chapter today in an amazing sports record.

For the last time—Babe said it was his final appearance as a regular—the single line, Ruth, rf, went into the starting lineup of a major league ball game.

The setting was perfect for Babe's last bow. It was a beautiful day with a brilliant sun, bands playing, ten thousand throats made hoarse by loud acclaims for the greatest popular hero the national game has ever known.

Yankees Lose, 5 to 3.

Perhaps it didn't matter a great deal that the Babe failed to get even a scratch hit or that Washington defeated the Yankees, 5 to 3, in the American league windup.

As it was, Ruth gave the fans plenty of thrills. Answering their pleas, he boomed three homers over the right field wall in practice and came through his first time up with a screaming drive that might have gone for a homer had not the Senators' center fielder made a sensational running catch.

Orville Armbrust, rookie pitcher, took no chances with the Babe on his next trip, walking him. Ruth scored a few moments later with the Yankees' second run. A hot grounder to second base and a looping fly to center field were the Babe's last gestures. After his final try in the eighth Ruth waved his cap at the spectators and hustled into the Yankees' dressing room.

He's Done His Best.

Before the game Ruth was presented with a framed testimonial parchment on which were inscribed the names of many of Babe's well-wishers in the capital.

The Yankee and Senator players crowded around Ruth at the plate, their caps off in respect and admiration for this big barrel chested fellow with the spindly legs, who has drawn more customers than any other star.

"I've been in the game for twenty-one years, and I can say that I've done my best," Ruth said, in accepting the testimonial.

The stands went wild with cheers every time Babe came to bat.

Warneke and Cavaretta Lead Attack on Pirates.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

An old campaigner and brilliant young rookie wrung a measure of enthusiasm from 10,000 chilled baseball fans who watched the Cubs finish their season's work with two victories over the Pittsburgh Pirates at Wrigley field yesterday. The scores were 8 to 2 and 7 to 5.

Lon Warneke first warmed the feelings of the faithful by a workmanlike pitching performance in the first game, during which he held the Pirates to nine hits. He meted out these hits so judiciously that Pittsburgh was unable to realize any runs until the eighth and ninth innings, in each of which it scored one run. But by that time the Cubs' victory was assured. It was Warneke's 22d triumph of the season.

Cavaretta Is Star.

The young rookie who helped to complete the success of the day was Phil Cavaretta, the 18 year old lad from Lane Tech High school, who broke into big time baseball within the last couple of weeks. It was Phil who sent the ball to the left field wall for a triple in the seventh inning of the second game, driving in Klein with the run which tied the score at 5 to 5. A minute later he feinted as if to steal home as Struss was winding up. This move apparently confused the Pirate pitcher to such an extent that he made a wild pitch, Cavaretta coming home with the winning run.

Cavaretta made three hits in four times at bat in the second game. Moreover, he made two hits during the big sixth inning attack in the first game, when the Cubs clinched victory with six runs.

FIRST GAME

Hack led off the Cubs' first inning of the first game with a double to right. Galan flied to Roettger. Then Cuyler doubled to left, scoring Hack. Production ended there but was resumed in the fourth when Hartnett hit his 22d home run of the season into the right field bleachers. No one was on base.

The Pirates meantime were getting men on base but fell victims of Warneke's strike out ball and Cubs fielding.

Cubs Open Up.

The Cubs sharpened their batting eyes and went after six runs in the last half of the sixth. Cavaretta singled over second base. Stainback sacrificed and Hartnett singled off Thevenow's glove, Cavaretta going to third. Jurges singled to right, scoring Cavaretta, Hartnett stopping at third. Warneke popped to Thevenow. Then Hack doubled down the third base line, scoring Hartnett, Jurges stopping at third. Galan singled to left, scoring Jurges and Hack.

Cuyler beat out a grounder to short when Suhr was forced to jump for Vaughan's throw, Galan taking second. Klein's fly to short center dropped between L. Waner and Thevenow, Galan scoring and Cuyler taking third. Cavaretta singled over second base, scoring Cuyler.

Pirates Break Through.

The Pirates got their first run in the eighth inning. Padden, who batted for Harris, singled to center and took second when L. Waner grounded out to Cavaretta. Jensen singled to center, Padden stopping at third. Padden scored while Roettger was grounding out, Hack to Cavaretta.

The Pirates' other run came in the ninth, when Suhr knocked a homer into the right field bleachers.

SECOND GAME

The Pirates began making it hot for Wiedemeyer in the first inning of the second game. Roettger singled off Jurges' glove, but was forced by Lloyd Waner, Galan to Jurges. Jensen was hit by a pitched ball. Brubaker forced Jensen, Jurges to Galan, Lloyd Waner taking third. Suhr then doubled over first, scoring L. Waner.

The Cubs tied the score in their

WHO'S DIZZY NOW?

Jerome (Dizzy) Dean winds up a great season by pitching his 30th victory for the St. Louis Cardinals, clinching the National league pennant. The Cincinnati Reds were Dizzy's victims yesterday, but it doesn't matter much to him what club he's facing. He lost only seven games all year.

Cochrane and Tigers Don't Fear Dean Brothers—Yet

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30.—(AP)—The fact that the St. Louis Cardinals, instead of the Giants, will oppose the Detroit Tigers in next week's world series doesn't cause Mickey Cochrane a moment's worry.

The Tiger manager dismissed the matter briefly today when he was advised that the Cards had won the National league pennant and were getting ready to swoop on Detroit and unleash the Dean brothers on Navin field. The first game will be played here Wednesday.

"We do not fear the result," he said, apparently meaning it. "They'll give us much opportunity to bat against the Dean brothers, but we'll give them the opportunity to see what they can do with Schoolboy Rowe, Tommy Bridges, and Alvin Crowder.

"The Giants had more power in their lineup than the Cardinals seem to have, but St. Louis makes up the difference with better pitching."

Has Faith in Hitters.

Outspoken though he was on the general outlook for the series, Cochrane remained noncommittal about his choice for a starting pitcher in the series opener. He indicated he probably would not make up his mind on that point until next Wednesday. His decision then will be guided by conditions at that time. He said he might use any one of his three first string pitchers—Rowe, Crowder, or Bridges—depending on who seemed most fitted for the job.

The rest of the Tiger lineup already is settled, and Cochrane is confident his group of .300 plus batters will be just as effective against the Deans of St. Louis as they might have been against Carl Hubbell and the rest of the New York staf.

CARDS YELL; DEAN SILENT

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—(AP)—The strain of their pennant drive over, the St. Louis Cardinals shouted, slapped backs, made speeches, and had their pictures taken after today's victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Only Frankie Frisch, usually silent, and Dizzy Dean, almost always ready to talk, were silent. The others, from the veteran Arthur [Dazzy] Vance down to recent additions from Cardinal farms, danced about gleefully, beating backs, shaking hands, and making wisecracks, especially about Bill Terry's New York Giants.

Dodgers Still in League.

"Brooklyn's in the league now," some one yelled. "And how!" celebrating Cardinals shouted back. "What a team, what a team," they chanted, as Manager Frisch took a seat beside Dizzy Dean on a wooden bench. The Fordham Flash and his star pitcher shook hands and chatted confidentally, in striking contrast to their actions several weeks ago when the pitcher was reinstated after a row which resulted from his failure to accompany the team to Detroit for an exhibition game. Dizzy refused to shake hands and smile for the photographer at that time.

TERRY IRKED AT FANS, DODGERS; PULLS FOR CARDS

Stengel Sorry There Are No More Giants.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 30.—There is a little wooden table, usually reserved for jovial aftergame beer parties, in the center of the bare plank floor in the Giant clubhouse at the Polo Grounds. After the final dissembling of the team's so recently high hopes this afternoon, Manager Bill Terry sat on its edge. His cap was off, his hair hung in a wet black swipe across his sweaty brow.

"I don't know what happened," he said. "I guess the best team won. I hope the Cardinals beat Detroit. I'm pulling for them."

Sore to the Last.

He spoke in a dejected mumble. The words came haltingly. A reporter tried to force an interview by suggesting Terry give a farewell message to the fans.

"Nope," he said. His lips tightened. "You can thank them if you want—not me. When I stepped out there in the tenth inning with the flag money gone and everything lost, they booed me. I thought I was in St. Louis."

Some one mentioned Brooklyn. Bill's eyes mirrored his anger.

"You can say this for me," he said. "If Stengel's team had played as hard all year as it did the last two days, it would not be in sixth place."

In the Dodger clubhouse the din was deafening. Manager Casey Stengel, clad in a bath towel draped diaper fashion about his hips, was delivering the general's farewell to his troops. His voice was hoarse from service in the coaching box. His arms threshed wildly.

The Little Darlings.

"Farewell, my bonny men. Some of you are off to maim the gentle rabbit. Some of you will shoot the carefree deer. I bid you all Godspeed, my little lamby-pies, my brave young soldats. Go with Casey's blessing upon your sweet heads!"

The erstwhile Kansas City steamfitter paused for breath. A reporter interrupted to translate Terry's remarks. Stengel grinned.

"So he feels bad, eh? How do you think I felt when he made fun of my ball club last spring before I even reported on the job?"

Stengel hooked his finger into the air, in the fashion of Cicero delivering a philippic.

"So he says if we had played hard we wouldn't have finished in sixth place, eh? Well, you can tell him that if the season lasted another month and we kept playing him, he'd finish in last place!"

Three Cheers for John Fan.

"He's feeling bad, eh? Well, I'm feeling bad, too. I didn't get any world series pay check, either. I wish I had his money. They could boo the ears off me. You've got to learn to take it in this business."

Casey held up his hand for attention.

"Just a minute, gentlemen of the press," he said. "Terry should not mind his unpopularity. I can explain it. He's just finding out he isn't drawing. Those were all Brooklyn fans in the park today who did that booing. There isn't a finer, a sweeter, a better gentleman or lady on God's green footstool than a Brooklyn fan. Three cheers for the Brooklyn fans, my hearties, and"—and he turned at this juncture to glower savagely—"the first mug that doesn't cheer gets a kick in the shins."

The entire company cheered.

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—That inglorious debacle, the 1934 Giants, passed into baseball history along with the National league season today as the enraged Brooklyn Dodgers triumphed, 8 to 5, and completed the task of vengeance they set for themselves—the boosting of the St. Louis Cardinals into the world series with Detroit.

Thus these downtrodden ball playing demons from the other side of the East river hammered home the answer to Bill Terry's now famous query, "Brooklyn? Are they still in the league?" It didn't matter much that St. Louis, whipping the Reds again, 9 to 0, needed no assistance in closing out the campaign, the greatest closing surge in baseball history.

Start Out Behind.

Faced with a four run deficit at the start, because Ray Benge surrendered four hits and a couple of bases on balls, the Dodgers, playing like world champions themselves, ran through the shattered titleholders and their all-star staf of Fred Fitzsimmons, Hal Schumacher, and Carl Hubbell to win with a three run rally off the great Hubbell in the tenth.

But long before that, though they never gave up, the Giants knew they were through. Inning by inning the scoreboard showed the Cardinals piling up runs on the Reds, and for the Giants to tie and force the first playoff series in major league history the Reds had to win.

Fitzsimmons Blows Up.

Fitzsimmons, in trouble often through the 7 1-3 innings he pitched, had blown up finally in the eighth with the score still 5 to 4, in the Giants' favor, the margin being Fitzsimmons' home run in the fourth off Dutch Leonard, a splendid relief pitcher after Benge departed.

There was no holding the Dodgers thereafter. Schumacher, trying too hard and tired anyway from the hard campaign, was both wild and ineffective. He promptly wild-pitched Sam Leslie home from second base. Leslie had reached second on a rundown forecout of Len Koenecke after the latter had singled Buzz Boyle home from second with the last run off Fitzsimmons. Boyle opened the inning with a single to right.

Strategy Goes for Naught.

That wild pitch itself was an example of the fierce, embattled game they were playing. The ball had rolled toward the Dodger dugout. Instantly Glenn Chapman, a Brooklyn rookie outfielder, swept aside the bats so there'd be a clear path for it. Gus Mancuso, racing desperately to retrieve the ball and prevent the tie, tried to kick it down the dugout. If he had succeeded, Leslie, under the ground rules, could have taken only one base and would have been sent back to third.

But all this brilliant thinking failed in the cannonading that greeted Hubbell, world series hero, when he relieved Schumacher after Leslie had singled and had gone to third on Tony Cuccinello's double. Hubbell fanned Johnny Babish, young right hander who had replaced Emil Leonard in the ninth, but he walked Don Stripp and the bases were filled.

Leonard Is Cropper.

It was the place for a great, if hopeless, gesture; and, as fate would have it, the turn came for another world series hero, Ryan, to fail. Al Lopez smashed a grounder to his right. Ryan knocked it down, picked it up, dropped it again, and it was too late to make a play. Leslie was over the plate with the only run Brooklyn needed. To make it certain Buzz Boyle slashed a single to right, scoring Cuccinello and Stripp.

LINCOLN FIELDS MAY SEE PARADE OF LONG SHOTS

Half Mile Track Stars to Try for Purses.

BY FRENCH LANE.

There were rumors flitting up and down the back stretch at Lincoln Fields during the training hour yesterday to the effect that more than one betting coup will be engineered during the final week of the autumn racing season.

Owners of champions from the half mile tracks in Canada and in this country who are shipping their breadwinners to Chicago for the fall meeting at Sportsman's park, which opens one week from today are going to match their half mile track stars with the horses from the "big line" tracks more than once at Lincoln Fields during the next six days.

They'll Bet, Too.

They will van their steeds from Sportsman's Park to Lincoln Fields for the engagements and are reported ready to wager considerable money that their horses can run just as fast over the mile and a sixteenth course at Lincoln Fields as they have been running on the half mile circuits.

A glance through the entry list fails to show that any of these mysterious strangers will go into action today, but you may be sure that the entry lists will be scanned closely during the remaining days of racing at Lincoln Fields for horses that have been making the sharp mile track turns at top speed.

There are some royally bred horses among these half mile track performers, yet for the most part little is known about their present condition. They have been doing their conditioning work at Sportsman's Park while the clockers who check up on such activity have had their split second tick-tock machines buzzing at Lincoln Fields, many miles away.

Few of the half mile stars are likely to appear in the overnight handicaps at Lincoln Fields. Still they can be expected to become a threat whenever they appear in a claiming race.

Juveniles Clash Today.

Two year olds will come together in the best race on the program which opens the final week of the Lincoln Fields season this afternoon. It promises to be an exciting battle for Watonga, owned by Wood F. Axton, the Louisville tobacco magnate, and French Princess and Chiclard from Mrs. John Marsch's stable had many backers among the overnight speculators.

French Princess will be making the second start of her career. The speed she has shown during the training hour lately has been sensational, yet in her first start last week she ran fifth in a nine horse field.

She is a daughter of Epinard-Ruddy Light and is a full sister to Siskin and Hygro, which were among the speediest horses in America when they were 2 year olds. French Princess was growing so fast early this season that no attempt was made to get her to the races until the last few weeks.

Should she develop like Hygro and Siskin did late in their 2 year old campaign she may cause plenty of trouble among the leading juveniles before the fall season ends. Chiclard, her running campanion this afternoon, is also a daughter of Epinard.

Illinois Race Tracks Seek Cut in Taxes

Owners of race tracks in Illinois, after a disastrous season financially, soon will ask the Illinois racing commission for tax relief legislation, it was reported yesterday.

No definite measures for relief have been adopted although several have been suggested.

Under the present law the state gets 20 cents on each admission ticket and the federal government 10 per cent of the price of the ticket. Daily tax to the state at Arlington Park, Washington Park, Hawthorne, and Sportsman's Park is $2,500. At Lincoln Fields, Fairmount, and Aurora it is $1,500.

Every track in the state has operated at a loss so far this season, the owners report, although the loss at Arlington Park and Hawthorne was said to have been small.

One suggestion made to the commission, which is reported to be getting some consideration, is that the daily tax be abolished and the take from the mutual betting be increased from 6½ per cent to 8 per cent, the state to get the added 1½ per cent. The track owners claim this will amount over a period of six months to more than the $1,500 and $2,500 in daily fees.

Peter B. Carey and the members of the racing commission would make no comment on the proposed changes in the law. They admitted they were aware that racing has been operated in Illinois at a loss to the track owners this year, but that they believed it was up to the tracks to tell them just what they wanted in the way of relief.

NOONAN'S EAGLE WINS OHIO OPEN GOLF TOURNEY

Columbus, O., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Jim Noonan, pro at the Lansing Airport club, Chicago, pulled a No. 7 iron from his bag on the 67th hole of the Columbus open at Scioto Country club today and hit the shot which won the tourney and $600 first prize money.

The No. 7 iron shot went into the cup for an eagle two on the 449 yard hole. The 160 yard pitch landed on the green, hopped once, and bounded into the cup. He finished with a 70, giving him an even par 288 for the 72 holes, and a two stroke edge over Willie Goggin of San Francisco, who finished second.

In the third spot was Al Espinosa of Akron, O., open champion in 1932 and 1933, who also came in with a 70 for 291. Denny Shute of Philadelphia clicked into fourth place with 295.

U. S. Women's Golf Tourney Opens Today

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Six youngsters, averaging 16 years in age and playing in the national women's golf championship tournament for the first time, stand out prominently in the challenge of 148 to the continuation of the two year reign of Virginia Van Wie, who begins defense of her title tomorrow.

The tournament opens with an 18 hole qualifying round. The qualifying fold is limited to 64. Six rounds of match play will follow within a space of five days, with the 36 hole test on Saturday. All intervening matches will be at 18 holes.

Betty Jameson Youngest.

Rated after Miss Jameson is 17 year old Pamela Barton, the stocky English lass who startled British golf followers this summer by going to the finals of her native championship tournament.

Dorothy Kirby, 14, of Atlanta, who won the 1934 Georgia state championship, is, like her fellow citizen, Bob Jones, playing in a national championship for the first time at 14 years of age and in the Philadelphia district. Jones made his debut in the amateur at Merion in 1916. The other youngsters are Betsy MacLeod of Buffalo, 16; Gail Wild of Cranford, N. J., 17, and Dorothy Traung, 16, of San Francisco.

Foreign Invaders Strong.

The not remote possibility of the title going abroad for the first time since 1913, when Gladys Ravenscroft took it back to England, must be reckoned seriously, what with the British empire invasion, including Molla Gourlay, Mrs. L. B. Walker, Diana Plumpton, Mrs. George Coats, Mrs. Alex Gold, Doris Chambers, Diana Fishwick, and Wanda Morgan, in addition to Miss Barton, from England; Ada Mackenzie, former Canadian titleholder, and Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen of Toronto, and Nancy Pearman, Bermuda champion.

NORWEGIANS WIN FROM BROOKLYN IN LAST MINUTE

A last minute goal by Eid, his second of the game, yesterday enabled the Chicago Norwegian soccer team to defeat the Brooklyn, N. Y., Norwegians, 2 to 1, at 4600 West Fullerton avenue. Eid kicked in his first goal two minutes after the contest started.

The easterners took the offensive thereafter, but Martins, Chicago goalie, made several remarkable stops to head off the Brooklyn offensive. Drawstad finally booted one into the net late in the final period to tie the score. The lineups:

Three first round games for the Buda cup were played yesterday, the Armours beating Ravenswood, 9 to 0; Harvey United, defending champions, defeated the MacDuffs, and Calumet Park won, 3 to 1, from Indiana Harbor.

Sparta defeated the Maccabee All-Stars, 3 to 0, and the champion Wieboldt Wonderbolts routed the Hungarian-Americans, 7 to 1, in other games played yesterday.

SCHNEIDER WINS ALL RACES ON EVANSTON CARD

Jimmy Schneider, Evanston, who along with Ted Tetterton, North Chicago, has risen to stardom by sensational driving in the weekly Evanston Motor speedway programs had a field day yesterday at the Lincoln and Devon track, winning all four events on the program.

Two of Schneider's victories were scored over Tetterton, who previous to last week, had run up nine straight triumphs.

CAROL WINS BLUE YACHT SERIES TO SHERIDAN SHORE

Carol, Hal Elliott's and Sam Gass' Star class sloop, won the fifth and deciding race of the Sheridan Shore Yacht club's Blue series. Carol's time for the seven mile course was 1:37:30.

Bob Kendig's Silver Spray was runner-up, followed within four seconds by Walter Stockton in his Walrus.

McLaughlin's 156 Wins in Powwow Golf

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

George F. McLaughlin, a brave from the home wigwam, led the war dance yesterday following the conclusion of the Onwentsia club's 22d annual powwow. McLaughlin shot 78—78—156 for the two days' play to win the low gross prize. A majority of the original starting field of 200 carried on through yesterday's final 18 holes.

O. W. Johnson led the net scorers, taking 176 strokes for the 36 holes, which, with a handicap of 30, gave him a card of 146. The low net foursome was composed of Kingman Douglass, 179—18—161; D. B. Fulton, 177—18—159; Peter Berkey, 173—28—145, and Kimball Salisbury, 160—14—146. Their net aggregate was 611.

MacMurray Wins Low Net.

Donald MacMurray won individual low net yesterday with an 83—11—72, while the low net twosome included Charley Ilsley, 87—13—74, and D. O. Cottrell, 93—15—78, with a combined total of 152. The best gross on the short holes for the two days was a 25, scored by Dexter Cummings.

Heading Saturday's prize winners was a low net foursome, comprised of John D. Ames, 76—0—76; J. C. Evans, 86—14—72; Elliott Detchon, 95—15—80, and C. W. Littlefield, 97—19—78. Their total was 306.

Individual low net winners for the first 18 holes were Francis R. Blossom in class A with 82—7—75, Fred A. Preston in class B with 89—19—70, and M. M. Brown in class C with 96—23—73.

MIDWEST LEAGUE MEETS.

Little, Armour Golf Exhibition Ends All Even

Staging a rally at the last two holes yesterday at Medinah Country club, Sandy Armour, one of the home professionals, and Lawson Little, San Francisco, British and American amateur champion, finished all even with Tommy Armour and Peter Raap in an exhibition golf match.

The contest was played over the No. 3 course, and 2,000 members and guests watched the sharpshooters. Home club fans staged a demonstration when Sandy Armour shaded par at the last two holes to square the contest.

Little's driver was working, but he was short on several pitch shots and used an extra putt at the second green. Tommy Armour was the most consistent of the four.

All were over par at the sixteenth, but on the next hole Sandy sank an eight foot putt for a deuce. He followed with another birdie at the last hole to even the match.

The individual cards follow:

Par—Out	434	454	534—36
Par—In	544	534	434—36—72
Tommy Armour—Out	434	554	534—37

Cox, Corbett Meet Tonight at Marigold

Tracey Cox, Indianapolis, Ind., one of the leading contenders for Barney Ross' junior welterweight boxing championship, tonight will make his first Chicago appearance since February in a ten round windup bout against the shifty Tommy Corbett of Omaha, Neb., at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street.

Cox is confident that the sorrowful ending of his latest trip here when he lost a ten round decision to Harry Dublinsky at the Stadium will not be repeated. His record since then tends to bear out this confidence. Bouts this year include knockouts over Eddie Ran, Ervin Berlier, Carlos Garcia, and Lou Avery and a verdict over Tony Herrera.

Mike [Little Pal] Primitch, Indiana Harbor featherweight youngster, will oppose Charles Mack in the six round semi-final. Four rounders will match Fred Cheynoweth with Billy Gladstone, Milt Aaron with Billy Renn, and Joey Mandell with Hans Schamon. Buck O'Neil will wrestle Henry Forman in the opening encounter.

Earl Mastro, who fought Bat Battalino for the featherweight title in Chicago three years ago, will present the second of a series of amateur shows tonight at Community Recreation center, 4711 West Madison street. James C. Mullen, veteran promoter, will referee one of the eight matches scheduled. The card includes the following encounters:

John Walsh vs. Whitey Bree, 160.
George Nelson vs. John Plavonitch, 147.
Benny Hauser vs. Bob Tinsley, 130.
Sam de Pasquale vs. Armond Morell, 126.
George Snoddy vs. Eric Soderberg, heavyweights.
Lou Maron vs. Sam de Fily, 140.

Play Northwest Softball Tourney Finals Tonight

Postponed twice because of rain, the semi-finals and finals in the Northwest parks' softball tournament will be played tonight at Spencer Coal field, Central and Berteau avenues. The semi-final games will send the La Vergue A. C. of Jefferson Park against the Rudy Boosters of Norwood Park and the Charley Taverns of Portage Park against the Jay Schillers of Albany Park. The winners will clash in a third game for the championship.

ST. RITA DEFEATS ST. PHILIP, 7-0, IN PRACTICE GAME

St. Michael, Mt. Carmel, Leo Also Triumph.

St. Rita yesterday staged a fourth quarter passing attack to defeat St. Philip, 7 to 0, at St. Rita field in a practice game. Badke, left end for the winners, pulled down a pass from Pyrz, full back, and raced ten yards for the only touchdown. Etten then made good the extra point.

The losers several times threatened to score, once reaching the St. Rita three yard line. St. Rita held, however, and obtained possession of the ball on downs. St. Philip also went deep into the winner's territory in the second period.

Weides Blocks Punt.

St. Michael also won in the final quarter from Weber in a game played at St. Philip field. The score was 6 to 0, the touchdown coming after a blocked punt. Weides, center, smashed through to deflect a Weber kick, St. Michael recovering on the loser's 20 yard line. Two passes were incompleted before Mangerich dropped one into the hands of Frisch, the latter dashing into the end zone.

Mount Carmel had no trouble defeating Catholic of Joliet, 19 to 0, at White City yesterday. Dockery accounted for the first touchdown on a reverse play in the second period, scoring from the three yard line. John Pietraszewski also plowed across from three yards out in the fourth quarter, and a few moments later intercepted a forward pass and sped 45 yards for his second touchdown.

Leo Has Easy Time.

Leo had an easy game, whipping St. Mary's freshmen, 18 to 0, at Shewbridge field. Brennan opened the scoring when he grabbed a long pass from Hal Bowen and sprinted across the goal line. Bowen went over from the three yard line in the second quarter, and Prosek drove outside tackle for five yards and another touchdown in the final 30 seconds of the game. Scores:

BABY RUTHS AND BLUE RIBBONS WIN THREE EACH

The Baby Ruth team and the Pabst Blue Ribbons each won three games last night in the Classic league at the Garden Recreation. The Baby Ruths took them from the Edelweiss and the Pabst won from the Classics. This increased their lead one game over the Vrba Motors, who took two from the La Salle Windsors. Scores:

In the WAKE of the NEWS

EARLIER CHICAGO.

DEAR Wake: In the late '80s cattle often ran amuck on the south side in the district within 51st and 53d streets and Morgan street and Racine [Center] avenue.

At one time a wild steer escaped from the stockyards, ran down Racine avenue, and entered our neighborhood with a mad rush. Immediately panic ensued. People called excitedly, "Wild steer! Wild steer!" Dogs barked furiously for the chase and mothers shouted for their children to come into the house.

On another occasion an escaped steer which had been pursued by two cowboys turned at bay in May street between 54th and 55th streets. At that time a three board fence inclosed Gaylor's acreage on each side. The street itself was merely a grassy intersection.

From my vantage point on top of this fence I watched a cowboy named "Motto" Welch attempt to lasso the animal. Somehow he dropped his rope and in trying to recover it lost his balance, fell from his pony. Gasping with horror I anticipated his untimely end as the steer made a rush for him.

"Motto," however, lay prone and courageously "played dead." The steer sniffed of him, exhaled a terrific snort and ran a little farther up the street, where he was captured and taken back to the yards in a dray.

They're wrecking the old Centenary M. E. church at West Monroe and Morgan streets. This house of worship was erected back in the '70s. It was one of Chicago's leading churches at the time. Dr. H. W. Thomas was pastor. The congregation was composed of prominent west side families. I remember attending services there in '77 and marveling at the seeming affluence of the parishioners. Some time later Dr. Thomas organized the Peoples' church, which held meetings in Hooley's theater. The old church of late years has been operated as a sales depot of the Goodwill Industries, Inc.

Harvest Rhymes.

I've had dictation from a score of men,
And taken commands by pencil and pen;
But there's one request distinct from the mass:
"Go down in the cellar and pick out your 'sass'."

It brings to mind my trips back home
To the old red house with its fields of loam,
And the voice of my father: "Hello, my lass,
Go down in the cellar and pick out your 'sass'."

Rows of jars with great red cherries,
Strawberries, peaches, and huge blackberries,
Thorn apple jell, plums purple through the glass.
Well, wasn't it perplexing to pick out your "sass"?

The farm is gone and over the hill
Is a long green mound, and the voice that is still Lives now in my heart, as the weary years pass:
"Down in the cellar is your favorite 'sass'."

SOX WIN FROM INDIANS, 9-5, BUT LOSE SECOND, 5-3

Nobody Objects as Darkness Halts Play.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., Sept. 30.—The cellar dwelling Chicago White Sox and the third place Cleveland Indians did the gentlemanly thing today while concluding their year's work. Each grabbed a piece of the afternoon's valueless loot. The Sox took their share, 9 to 5, in the front half of a double-header, and the home athletes evened up by taking the second half, 5 to 3, in five innings.

The latter affair was cut short by darkness and no objections were voiced when the umpires called a halt. The crowd of 7,500 by that time had seen enough daffy baseball to last them for an indefinite period.

Zeke Saves That .300.

Zeke Bonura, the Sox's leading hitter and first baseman, wasn't able to work this afternoon. For breakfast this morning Zeke treated himself to two orders of fruit, a portion of cereal, a large gathering of sausages, two cups of coffee and an unknown quantity of toast. An hour or so later Zeke sent out word that pains in the abdominal region had forced him to take to his bed. Manager Dykes had a different idea about the case. He suspected that Zeke, having a .300 batting average, didn't care to run the risk of being knocked out of the select circle the last day.

Between games the 7,500 spectators were given an extra run for their money by a series of field events in which both the Sox and Indians participated. Simmons won the fungo hitting with a tap of 428 feet 6 inches. Trosky took the throwing for distance with a toss of 376 feet 2 inches. Swanson won the base circling sprint in 14 4-5 seconds. Accuracy in pitching went to Tietje after a four way tie. The catchers' throwing contest was captured by Pat Gharrity, the Indian coach.

FIRST GAME

The center of activity in the first game was one Bill Perrin, a southpaw just called in from Toledo by the Indians. The Sox refused to take him seriously and his debut came a cropper after five innings. The youngster found his chief tormentor in Simmons, who turned out a perfect performance of five hits. Four of these were off Perrin and three figured in production that totaled 9 runs before the freshman pitcher could be given relief.

George Caithamer, the Chicago semipro catcher, also was a busy young fellow at bat. He nicked Perrin for a double and single and produced another single during Rescuer Lloyd Brown's régime.

The quantity of runs collected off Perrin made it comparatively easy for Ted Lyons to conclude his year's work with 11 victories against 13 defeats. The veteran had only one real bad inning. That was the third, when Hal Trosky whacked his 35th homer of the season over the right field wall. Two were on base at the moment. Another bit of annoyance for Ted came unexpectedly from Simmons. He became a bit too nonchalant about catching a fly in the first inning. The ball slipped through his hands and a run resulted.

SECOND GAME

The second game was orderly until the third, when the Sox put pressure on Ralph Winegarner for three runs. Madjeski started this with a double and scored on a single by Conlan. Hayes also singled and with Conlan pulled a double steal of second and third. One of them scored on Swanson's squeeze bunt and the other on a long fly by Dykes.

The Indians countered with two runs off Vernon Kennedy, the Sox rookie, in their half of the third. The young man walked Winegarner and Galatzer. Hits by Averill and Trosky did the rest. The conclusion of this disturbance also was the conclusion of Kennedy's pitching.

Joe Heving, successor of Kennedy, protected the one run lead until the fifth, when a blast of three hits and a pass moved three Indians across the plate. Trosky and Vosmik singled, and Hale walked. With the bags filled Burnett doubled to score Trosky and Vosmik. Hale registered the final run on Knickerbocker's fly to Radcliff.

Cubs Win Two to End Year's Play, 8-2, 7-5

half of the inning. Hack beat out a bunt toward third and Galan and Babe Herman walked, filling the bases. Klein was called out on strikes, but Cavaretta flied to Roettger, Hack scoring after the catch.

Pirates Keep Ahead.

The next scoring occurred in the Pirates' half of the fourth. Brubaker singled through the pitcher's box and Grace beat out a grounder to Galan. Young was safe on a bunt, filling the bases. Brubaker was forced at the plate on Lavagetto's grounder to Hack. Grace, however, scored when Veltman beat out a high bounder over third to Jurges. Struss doubled to the left field wall, scoring Young and Lavagetto.

The Cubs got another run in the same inning. With one out, Cavaretta beat out a grounder to deep short. Stainback walked. Then Cavaretta scored from second when Young fumbled O'Farrell's grounder.

Joiner Comes In.

Wiedemeyer was replaced by Joiner in the fifth after Jensen had tripled to right center and scored on Brubaker's double to left. Joiner got the side out. The Cubs came back for another run in their half. With one out, Hack singled to right, Galan flied to Roettger. Babe Herman singled through the pitcher's box, Hack stopping at third. Klein walked, filling the bases. Lavagetto then knocked down Cavaretta's hot grounder, but before he could make a play Hack had scored and Cavaretta was safe at first.

The Cubs drew closer to their opponents in the sixth. With one out, Jurges walked. Phelps batted for Joiner and singled to center, Jurges going to third. Hack forced Phelps, Young to Lavagetto, Jurges scoring. They took the lead in the seventh. After one was out, Klein walked. Then Cavaretta tripled to the wall in left center, scoring Klein with the tying run. Young threw out Stainback, Cavaretta holding third. On a wild pitch Cavaretta scored.

Another Cub run in the eighth concluded the season's scoring. After Smith had gone in to pitch for the Pirates, Jurges singled to left. Bush struck out. Hack singled to center, Jurges going to third. Jurges then scored on Galan's scratch single.

CARDS FAVORED AT 7-10 TO WIN WORLD SERIES

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Tom Kearney, St. Louis betting commissioner, tonight made the Cardinals 7 to 10 favorites to win the world series.

Detroit is held at even money. Other odds included two to one that the Cardinals do not win the first two games, and one to three that Detroit loses the first two.

PARROTS TIE LEMONT.

Braves Defeat Phillies Twice; Win 4th Place

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30.—(AP)—The Boston Braves clinched fourth place in the National league today by winning a double-header from the Phillies. Boston won the first, 4 to 3, in ten innings, and the second, 5 to 4, in a contest cut to seven innings because of darkness.

The Braves won each game by last inning rallies. In the tenth inning of the first encounter, with the score deadlocked at 3 to 3, Wally Berger doubled and Randy Moore singled to send in the winning run. In the seventh inning of the second game the Braves trailed, 4 to 3, when hits by Mowery, Lee, Moore, and Pyler mixed with an error by Chiozza pushed the deciding runs over. Scores:

Cards Defeat Reds, 9-0, to Win Pennant

Dizzy Strikes Out Seven.

The attack, for instance, included two homers, Bill Delancey's No. 13 and Rip Collins' No. 35. Collins' swat gave him a tie with the crestfallen Mel Ott of the Giants for the National league homer honors. Delancey made three hits and drew a pass in five times at bat. His first hit, a single, drove in the Cards' first two runs in the first inning and his third hit, a single, drove in the Cards' last run.

Manager Frisch was active on the offensive with two single and a double. He scored two of the Cards' runs.

Dean had seven strikeouts to bring his total for the season to 196, three under the total with which he led the league last year and five above the total with which he led the league in 1932, his first year as a regular.

Dizzy today allowed seven hits, the same number he allowed day before yesterday, when he also struck out seven.

Dizzy to Start if Ready.

The Cards will leave tomorrow night for Detroit, where the world series opens Wednesday. The fact that they haven't decided on their Detroit headquarters will give you some idea of how they have been concentrating on winning the pennant before thinking about the playing of the world series.

Frisch said after the game that he had not decided on his starting pitcher, preferring to wait until he sees if Dizzy Dean is tired as a result of his frequent appearances in the pennant drive. It is a safe bet that Dizzy will start if he wants to, and he'll want to unless improbably complications set in.

Frisch says that he will probably go through the series with Dizzy and Paul Dean, Carleton, and Hallahan as his starting eligibles, Walker being currently eliminated by a sore arm developed in the opener of the Cincinnati series, after he had beaten Lon Warneke in Chicago last Monday.

Squawk About Umpiring.

The Reds went out in order in the first, but the third out precipitated the first real squawk of the series against the umpiring. Adams flied to Medwick and Slade was called out on strikes. Koenig then lined the ball to right center. Orsatti made a dive to get his hands over the ball, then somersaulted. As he sprawled, with his back to the diamond, it was apparent from the high press stand that he was grabbing for something, presumably the ball. Umpire Reardon, who was blocked from a view of the ball, ruled a fair catch, bringing protests from many players in a position to see what happened, but the Reardon decision stood.

Martin got the Cardinal offensive under way none too auspiciously. He fanned. Rothrock, however, lined a single to center and stopped at second on Frisch's single to left. Rothrock went to third and Frisch held first on Medwick's fly to Schulmerich, but the bases became loaded when Collins walked. Delancey drove the ball against the right field screen. By perfect handling Schulmerich held the smack to a single, but even so, Rothrock and Frisch scored and Collins raced to third. Orsotti lined to Pool.

Bottomley Out of Luck.

Bottomley launched the second inning with a line single to right, but was forced by Pool on a swell play by Durocher. Schulmerich fouled to Delancey and Comorosky forced Pool. The Cards went out in order in their second inning.

In the third Dizzy fanned Manion and Johnson and threw out Adams. In the home half Frisch doubled to left center for his second hit, but was doubled off the bag after Medwick lined to Adams.

Koenig singled with one down in the fourth for the second Red hit and held on while Bottomley flied to Rothrock. Pool grounded to Frisch back of second and Frankie dived and slid to the bag to force Koenig.

Johnson lost control in the St. Louis fourth and gave way to Frey after he had loaded the bases with none out. Collins was hit by a pitched ball and took second on what was scored as a passed ball. Johnson then walked Delancey and Orsatti, whereupon Frey was called in. Durocher singled to right, Collins scoring and the bases remaining loaded. Dean then forced Delancey at the plate, Slade to Manion. Martin singled to center, Orsatti and Durocher scoring. Dean and Martin moved up while Adams was making a nice play to throw out Rothrock, but the side was out when Adams threw out Frisch.

Delancey Hits Homer.

Comorosky dropped a double on the right foul line with one out in the fifth for the third hit off Dean. It was a bit flukey, for Frisch, Rothrock, and Collins stood around while the ball plunked. Comorosky held second while Durocher threw out Manion and died when Frey flied to Medwick.

Medwick and Collins fouled to Bottomley in the home fifth, but Delancey socked his No. 13 homer onto the roof beyond right center. Orsatti dropped a single back of short and stole second. The inning ended with Durocher's foul to Manion.

After Adams had fouled to Delancey and Slade had fouled to Martin, Koenig doubled to left for his second and the Reds' fourth hit off Dean. Bottomley then fanned.

Two Reds Get On Base.

The seventh was the first inning in which Dean allowed two runners to get on base. Pool opened with a single over second which Frisch grabbed without a chance to make a throw to first. Schulmerich fouled to Delancey. Comorosky walked. Manion flied to Rothrock and McCormick, batting for Frey, forced Comorosky, Durocher to Frisch.

Stout went in to pitch for the Reds in the seventh and his first act was to issue a pass to Medwick. Collins then lined a homer over the right field pavilion. It was Rip's 35th homer of the season. Delancey and Orsatti fanned and then Durocher singled to left. Dean also singled to left, Durocher stopping at second. Martin ended the inning with a foul to Bottomley.

Adams walked to start the eighth. Then Slade became Dean's fifth strikeout victim. Frisch threw out Koenig. Collins took Bottomley's grounder and Dean made a nice catch at first for the out.

After one was out in the Cards' eighth Frisch singled to left for his third hit and the Cardinals' 13th hit. Medwick then struck out. Collins walked. Delancey singled to right, his third run producing hit, Frisch scoring. Orsatti forced Delancey.

Paul Warms Up.

In the ninth the Reds filled the bases with none out when Pool and Schulmerich singled to left and Comorosky walked. At this time Brother Paul Dean started warming up in the bull pen.

Delancey missed a foul from Manion when he slipped in the mud against the grandstand wall in back of the plate. After fouling off two more Manion then struck out. Petosky, the Michigan end last year, went in to bat for Stout. Petosky also fanned.

When Adams fouled to Delancey a cordon of police rushed out and rescued Dean, first from his excited teammates and then from the spectators who swarmed on the field. The players attempted to lift Dean to their shoulders, but Dizzy fought himself free and took the ball away from Delancey before making his dash to the dugout runway.

LOU GEHRIG, .363; PAUL WANER, .362; TOP BIG LEAGUES

New York, Sept. 30. — (AP) — Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees and Paul Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates were listed as the 1934 batting champions of the American and National leagues, respectively, today.

Unofficial averages through the final games of the season credited Waner with a .362 average, a ten point margin over his nearest rival, Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants. Gehrig, who won a close race with Charley Gehringer of the champion Detroit Tigers today by hitting three times in four trips to the plate to add four points to his mark, ended with an unofficial average of .363.

Bears Win, 21 to 3, Over Cincinnati

Bears reached Cincinnati's 6 yard line. On second down Nagurski plowed through for the touchdown and Jack Manders came in to place kick the extra point.

Bear regulars were relieved here and Red Grange came in at left half back, from which position he scored the final touchdown on a dash around the Reds left end from the 2 yard line.

Buss had set the stage for this play by recovering the ball on the Reds' 14 yard line when Gil Lefebvre's kick was blocked. Line smashes advanced the ball to the 2 yard line and Grange took it over. Manders, with Ronzani holding, place kicked the final point.

Bears Come Home.

Grange also broke away in midfield for a run of 17 yards, but the Bears could not continue the attack. Cincinnati then resorted to passes, failing, however, to complete two in succession.

The Bears returned to Chicago tonight to prepare for their eastern trip which takes them to Brooklyn next Sunday.

Cochrane Gives Starting Series Pitchers Work.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Scoring their one hundred and first victory in the second game today the Detroit Tigers swept a double header with the St. Louis Browns to end their American league schedule and prepared to meet the invasion of the St. Louis Cardinals here this week.

Detroit won the double header, 10 to 6 and 6 to 2, Manager Mickey Cochrane getting a chance to work out all four of the pitchers he plans to use in the world series.

RED SOX, ATHLETICS SPLIT.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 30—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox and the Philadelphia Athletics ended the American league season here this afternoon by dividing a double-header. Yielding only eight scattered hits, George Hockette, young southpaw, pitched Boston to a 5 to 0 victory in the first game. Johnny Marcum then held the Red Sox to five hits and, largely due to a homer by Pinky Higgins, won the final game for the A's, 4 to 2.

HARRY ASKIN, 67, SOUSA MANAGER, TAKEN BY DEATH

Also Directed Tour by Lillian Russell.

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Harry Askin, 67, manager for Lillian Russell and John Philip Sousa, is dead following a heart attack.

During the last 15 years of Sousa's life Askin made bookings for the band leader which have become classics in the theatrical world.

Speedy Concert Trips.

The manager discovered that in many cities Sousa could be depended upon for one packed house, but two were too many. So Sousa began to find himself playing a matinee in one city and then packing up and traveling 50 miles or more to another town for an evening performance. Once Askin jumped Sousa from Seattle to Miami in nine days, with concerts in 13 cities. In 1924, when Sousa was 70 years old, Askin booked him from Regina, Saskatchewan, to Philadelphia in eight days, with appearances in Winnipeg, Port William, Sudbury, and Ottawa in Canada, and Lake Placid in northern New York. He once said "the majority of the speed records of American railroads were made hauling Sousa specials."

Managed "Brigands" Tour.

He managed Miss Russell in a tour of "The Brigands." About 1900 he became manager of the La Salle Opera house in Chicago.

Returning to New York, he one year kept five companies touring with "The Christian." Stars he directed during this period included Otis Skinner, Eleanor Robson, and James O'Neill, father of Eugene O'Neill.

RITES TOMORROW FOR ALICE HOGAN, SCHOOL VETERAN

Funeral services for Miss Alice A. Hogan, 1228 Columbia avenue, a teacher in the Chicago public schools for 42 years, who died Friday in Cassopolis, Mich., will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow at St. Ignatius' church, 6559 Glenwood avenue. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Miss Hogan was born in Cohoes, N. Y., in 1859 and came to Chicago 70 years ago. She retired from teaching in September, 1922, after 32 years as principal of the Rogers school. Death occurred at her summer home.

Miss Hogan is survived by a brother, William F., of 138 South 19th avenue, Maywood, and two sisters, Kathleen E., and Mrs. Percy W. Cruickshank, both of the Columbia avenue address.

FUNERAL TODAY FOR IVES, ILLINOIS CIVIL WAR VET

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 30.—[Special.] — Funeral services for Almon Theodore Ives, commander of William T. Sherman post of the G. A. R., Bloomington, will be held here tomorrow. State officers of the G. A. R. will take part in the rites.

Had Mr. Ives lived until Nov. 5, he would have been 91 years old. For the last 81 years Bloomington has been his home.

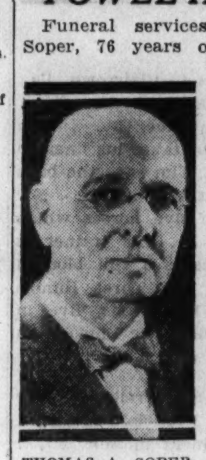
THOMAS A. SOPER DIES; PIONEER IN TOWEL INDUSTRY



THOMAS A. SOPER.

Funeral services for Thomas A. Soper, 76 years old, 6156 Kimbark avenue, a pioneer in the towel supply business, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from the chapel at 63d street and Harvard avenue. Interment will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

Mr. Soper came to Chicago 42 years ago from Devonshire, England. In 1892 he helped found the Chicago Towel Co., and served as secretary and treasurer until his retirement six years ago. He died Saturday at the Wesley Memorial hospital after an illness of several years. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Dora Soper.

EX-SEN. SHIELDS OF TENNESSEE IS DEAD AT 76 YEARS

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Former United States Senator John K. Shields, who came into national prominence by his sharp disagreement with President Wilson over the league of nations proposal, died today at his country estate, Clinchdale, in Grainger county. He was 76 years old.

During the league fight Charles M. McCabe of Nashville, now collector of internal revenue for Tennessee and formerly Senator Shields' secretary, made a special trip to Washington to urge support of the President.

"I told him," McCabe resalled, "the people of Tennessee were with President Wilson and it would mean his defeat if he opposed it. He agreed with me and said he thought it would defeat him, but he thought he was right and was going to vote his conviction."

ILLNESS FATAL TO MRS. WEYMAN IN MICHIGAN CITY

Mrs. Lillian Johnson Weyman, 44 years old, wife of Peter F. Weyman, western representative of the Magor Car Manufacturing Company of New York, died yesterday in St. Anthony's hospital, Michigan City, Ind., after a three months' illness. Mrs. Weyman was born in Chicago, the daughter of Otto Johnson, a contractor. Ten years ago the Weymans moved to Long Beach, Mich. Mrs. Weyman was prominent in social and church life of Michigan City. She was the sister of A. Ranney Johnson, formerly of Chicago. Mrs. Weyman also is survived by three children, Gilbert, Gloria Lea, and William. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon from the Ott funeral chapel in Michigan City with burial in the Greenwood cemetery there.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

One Roosevelt kept Mme. Schumann-Heink off the air last night, but by so doing enabled her to accept an invitation to appear with another Roosevelt on the air from New York tonight. The great diva had been invited to appear with Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt on a program opening the thirteenth annual women's exposition of arts and industries at 9:30 tonight over WENR-NBC. But the singer has her regular program at 9 o'clock over WENR-NBC on Sunday evening and could not get a train that would be certain to get her to New York in time. Then it was announced that the President would speak at 9 o'clock on Sunday evening. Thus her program was canceled and she has accepted the invitation to appear with the first lady.

Details of the world series broadcast are gradually being ironed out. The Columbia and National chains have induced their regular daytime sponsors to give up their periods for Henry Ford and both chains will deliver their entire networks for the series—CBS having 96 daytime outlets and NBC 89. Baseball officials' attitude toward Ted Husing is leading to curious complications at Columbia headquarters. Since they wouldn't permit Husing to broadcast the game, France Laux and Pat Flanagan drew the assignment. But Husing's name was wanted for the series, so he will describe the crowd. That means he won't be able to do football next weekend. In consequence Paul Dowty and Harold Parkes, local mikemen, get the call for the Notre Dame-Texas game next Saturday to which Husing had originally been assigned.

That cigaret sponsor for whom Pat Flanagan broadcast baseball the latter part of the season is switching to the opposition for football, it's reported. Beginning next Saturday with the Northwestern-Iowa game Hal Totten will sound off over WMAQ under the cigaret banner.

This will be a big week for Irene Rich. The actress is celebrating the completion of her first year on the air and opening tonight in "Mrs. Quincy Hollis" at the Erlanger theater, Philadelphia. Next Friday her romantic radio serial, "Jewels of Enchantment," moves to 7 p. m. on NBC.

When Joe Penner comes back next Sunday he'll have several new tag lines. One all the youngsters will be repeating shortly is, "Agony." Ed Wynn, who comes back Tuesday, says he'll stick to "S-o-o-o" but will not overwork it as he has.

Here's a story Lawrence Tibbett tells on himself. On the night of the Ross-McLarnin fight Lawrence was on his feet roaring and rooting with all the might of his voice before the second round was over.

"Why don't you save that voice and sell it?" yelled an irate customer behind him. It was a good suggestion and Tibbett is acting on it.

WHEAT RECEDES DUE TO FEAR OF GRAIN IMPORTS

Clearing of Foreign Situation Awaited.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Under the shadow of potential importations of foreign grain wheat prices in Chicago quietly dropped back a cent a bushel last week in the dullest trade that has been witnessed since the current crop season opened. Domestic news directly affecting the market was colorless.

Grain speculators apparently have resigned themselves to wait until the muddled foreign situation clears for a revival of trading. When foreign conditions will permit an advance in wheat prices here is a moot question, but late last week there were indications that the Liverpool market was working free of the depressing influences which have been forcing down prices there.

Federal Attitude in Doubt.

Then, too, there is a question whether the government will permit an advance in price even if the foreign situation does clear up. All of which leaves the average trader in a somewhat muddled state of mind but nevertheless mildly hopeful.

The weakness in the Argentine market is seen as the result of efforts of the government, which controls the wheat situation, to dispose of the surplus of old grain before the present growing crop is ready for market. The next two months will largely determine the size of the new crop there, but the present outlook is regarded as favorable. As Argentine wheat is known as an "inferior" grade and would have to compete later on with low quality wheat from the northern areas of Canada, it appears that the government believed it the better part of discretion to start unloading.

European Markets Glutted.

Temporarily the effect has been a glut in the European markets and a consequent market heaviness. Meanwhile, the Canadian government continues to support its market in Winnipeg and there has been little foreign demand for the North American grain at the premium prices.

In this country the possibility of importations remains. It is not believed probable that important imports will be made, but as long as the world price stays where it is the domestic quotations will be held in check.

The result of these conditions is a dull market that refuses to show any real weakness because of the strong fundamental situation underlying the market and cannot advance because of the threat of foreign competition. The actual declines last week were slight.

Price Changes for Week.

	High.	Low.	Close Sep.29.	Sep.22.
WHEAT.
September ...	$1.05	$1.00¼	$1.01	$1.04
December	1.04⅝	1.01⅝	1.02⅞	1.03⅞
May	1.04⅞	1.02	1.03	1.04

Season's range—September, $1.17 to 74¼c; December, $1.13⅝ to 82¼c; May, $1.17 to $1.01.

WORLD IDLENESS IS MUCH REDUCED, SURVEY REVEALS

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

GENEVA, Sept. 30.—World unemployment through the summer continued to decrease from 1933, but less than in the spring of this year, according to the quarterly figures of the international labor office. No totals are given for the thirty chief industrial countries that reported, partly because not all set down the figures for September. The United States was among those, its latest figures being for August 10,772,000, against 11,793,00 in August, 1933, and 10,616,000 in May, 1934.

The data, however, allow one to calculate roughly the total unemployment in the thirty countries at 19,000,000, against 22,000,000 last September. Only Sweden bettered this summer the pace of her improvement this spring, and she records for the year thus far a 40 per cent reduction. The unemployed figures given for Germany are 2,398,000, against 4,124,288 last September.

CANADA'S LARGE REFUNDING LOAN IS OFFERED TODAY

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 30.—(AP)—All branch banks in Canada, numbering about 3,400, and some 500 bond dealers will be mobilized tomorrow to market Canada's 250 million dollar loan, the largest of the dominion's war loan refunding operations.

The bonds will be offered in four series, two, five, eight, and fifteen year maturities. The interest rate will be 2, 2½, 3, and 3½ per cent respectively. They will be sold at the following prices and yield: Two year at 98.90, yielding 2.57 per cent; five year at 98.15, yielding 2.90 per cent; eight year at 97.00, yielding 3.43 per cent, and fifteen year at 96.50, yielding 3.81 per cent.

Of the total amount of tomorrow's issue $222,000,000 will go toward refunding the 1919 Victory bonds, which expire Nov. 1.

Railroad, Ship Radio, Plane Lines 'on Trial'

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Four principal modern means of communication—railroads, airplanes, radio and steamship lines—will be on trial simultaneously this week before various government commissions and departments.

Railroads are asking the right to increase freight rates; air line operators are looking to the interstate commerce commission to fix equitable rates for carrying mail; the communications commission begins its study of the allocation of radio facilities, and the postoffice department begins a study of ocean mail contracts.

At the same time, the federal aviation commission will continue its hearings preparatory to recommending a national aviation policy to President Roosevelt.

Three Start Today.

Three hearings start tomorrow—the railroad rate and airmail rate cases before the interstate commerce commission and the radio hearing before the communications commission. The Ocean mail contract hearings start Thursday before postoffice officials.

The railroad freight rate case will be as bitterly fought by shippers, it is indicated by the hundreds of notices of appearances filed, as was that of 1931 when carriers sought a 15 per cent increase and were allowed to make surcharges on some items which expired late in 1933.

This time the railroads are not asking a general horizontal increase. They have taken classes and commodities and asked specific increases. The increases are designed, the railroads say, to raise 170 million dollars of revenue to partly offset an increase of 290 million dollars a year in expenses caused by restoration of wage rates to members of railroad unions and by additional costs of materials.

Want Larger Return.

The carriers claim that although operating expenses in 1933 were only half what they were in 1929, they failed to take in enough money to cover operating expenses and interest charges without any allowance for dividends to their stockholders.

The air mail rate hearing is regarded as of primary importance because it is the first time an effort has been made to ascertain actually the proper charges for carrying mail. Congress ordered the interstate commerce commission to make a study and determine the proper payments which must not, however, exceed 40 cents per airplane mile.

The communications commission's study of allocation of radio broadcasting facilities is being made by express mandate of congress. Religious and educational organizations have been contending that they should be given more radio facilities than they now have. The commission will listen to all factions and report to congress.

The postoffice department's study of ocean mail contracts is designed to ascertain whether this service can be made more economical.

MEAT PRICES FALL SHARPLY IN SEPTEMBER

Declines in the prices at wholesale of most cuts of meat and generally lower prices for live stock have been recent features of the meat trade, according to a review of September trade issued yesterday by the Institute of American Meat Packers.

Prices of fresh pork loins at wholesale dropped 30 to 40 per cent during the month; dressed lamb declined 10 to 15 per cent, and dressed beef declined as much as 25 per cent on certain grades and weights. Prices of cured and smoked meats declined slightly, with the exception of dry salt meats, which showed some improvement.

The export trade was marked by some increase in the price of lard in the United Kingdom, and by an increase in the volume of sales of lard to Cuba, following the announcement of sharply lower duties on lard under the terms of the reciprocal trade agreement which went into effect between Cuba and the United States on Sept. 3.

RAIL WINS TILT IN FIGHT OVER BOND INTEREST

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—(AP)—The first tilt in a fight to compel the Southern Pacific company to pay bond interest in French francs, English pounds, Swiss francs, or Dutch guilders has been won by the railroad.

Federal District Judge A. F. St. Sure declined to turn back to the San Francisco Superior court the suit originally filed in the lower court by Miss Anne McAdoo demanding the payment in foreign coin of interest on $24,000,000 of the company's terminal bond mortgage.

Because o fthe present condition of American money it would cost the company nearly $800,000 a year more to meet its bond interest in foreign coin, said Guy V. Shoup, Southern Pacific attorney.

Rorty Leads Study of Big Business' Affect on Life

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 30.—Malcolm C. Rorty, head of the American Management association and one-time vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph company, will be chairman of a special committee of the Twentieth Century Fund in charge of its study of the effect of large scale business combinations on the life of the country. The committee also will propose constructive remedies for such abuses as may be found to exist.

Name Eleven Committees to Boost Brokers' Business

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 30.—With a view to broadening the influence of the Association of Stock Exchange Firms, Frank R. Hope, president, announced yesterday the personnel of eleven special committees which will seek to revitalize and expand the brokerage business. Organization of the committees represents the fulfilment of a plan outlined early in August at a general meeting of the association.

STEEL OUTPUT SHOWS GAIN IN ALL DISTRICTS

Average Now Up to 25% of Capacity.

For the first time in months no district of the country reported a loss in steelworks operations last week, while the national average gained 2½ points to 25 per cent of production capacity. Producers enter the fourth quarter moderately encouraged by the outlook for more action in the markets, the magazine Steel says.

The rise was in response to more varied and seasonal buying. Prospects include the extensive purchasing by the automobile industry and acceleration in large public construction projects. A firmer tone in scrap prices and the settlement of the textile strike are also claimed to be important factors in improving sentiment. The textile industry is a large consumer of cold-drawn steel.

Chicago Up to 26 Per Cent.

Operations at Chicago last week were up 4 points to 26 per cent of capacity, while Wheeling gained 5 to 31, Youngstown, 2 to 28; New England, 3 to 31, and Pittsburgh, 1 to 17. Detroit held at 77, eastern Pennsylvania, 17, Cleveland 28, and Birmingham 25. On the average operations during the third quarter were at 23.7 per cent of capacity compared with 50.9 per cent in the second quarter and 49.1 per cent in the third quarter of last year.

It is believed that one of the basic features in the steel code is nearing a crucial test, since Donald R. Richberg, the new NRA chief, is opposed to price control and apparently favors limiting codes to trade practices, wages and hours, according to the magazine.

Railroad Buying Laggard.

Of the major consuming classifications only the railroads fail to offer hope of better buying over the remainder of the year. Agricultural demand is on the upgrade, while the retail market for automobiles continues strong. There is slightly more demand for steel in preparation for the new models.

Actual purchases will soon be made for large public works projects. Bids are being taken on 18,000 tons for the Fort Peck, Mont., dam and 23,000 tons of shapes and bars for Missouri highways and bridges. The first of 12 reservoirs for the Muskingum, O., flood control will be figured this week, the projects requiring more than 10,000 tons of steel. Structural shape awards last week totaled 14,000 tons compared with 20,028 tons in the preceding week.

Navy Will Seek Bids.

The navy will open bids about Oct. 15 on 3,540 tons of plates and sheets. Mexican National railways are in the market for 1,000 box cars, while the Chesapeake & Ohio is to close this week on 250 tons of track accessories.

Iron and steel exports in August totaled 242,947 tons, up 233,186 from July and compared with 119,374 in August, 1933, it was stated.

Scrap prices are stronger at Pittsburgh and Chicago. A detinning company in Pittsburgh sold 10,000 tons of scrap to an eastern Pennsylvania mill, while at Chicago heavy melting steel advanced 50 cents a ton on brokers' purchases to cover commitments and greater demand from foundries.

ASSERTS GERMAN CRISIS IS DUE TO ARMAMENT MOVE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Germany's economic crisis is at least partially due to excess imports of raw materials demanded by rearmament activities, at a time when German exports are steadily declining, the Foreign Policy association concluded in a report made public today. Industrial production in Germany has increased 63 per cent above the lowest point of the depression, but an unknown part of this activity is accounted for by the rearmament measures, the document said.

Under the title of "Economic Structure of the Third Reich," Mildred S. Wertheimer prepared for the association an analysis of the progress made by the National Socialist party so far.

"The German internal economic situation has improved during the last two years," the report said, "although it should be noted that the upturn came in 1932, some months before the Nazis came to power, and the improvement during 1933 paralleled world economic developments."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Approximately $890,000,000 of fourth Liberty 4¼ per cent bonds, called for redemption on Oct. 15, have been exchanged for other securities, the treasury announced today. Of this aggregate $596,631,150 of the Liberties were turned in for 2½ per cent four year treasury notes and about 293,000,000 for the new treasury 3¼ ten-twelve year bonds. Books on the exchange of Liberty bonds for the notes were closed on Sept. 24, but the Liberties will be received in exchange for the bonds until further notice.

It is expected that before the redemption date well over $900,000,000 of the Liberty bonds will be exchanged. There are about $1,250,000,000 of the called fourth Liberties to be handled and those not exchanged will be paid off in cash out of the general fund.

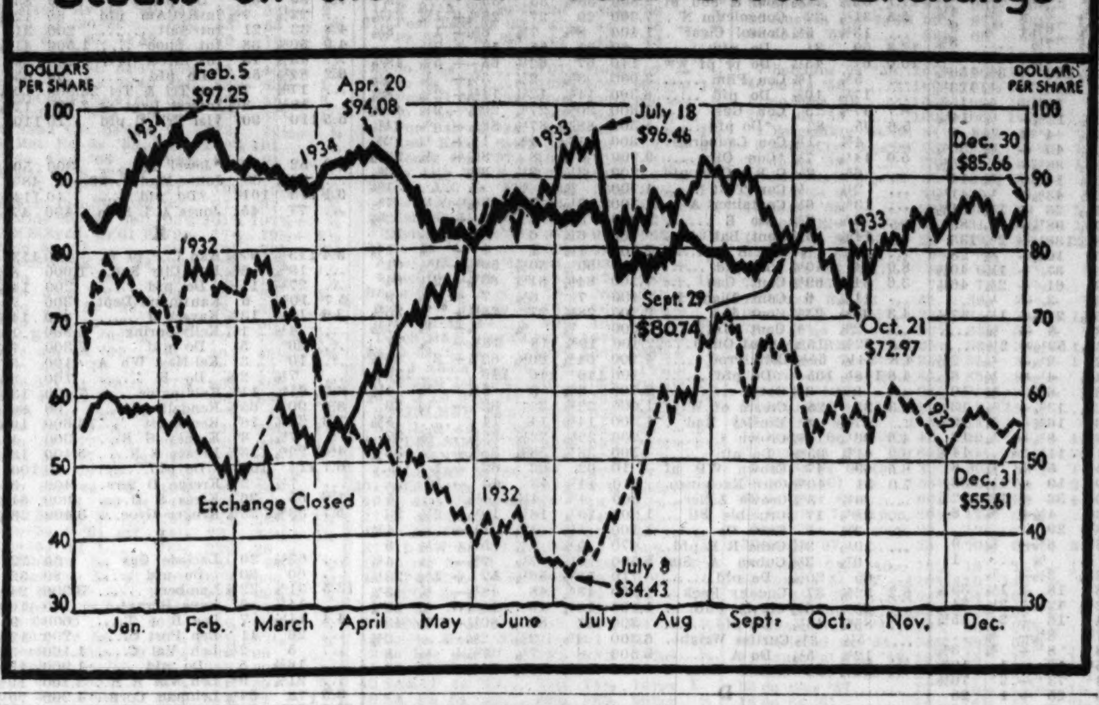
United Air lines yesterday reported that air express handled from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15 gained 20 per cent over the preceding period as the result of a reduction in express tarifs by all air lines in the country on Aug. 15.

Average Daily Closing Prices of 50 Leading Stocks on the New York Stock Exchange



Am. Smelting Six Month Net $2.14 a Share

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 30.—The semi-annual report of the American Smelting and Refining company and subsidiaries showed a net profit of $4,263,577 after all charges, including taxes, expenses, interest, depreciation, obsolescense and ore depletion.

These earnings are equivalent to an annual rate of $2.14 a share on 1,829,532 shares of common stock outstanding, after allowing for dividend requirements of the two classes of preferred stock. For the first six months of 1933 the company reported a net profit of $2,030,209, or $1.17 a share on the common stock then outstanding.

Balance Sheet Figures.

The balance sheet as of June 30 last shows cash on hand and in transit of $8,650,581; time deposits, maturing Dec. 29, 1934, $1,000,000; United States government securities, $14,988,278; inventories of metal stocks at cost or market, whichever is lower, $55,934,957; total current and miscellaneous assets, $93,817,485, and total current and miscellaneous liabilities, $19,588,488.

At the close of 1933 total current assets amounted to $84,095,744; current liabilities, $14,082,436; cash, $5,603,174; inventories, $50,614,908, and United States government obligations, $16,959,273.

Guggenheim's Statement.

In his letter to stockholders, Simon Guggenheim, president, said, "The outstanding 6 per cent cumulative second preferred stock has been reduced by $1,600,000, the par value of the 16,000 shares authorized to be held for retirement at the annual stockholders' meeting, held last April. There remain unpaid accumulated dividends of $2.50 per share, or $1,250,000, on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, as of Oct. 1, 1934. No dividends have been paid on the 6 per cent cumulative second preferred stock since June 1, 1932, and the accumulation on the stock outstanding with the public amounts to $13.50 per share, or $2,484,000, as of Oct. 1, 1934.

"No dividends have been paid on the common stock since Feb. 1, 1932, and none can be declared until after payment of all arrears on both classes of preferred stock has been provided for."

NEW BROKERAGE HOUSE TO START BUSINESS TODAY

The new brokerage house of Slaughter & Russell, successor to Russell Miller & Co., and A. O. Slaughter, Anderson & Fox, will open for business today in Chicago, New York, Minneapolis, St. Paul, and seven Pacific coast cities. The firm holds seats on the New York Stock exchange, Chicago Board of Trade, and other leading markets.

The new firm takes over the Minneapolis and St. Paul offices of Charles D. Barney & Co., and the latter house will act as New York correspondents of the new concern. Wallace C. Winter, former western manager of Barney, will continue in the same capacity with the new organization.

CHICAGO WHOLESALE TRADE HEAVY; RETAIL BUSINESS DECREASES

Heavy demands were made on Chicago wholesalers last week, but retail activity eased slightly, the Chicago Association of Commerce reported yesterday. Dresses and coats, along with other winter lines of merchandise, featured wholesale turnover.

Adverse weather augmented by a decline in attendance at A Century of Progress Exposition found reflection along State street and other retail thoroughfares in reduced sales. Electrical equipment distributers and housing material concerns again were optimistic. While greatest response to the recently opened home rehabilitation program of the Federal Housing administration is still to come, inquiries are heavy, the trade report asserts.

Public utility volume held to the average of recent weeks. There was little change in employment although the wage average gained slightly.

RAIL SHIPPERS PREDICT RISE IN FREIGHT TRAFIC

An increase of 2.2 per cent in railroad freight trafic for the fourth quarter of 1934, over actual volume in the same period last year, is predicted by the thirteen regional shippers' advisory boards. On the basis of these estimates loadings of 29 principal commodities will total 4,618,359 cars for the quarter, compared with 4,520,780 handled in the 1933 period.

Ten of the districts believe increases will be shown in their areas, the Pacific coast leading the list with an indicated gain of 9.1 per cent. Three divisions—Great Lakes, midwest, and Ohio valley—expect small declines.

Estimates by districts, together with comparisons with the same 1933 period and the indicated percentage change, follow:

Allegheny	646,278	616,191	+4.9
Atlantic states ..	527,492	498,523	+5.8
Central west	244,395	227,050	+7.6
New England ...	115,578	114,996	+0.5
Northwest	240,753	228,203	+5.5
Pacific coast	180,378	165,269	+9.1
Pacific northwest	142,758	131,170	+8.8
Southeast	467,870	462,798	+1.1
Southwest	332,484	323,029	+2.9
Trans-Mo.-Kas ..	295,480	281,394	+5.0
Great Lakes	220,976	230,737	−4.2
Midwest	673,056	679,967	−1.0
Ohio valley	530,861	561,453	−5.4
Total	4,618,359	4,520,780	+2.2

Of the 29 commodities covered 16 are expected to reveal gains, 12 decreases, and one will be unchanged.

A. & P. OBSERVES 75TH BIRTHDAY; TO HOLD SALES

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company will observe its seventy-fifth anniversary today. Founded as a single store on Vesey street, New York City, the firm now has 15,000 stores, 90,000 employés, and serves more than 6,000,000 customers daily.

A greater portion of the company's growth has occurred since the turn of the century.

The company will mark the event during the next few weeks with anniversary sales throughout the country.

Trade Pickup Late, but Signs Are Improving

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Business has drawn to the close of the third quarter with belated but distinct signs of autumn pickup.

Retail trade, still the brightest part of the picture, has in the aggregate held above the levels of last year by a good margin, although wet or unseasonably warm weather impaired the showing of the last week. The end of the textile strike contributed largely to further expansion of industrial activity last week, although operations for the most part were resumed on a curtailed basis.

The motor industry is rapidly approaching its extreme lull before model changes, but aggregate output declined only a little last week, owing to an increase by Ford Motor company. Cram estimates the week's output at 37,234 units, off 1,095 from the previous week, and 6,666 less than the same week of 1933.

The home renovation campaign seems to be making some contribution to autumn business now. Loans are being made in increasing volume, and wholesalers report the best demand for paints and hardware in some time. Such building as is in progress, however, remains largely in the public works category.

Capital Policy Curbs Activity in Stock Trade

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 30.—Speculative sentiment continues to mend slowly but the improvement is not showing up very vividly in terms of stock market averages. The index edged about a point higher last week to wind up the month about where it began, or within a few points of its level of a year ago.

One reason the market is not realizing its advantages to any greater extent at the moment, according to well informed observers, is the widespread uncertainty among traders over the confusing trend of affairs at Washington, D. C. The recent visits of well known figures of business and industry to Hyde Park were accepted in some quarters as evidence that the President might have decided at last to yield to the cries of business and signalize something like a turn to the right in his policies.

Caused Recent Buying.

Much of the buying which served to halt the market's long decline and start it on its upward course week before last was said to have been predicated on this hope. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's hint in his announcement of the government's long term refunding operations that no new monetary experiment would be tried for the remainder of this year at least was hailed as another straw pointing the direction of policy winds down Washington way.

Still another bullish omen was the President's call on the textile strikers to return to work. Whatever favorable effect on trading sentiment these developments may have had, however, were largely offset by the new setup of the NRA with the forthright "left wingers," Donald Richberg and Secretary of Labor Perkins in high seats of authority. The speculative element persuaded itself that the Presidential broadcast today would not be so reassuring to business.

Market Extremely Dull.

Instead of going ahead as it gave every promise of doing, the market hove to in its advance and toward the end of the week came to a virtual standstill as traders who had loaded up on commitments set about to lighten their obligations against the newly sighted eventuality.

Averages barely moved in yesterday's short session, the combined table on fifty representative issues changing only one-tenth of a point and the session was one of the dullest of a month which went into the record as the dullest in more than a decade, turnover for the 5½ days totaling only 3,686,545 shares.

The Bancamerica-Blair corporation yesterday announced the removal of its offices to room 835 in the Field building from former quarters in the Bankers building.

STOCK BOARD HALTS TRADING IN TEN ISSUES

Commission Silent on Cause of Order.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Signalizing the control it will begin to administer over the nation's stock exchanges tomorrow, the federal securities commission today refused registration or unlisted trading privileges on any registered exchange to ten securities. Not only will trading in these issues be prohibited, but brokers and dealers will be barred from using them as collateral for loans for the purpose of carrying or purchasing securities.

No reason was given for the blacklist except that the commission acted "in the public interest and for the protection of investors."

List of Barred Issues.

The list follows:

Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit corporation, 15 year secured 6 per cent sinking fund bonds, series A, due June 1, 1949; Apponaug company, no par value common stock; Carondelet Building, Inc., certificates of deposit for first mortgages 5½s serial gold bonds; Gorham Manufacturing company, voting trust certificates for no par value common stock expiring June 1, 1939; Helena Rubinstein, Inc., no par value common stock; Knabb Barrel Company, Inc., $1 par value common stock; Rayon Industries corporation, class "A" common stock; Republic Stamping and Enameling company, no par value common stock; Saenger Realty corporation, certificates of deposit for first mortgage guaranteed 6½ per cent serial gold bonds; Saenger Theaters, Inc., certificates of deposit

To all Creditors and Stockholders of National Gas & Electric Corporation.

NOTICE is hereby given that the District Court of the United States for the District of Delaware entered an order on the 19th day of September, A. D. 1934, in the above entitled cause, directing all creditors of said debtor, except as hereinafter provided, to file on or before the 19th day of October, A. D. 1934, with the undersigned as Special Master, at his office, 811 Industrial Trust Building, in the City of Wilmington, Delaware, proofs of claim of such creditors, and directing the debtor to file a proof of interest on behalf of all stockholders of the debtor, and authorizing and permitting Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Company of Chicago, Trustee under Trust Indenture dated February 1, 1928, to file with the Special Master a proof of claim on behalf of all holders of First Mortgage Collateral Gold Bonds of the debtor, with interest coupons appertaining thereto outstanding, without the production or filing of any such bonds or coupons, or copies thereof, and authorizing and permitting The First National Bank of Chicago, Trustee under Indenture dated February 1, 1928, to file with the Special Master a proof of claim on behalf of all holders of Three Year Convertible Gold Notes of the debtor, and interest coupons appertaining thereto outstanding, without the production or filing of any such notes or coupons, or copies thereof. Any stockholder of the debtor may if he so desires file with the Special Master an individual proof of interest with respect to the stock so held by him.

All proofs of claim of creditors heretofore filed with the Register in Chancery of New Castle County, State of Delaware, in the receivership cause of J. Frank Jones, Complainant, vs. National Gas & Electric Corporation, Defendant, pending in the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware in and for New Castle County, and all exceptions thereto, shall be deemed to be filed in this proceeding without further proof thereof upon the filing with the Special Master of such proofs of claim, or a copy thereof duly certified by the Register in Chancery. The Trustees of said debtor are directed by said order to see that said proofs of claim and the exceptions thereto, or certified copies thereof, shall be filed with the Special Master.

All claims and interests of creditors, except as hereinabove provided, shall be filed substantially in the form of proofs of claim prescribed by Section 57 of the Bankruptcy Act and the rules and orders applicable thereto.

Claims or interests not filed with the Special Master on or before the 19th day of October, A. D. 1934, shall not participate in any plan of reorganization of the debtor except on order of the Court for cause shown.

The said order directs the Special Master to take testimony and report his findings, conclusions and recommendations to the Court to cover the following matters:

[a] All claims of creditors and interests of stockholders to be allowed in this proceeding;

[b] The division of creditors and stockholders of the debtor into classes according to the nature of their respective claims and interests;

[c] The value of any security held by any claimant or class of claimants and the amount of such claim or claims in excess of the value of the security held therefor, any such excess to be classified as an unsecured claim.

The undersigned Special Master has fixed the 26th day of October, A. D. 1934, at ten o'clock A. M. [Eastern Standard Time], at his office, 811 Industrial Trust Building, Wilmington, Delaware, for the commencement of hearings upon the matters so referred to him; said hearings to be continued and adjourned from time to time. Any creditor or stockholder of the debtor shall have the right to be heard at such hearings.

HOWARD DUANE.
Special Master.

BANK SENTIMENT ABOUT BUSINESS IS 'CONDITIONAL'

Urge Assurances Against U. S. Meddling.

Banking sentiment on the business outlook is one of "conditional optimism," according to the current issue of Banking, journal of the American Bankers' association.

"Bankers feel," it declares, "that if assurance is forthcoming from the government that there will be no further tampering with the currency, or inflation, or policies likely to interfere with normal and reasonable profits, or further excursions of government in business, or other undue interference of political or unwanted economic policies with business, the latter will go ahead."

On the other hand, continues the review, there is no ground for extreme pessimism for, although slow in getting into movement, fall trade promises to be at least as fair as that of recent months.

Banks Seek Safe Investments.

"With idle funds in banks at the high volume now prevailing, the chief occupation of bankers is a hunt for profitable investments — almost any safe investment," it says. "A steady increase for two months in business loans of member banks speaks eloquently, although candor, compels one to point out that the increase fails to carry the total to levels prevailing at this time last year.

"Commercial paper outstanding is the highest since November, 1931, having reached 151 million dollars in June, or more than twice that of a year earlier. Distribution of this rise is nation-wide and seems due to no special stimulant."

"Fear of inflation continues to have a part in the banking picture, although it is somewhat less pronounced. There seems to be a general feeling that since the dollar devaluation policy has failed to achieve its object, nothing more in that line is to be feared for the time being.

Silver Money Scare Wanes.

"Disturbance caused by silver nationalization and the injection of more silver money or certificates into circulation has died away as it is realized that the ultimate chief effect of the policy will be to substitute one form of paper currency for another and that whatever inflationary effects the policy may have will be gradual.

"On the other hand, prospects of continued heavy expenditures for relief and in pursuance of other governmental policies involving an unbalanced budget, plus great deficits now certain to extend into the fiscal year 1936, impress many with the idea that the credit of the government will not bear the strain indefinitly and that some form of inflation in addition to the present setup will inevitably result."

"Katy" Adjustment 5s.

Investors' Guide: Would be very much pleased if you would send me any information regarding Missouri-Kansas-Texas bonds—the 5s due in 1967.—O. V. B.

Answer: Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad company [the "Katy"] operates about 3,300 miles of line, the most important division of which extends from Kansas City and St. Louis south to Dallas, Fort Worth, and other important Texas cities. Many branch lines provide the system with a high percentage of originated trafic.

The most important commodity carried is petroleum, which accounts for about 25 per cent of tonnage and of freight revenues. Next in importance are bituminous coal and wheat. Earnings accordingly depend in large part on the movement of these products. The purchasing power of farmers is an important factor in determining the amount of trafic shipped into the territory.

The company has been hard hit by pipe line and truck competition, unsettlement in the oil industry, and crop shortages. Whereas, in 1932, the poorest year for railroads in a decade, the company covered its charges, albeit by the slim margin of 1.01 times; in 1933, when most rails experienced a pickup in trafic, Katy's coverage dropped to 80 per cent of charges. A pickup of more than 20 per cent in gross during the first half of 1934 enabled the line to cover 49 per cent of fixed charges in comparison with a 9 per cent coverage in the first half of 1933.

Margin of coverage in years prior to 1932 was substantial.

A conservative dividend policy during prosperous times enabled the company to keep its current position unimpaired, with no bank loans or government borrowing. This is in direct contrast with most roads in its territory.

The $13,578,000 adjustment 5s, due 1967, are secured only by a general lien on the company's properties, subject to the entire remaining funded debt [about $93,000,000]. Interest is contingent but cumulative.

Earnings applicable to this issue have been slim after the senior issues have been taken care of during recent years, although interest on it has been paid regularly. In view of the decidedly junior position of the bonds the issue is regarded as speculative.

Elgin Motor Car.

Investors' Guide: I would greatly appreciate any information as to the value of 15 shares of Elgin Motor Car corporation. It had an office in Chicago in 1918 and a factory in Argo, Ill., in 1919.—W. W. C.

Answer: The stock is worthless. Receivership sale wiped out the stockholders' equity.

CONTROL BOARD HALTS TRADING IN TEN ISSUES

Commission Is Silent on Cause of Order.

Includes $8,000,000 Issue.

The Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit security was said at the commission to be an $8,000,000 issue on which a hearing will be held next Wednesday. Meanwhile, and until a final decision is made after the hearing, trading in this security will be prohibited on any of the twenty-four registered exchanges. Twelve exchanges have been granted a 60-day exemption from registration pending further studies. One, the New York Mining Exchange of New Jersey, has been exempted until the conclusion of a hearing begun yesterday on its qualifications. The hearing will be resumed Thursday.

The commission has decided to put the 1934 stock exchange control act into effect gradually "in order that the business world may accommodate its course of dealing to the requirements of law with a minimum of friction and inconvenience."

Postpones Effective Date.

Accordingly it has postponed until midnight, Oct. 14, the effective date of the 25 to 45 per cent marginal requirements fixed by the federal reserve board, the prohibition against trading in any security whether registered or not, except those to which the commission has refused registration, and the restrictions on borrowing by brokers and dealers.

Among the provisions which will become operative tomorrow are those penalizing manipulation of security prices through pools and other similar methods, restricting the activities of specialists, penalizing short selling by officers or directors of the issuing company or any owner of more than 10 per cent of any security, and granting purchasers relying on statements filed with the commission civil remedies against those responsible for any misinformation contained therein.

RAILWAYS FAIL TO EARN AUGUST INTEREST CHARGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 30.—Returns to date indicate the class 1 railways as a group failed by $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 to earn their interest charges in August. This would be slightly lower than the estimated net loss for July.

With July and August returns estimated, the railways suffered a net loss of about $35,000,000 after all charges, in the first eight months of 1934 against a net loss of $56,073,000 in the same period a year previously and $170,920,000 in the same period two years previously. The unfavorable showing for August resulted from slackened trafic, higher costs and an increase of 2.5 per cent in wages.

Reports at hand indicate that in August the Class 1 railways had a net operating income of about $40,000,000, a decline of 33.7 per cent from August, 1933, but an increase of 44.4 per cent from August, 1932. In July, the total was $35,220,000, a drop of 45.6 per cent from July, 1933.

Engineers Public Service Gross Rises, Net Declines

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Engineers Public Service company reports for the twelve months ended Aug. 31 consolidated gross earnings of $43,050,163 and consolidated net operating revenue of $17,856,429, which compares with $42,009,425 and $19,225,320, respectively, for the preceding year.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS, EASTERN DIVISION. IN THE MATTER OF STEVENS HOTEL COMPANY, an Illinois corporation, Debtor, No. 56244 in Bankruptcy:

TO ALL CREDITORS AND STOCKHOLDERS OF STEVENS HOTEL COMPANY, a corporation, Debtor:

YOU AND EACH OF YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that by order entered September 14, 1934, in the above entitled cause, all creditors and stockholders of Stevens Hotel Company are required to file proofs of their respective claims against or interests in the debtor, Stevens Hotel Company, or its property, on or before October 24, 1934, or be forever barred from participation in any plan of reorganization that may be proposed or confirmed in said cause. SECONDARY LIENS SELL STRONGEST IN BOND MARKET

Lower Priced Rails Meet Best Demand.

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The attention of the bond market was centered largely in the secondary groups during the last week, with the result that prices of United States government securities and prime investment loans generally either stood still or displayed easier tendencies.

The federal section was fairly active throughout, but was unable to record any progress. In the corporation divisions trading was usually quiet, with some pronounced gains and losses being registered on small turnovers.

The lower priced rails were in the greatest demand during most of the proceedings, although these were inclined to follow stocks in their periods of strength and weakness. Transportation issues, however, held the best net gains of the week.

Rail Group Buoyant.

The market was impressed with the ability of the carriers to advance in the face of a contra-seasonal decline in carloadings in the previous week and doubts as to whether some of the roads would be able to meet their funded charges over the next few months. At the same time followers of the rails appeared to be buoyed with renewed hope that, with governmental aid, the more depressed lines would be able to keep their heads above water.

Scattered firmness was shown by utilities and industrials, although the improvement in most of these issues was restrained. Bonds of several of the amusement companies moved up sharply on indications of better theater attendance and progress of reorganization plans for one of the important units.

HOLC 2¾s Move Lower.

Home Owners' Loan 2¾s made their appearance in the list on Thursday, opening at 93⅝ and dipping later. This issue sold around 98 in the over-the-counter trading about a month ago. The other home loan and farm mortgage issues were generally soft. Treasury and Liberty bonds were more resistant.

Some South American obligations which recently moved up to new highs for the year, were mildly reactionary under realizing. Elsewhere in the foreign section trends were irregular and trading rather dull.

$57,171,000 Life Insurance Sold During Month in N. Y.

Corporate Bonds Maturing Next Month $39,885,361

Corporate bond maturities maturing in October will total $39,885,361, according to the Standard Statistics company. September maturities amounted to $42,148,100.

LETTERS

Letters of not more than 200 words addressed to the Financial Editor will be printed in these columns from time to time.

Insurance Buy at Home Plan.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 24.—You recently carried a news item concerning the launching of a drive to aid insurance companies in Illinois, adding that people of the state are sending $250,000,000 annually in premiums to other states, largely to New York.

If the figures are true isn't it correct that this action has been justified by the conservative record of insurance companies in New York and New England? It is doubtful if any of them who have placed their investments with the larger and older companies have sustained a dollar in loss.

Contrasted with this we have the record of such midwest concerns as Illinois Life, Old Colony, North American Life, Peoria Life, and other failures in Illinois and adjoining states. The financial debacle presented by these failures has resulted in losses and disappointments to thousands of policy holders. I am in hearty accord with the plan of keeping midwest insurance funds in this area, but those in charge of insurance companies must give ample proof that they are trustworthy, capable and honorable enough to build up a financial institution so important and needful as a sound life insurance company. C. E. SYNREB.

Another Inflation Plan.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 20.—For the government to pay all its current expenses with fiat or token money would be a calamity, but it could with absolute safety issue bonds, noninterest bearing, and made legal tender, to circulate as currency in five, ten and twenty dollar denominations, and with these bonds retire $10,000,000 of interest bearing bonds monthly.

These bonds could be used, too, as a governor to business. When prices rise too high taxes could be boosted and some of the currency bonds retired. By shortening our currency we can always put prices down. By adding we can always raise prices. One dollar injected into the stream of circulating money would do more toward ending the depression than $50 borrowed by Uncle Sam and spent on nonessential work.

INVESTMENT MEN TO DISCUSS NEW SECURITY ACTS

Annual Session to Open on Oct. 27.

Gathering of the best counsel available in official, business, and professional fields for the discussion of investment banking problems was announced yesterday for the forthcoming convention of the Investment Bankers' association at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., from Oct. 27 to 31.

The program of the convention calls for nine meetings at which new subjects will be discussed. These include the problems created by the three new national securities acts now in effect and the economic conditions that relate particularly to investors and the more productive use of long term credit.

Forum on Securities Act.

Ralph T. Crane of Brown, Harriman & Co., Inc., New York, will conduct a forum on the securities act of 1933, as amended. The securities exchange act will occupy another forum that will be led by Trowbridge Callaway of Callaway, Fish & Co., New York. It is expected that members of the securities and exchange commission will participate in both discussions.

There will be two forums on the investment bankers' code, which is now a national law, and although formulated by the investment banking business itself, is considered by some investment bankers as more far-reaching than the securities acts passed by congress. Code forums will be presided over by George S. Stevenson of Stevenson, Gregory & Co., Hartford, Conn., and Francis F. Patton of A. G. Becker & Co., Chicago.

Currency Expert to Talk.

Dr. Edwin W. Kemmerer of Princeton university, international authority on currency and at various times financial adviser to twelve nations, will present the discussion in the forum on "The Investor's Problems Under Current Conditions."

J. Reuben Clark of Salt Lake City, president of the Foreign Bondholders Protective Council, Inc., will discuss the work of the council. The forum on municipal bonds will be led by E. Fleetwood Dunstan of the Bankers' Trust company, New York, while Fairman Dick of Dick & Merle-smith, New York, will conduct the formum on railroads. Sidney S. Mitchell of Bonbright & Co., Inc., New York, will head the forum on public utilities.

HELP WANTED—MEN.

Salesmen.

SALESMEN

Due to phenomenal increase in acceptance of our product, a gas appliance, we have found it necessary to increase our selling personnel.

Our men have earned during the last 3 or 4 months as high as $180 in one week—these are not supervisors, they are district salesmen.

TO THE MEN WITH THE FOLLOWING QUALIFICATIONS
we will pay the highest percentage in our industry plus a bonus payable weekly.
Men must have experience selling Real Estate, Vacuum Cleaners, Washing Machines, Radios, or Refrigerators. Must be between 25-45 years of age and neat appearing. Apply 10-12 only. Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company Store, 3315 N. Marshfield-av. Ask for Mr. Bryson.

QUICK MONEY

A NEW APPLICATION OF OUR HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL PROGRAM.
A CHRISTMAS PLAN THEY CAN'T RESIST.
A genuine opportunity for a few neat appearing men, 25 years of age or over, to represent the largest retail Home Furnishing House in the Middle West, we are laying a foundation for future purchasing among our numerous customers and are paying our representatives advanced commission in full on a basis of average sales expectancy. Also allowing a daily drawing account privilege if necessary while getting started. An intensely interesting and dignified program for those capable of conducting enthusiastic conversation. Can earn between $40 and $50 per week consistently. No night calls. Apply from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. only.
STRAUS & SCHRAM.

MEN

Here is the most amazing money-making opportunity ever offered to the readers of this or any other newspaper. It is a remarkable new kind of business that can pay a steady net cash comm. profit and bonus of from $50 to $200 a week to any ambitious, level-headed man that wants to succeed. It is a business that offers unlimited opportunity—a business that is destined to make many men independently wealthy. It is an electrical product and, to the best of our knowledge, it is the biggest money-making opportunity in America. There isn't any investment and absolutely no experience is required to quickly become successful in this new business. We finance you, maintain offices for your success and thoroughly train and supervise you with the necessary information and knowledge that is required to develop this new "gold mine."

If you are a go-getter, honest, clean cut and willing to work, apply 11 a. m. or 3 p. m. sharp. NO OTHER TIME. Room 1402, 75 E. Wacker-dr. Ask for Mr. Kaess.

A PERMANENT POSITION FOR 10 MEN

Mechanical Electrical
TRADE OR SHOP EXPERIENCE will be of advantage to you. Those who qualify will be taught this mechanical device business at which men can and are MAKING $40 to $50 PER WEEK. Comm. No investment required. Men of neat appearance between 24-45 years.
Apply Emp. Mgr., Room 618, 203 N. WABASH-AV.

Permanent Position

A national organization operating through our five stores will place immediately men with cars living on all sides of Chicago for outside selling through home appliance department. NOT STRAIGHT CANVASSING. Leads and sales furnished which assures you above average income on percentage basis. Steady position with exceptional chance for future. For appointment, see Mr. Briese employment department, 2d floor, Monday, 9:30 to 10:30 only.
Wieboldt's
ASHLAND, MONROE, AND OGDEN.

WANTED.

High grade, neat appearing young men, 25 to 35 years of age. Must be sales minded and mechanically inclined. We will train those who qualify to demonstrate and sell electrical goods from our stores. Must be willing to start on moderate income. Bonus and commission paid twice a month. Apply in person only Monday evening, 7:30 p. m. sharp. See Mr. Parsons.
COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY,
915 WEST 63D-ST.

HAVE YOU THESE QUALITIES?—A YOUNG man came into this office last January with no knowledge of electrical units, either in merchandising or in contacting customers, but for months this young man has averaged around $250 monthly, and the past two months has received far above that sum in his comm. income. You would have the same training if you meet the same simple requirements. You must reside in some northwest suburb or on northwest side and be vigorous and determined. This is permanent. No deposit or investment required. If deeply interested call at Room 6, State Bank Bldg., Park Ridge, Monday, Oct. 1, at 3 p. m. only. Immediate work for those accepted.

NORTH SIDE AND NORTH SHORE MEN, this noted national company is enlarging its activities in these sections to meet the rapidly increasing demands for electrical service, equipment and units—and finances all such operations, paying an exceptionally attractive income on a comm. basis, with the same opportunity to new men as that enjoyed by men here making better than $50 weekly. We shall be in Room 208, at 1753 Howard-st., to talk to you if you are ready to start right in, if not too old, and if seriously interested, today, Monday, October 1, at 2 p. m. sharp.

has openings in several appliance sales divisions. Neat appearing young men with satisfactory references will be trained according to previous experience or qualifications. Commission and bonus. Excellent opportunities for experienced salesmen. See Mr. Schutze, Room 1035, 125 S. Clark-st., 9 to 11 a. m. or 2 to 4 p. m.

YOUR BUSINESS EXPERIENCE, IF YOU are a north side resident, and are in your best producing years, can be turned to account in this outstanding electrical unit field in contacting this large company's customer accounts on a basis of full, prompt comm. checks. We are ready to accept a few men immediately without investment. Call at 3 p. m. only. Room 215 at 1046 Wilson-av. TODAY, October 1.

BURNHAM
OFFERS OPPORTUNITIES FOUND ONLY AT BURNHAM'S.
FOR 63 YEARS THE WORLD'S LARGEST BEAUTY SCHOOL.

When you visit Burnham's you'll understand why more girls enroll in this school than in any other, and you'll be amazed at the unexpected and exclusive advantages which our 63 year record of turning out the best operators enables us to pass on to you—such as positions on ocean liners, positions with the best shops which DEMAND Burnham graduates, the opportunity of earning while learning, free tools, unlimited practice on living models, easy terms, and many other advantages.

Once explained, you'll see how Burnham teaching methods will enable you to master Beauty Culture quicker, easier, and better—why these methods develop the type of operator shop owners want.

If you ACT now you can arrange to pay for most of your tuition after you graduate. Call, phone or write for FREE BEAUTY BOOK.

In the Matter of AMERICAN STATES PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY, Debtor, in proceedings for the reorganization of a corporation. No. 7851.

To the Creditors and Stockholders:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to and in accordance with an order of the District Court of the United States for the District of Maryland in the above entitled proceedings, dated September 17, 1934:

[1] That a plan of reorganization has been proposed and filed in said proceedings by Debtor and that a hearing will be held in said Court at 10 o'clock A. M. [Eastern Standard Time] on October 19, 1934, to consider said plan of reorganization and the classifications of creditors or stockholders affected thereby.

[2] That all claims of holders of the Ten Year 6% Convertible Gold Debentures of Debtor are required to be filed in said proceedings on or before December 16, 1934, after which date, no such claim, unless so filed, may participate, or entitle the holder thereof to participate, in any plan of reorganization except on order for cause shown, and that the manner in which said claims may be filed or evidenced is by filing with Baltimore National Bank as depository, the Debentures and appurtenant coupons and by filing with the Clerk of the Court a verified proof of claim in the form approved by said order.

[3] That until ordered to the contrary, the claims or interests of no other creditors or stockholders of Debtor need be filed or proved in the proceedings.

Copies of the plan of reorganization above referred to and of the form of proof of claim approved in the proceedings may be obtained upon application to the undersigned Debtor, 707 Calvert Building, Baltimore, Maryland.

American States Public Service Company, Debtor.
